700 Million Surplus Seen But Early Tax Cut Unlikely

Spending, Income Estimates Raised By Administration

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today revised upward its estimates of government spending and income for the current bookkeeping year and forecast a budget surplus of 700 million dollars next June.

The estimated surplus, while 280 millions dollars greater than revised figures for last January, was viewed by one high-placed administration official as "a narrow margin" that wouldn't justify a tax cut in the immediate future.

The projected surplus of 700 million is more than a billion dollars under the actual surplus of $1,754,000,000 with which the government wound up the 1956 fiscal year last June 30.

Another Balanced Budget

At that time, both President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey came out against a tax cut, preferring to use the surplus to cut the national debt. They reasoned the amount was too small for a tax cut and Humphrey spoke of three billion dollars or more as necessary to even consider one.

In any event, the projected surplus would give the Eisenhower administration its second straight balanced budget. It would be the fifth in the last 25 years — the other three having come in President Truman's administration.

The administration figured that by using the new surplus, plus other reductions to take place in the course of the year, the public debt next June might be slashed to $271,400,000,000. It stood at $272,751,000,000 at the end of fiscal 1956.

Annual Summer Revision

In its annual summer revision of January budget estimates, the Budget Bureau figured both spending and income for fiscal 1957 would top the projections of last January by more than four billion dollars. Thus, it took note of the resurgent business boom expected to continue swelling government coffers. And it related a story of much bigger government spending.

In brief, Budget Director Percival F. Brundage's revision gave this picture for fiscal 1957:

1. Receipts, due to personal and business prosperity, will total $69,800,000,000—the largest in history. That would be $4,315,00,000 more income than Eisenhower predicted in his January message to Congress. And, it would be $1,659,000,000 more than the record $68,141,000,000 for fiscal 1956.

2. Expenditures will total $69,100,000,000. That would be the largest amount ever spent in a year with the nation at peace and would be 4 billion dollars greater than Eisenhower forecast in January. It also would be $2,714,000,000 more than was spent in fiscal 1956 which was second only to fiscal 1954 for record peacetime expenditures.

3. These new income and spending estimates would bring about a surplus of 700 million dollars compared with the estimate of 420 million dollars forecast last January.

Nasser Agrees To Discussion Of Suez Crisis

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Egyptian President Nasser warily agreed today to hear the case of 18 nations seeking to place the Suez Canal under international control.

Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, chairman of a five-nation committee representing the 18, immediately suggested to Nasser a meeting to be held in Cairo later this week—but the exact time and place is still a matter of negotiation.

Nasser agreed to listen to what the committee has to say, but in no way did he commit himself to accept [illegible] Western-sponsored plan for in[illegible]nal control of the 103-mile [illegible]ay, or even use the plan as [illegible]oasis for negotiation.

Tension Increases

Nasser's agreement came amid growing tension between Cairo, Paris and London and as new pressures built up on his government to come to some terms on the future of the canal.

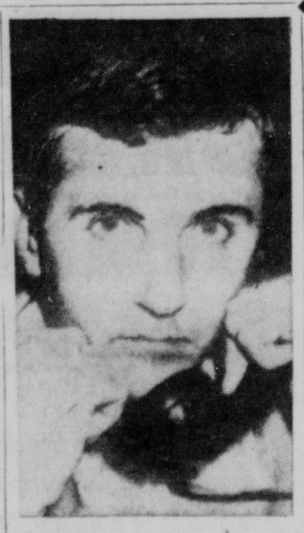

The Universal Suez Canal Co. nationalized by Nasser July 26 served public notice it might advise its non-Egyptian staff in the canal zone to quit their jobs if Nasser rejects international control after meeting with the committee.

A walkout of the hundreds of technicians would reduce the efficiency of the canal, and might even wreck it as a highway of international trade.

Egypt Charges Spy Ring

The Egyptian Embassy in London issued a statement charging that British intelligence was linked with what it called "a dangerous espionage ring" in Egypt. The spies "supplied it (British intelligence) with information about the Egyptian armed forces and the activities of various Egyptian political bodies," the statement asserted.

Earlier the British Foreign Office and the British Embassy in Cairo disclaimed all knowledge of the alleged activities of two Britons arrested in Cairo yesterday as spies.

Stevenson Raps Ike, Suggests He "Face" Realities

VANCOUVER, Wash., Aug. 28 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson laid the blame directly at President Eisenhower's door today for what he called "our declining influence abroad and our lost opportunities at home."

And he bitingly suggested the Republican chief executive "find time to face" some of the realities during the campaign, "and I don't mean on the putting green."

The Democratic presidential nominee, directing open, personal oratorical attacks on his opponent, also accused the Eisenhower administration of "giveaways" of natural power resources with a record in this respect that "could scarcely be worse."

In an address prepared for delivery on the Clark County Courthouse steps as he and his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver, flew in from the Southwest, Stevenson also directed his fire at Washington's GOP Gov. Arthur Langlie, who is opposing Sen. Warren Magnuson (D-Wash) for re-election.

Rejecting Langlie's recent challenge to a debate, Stevenson said he would leave that challenge in the "capable hands" of Sen. Magnuson, reserving Eisenhower for himself.

"However, I do expect to discuss the great issues of our times—war and peace, and a better, safer, new America during this campaign," he said.

"I only hope my opponent has time to face some of the realities of our declining influence abroad, and our lost opportunities at home—and I don't mean on the putting green."

"The record of the Eisenhower administration on natural resources could scarcely be worse. It has confronted us again with a great national policy decision that was settled 50 years ago... whether our natural treasures of water, forests and land are to be conserved and developed for all, or given away to a favored few."

Integration Foes Lead In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 28 (AP)—Advocates of measures to preserve segregation in Alabama's schools and parks took an early lead in today's special election in which drastic changes in the state constitution were proposed.

For 28,095; against 15,005.

Another amendment, designed to keep parks, playgrounds and swimming pools segregated, was favored 25,998-15,057 in the same boxes.

These returns, however, were inconclusive. Early voting in populous north Alabama was against both amendments, but not by the overwhelming margins given them in the southern areas where the Negro population is highest.

The two amendments were frankly aimed at circumventing Supreme Court decisions outlawing segregation in school and parks.

The school amendment, No. 2 of six on the ballot, would provide "freedom of choice" for parents to send their children to schools serving only their own race.

It also removes both the constitutional provision for state supported public education and the requirement for segregated schools. Additionally, it authorizes the Legislature to abolish public schools in any of Alabama's 67 counties and to finance private schools, presumably segregated, with public funds.

Chinese Reds Acknowledge Plane Downed

Note Insists Chiang Craft, Not U.S. Navy Mercator, Attacked

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles reported today Red China has acknowledged its fighter pilots shot down an aircraft off the coast last Thursday—the same day a U. S. Navy patrol plane was shot down in the Pacific. One bullet-riddled body was recovered.

While the Communist note admitted downing a plane, Dulles said, it repeated the claim that it was a Chinese Nationalist aircraft and not a Navy plane.

Questioned about survivors, Dulles said the note was "entirely negative with respect to survivors," and he concluded there were none.

16 Men Aboard

The Navy's Mercator patrol plane had 16 men aboard. Searching ships recovered only the one bullet - riddled body and a few pieces of wreckage.

Dulles, faced with new demands that the United States take strong action against Red China in connection with the incident, said the government would announce what action it plans when all the facts are available.

Criticism of both Dulles and President Eisenhower for not filing a formal protest with Red China over the downing of the Navy plane, came today from Rep. Celler (D-NY).

Protest "Minimum Action"

"Protests in no uncertain terms" should be "the very minimum action taken," he said.

"Otherwise," Celler maintained, "We could well be accused of being afraid to speak our minds."

Dulles told his news conference today the Peiping government had sent a reply to its request for information about the missing plane and any possible survivors. The inquiry was made through the British in Peiping because the United States does not have formal diplomatic relations with the Red regime.

Wreckage of the plane and the body of the crewman were recovered in the Pacific about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai.

Stevenson Denies He Plans To Wed

BONNEVILLE DAM, Ore., Aug. 28 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, told today there were rumors in Alabama that he would wed Mrs. Dorothy Vredenburgh, advised reporters, "You may say I was never more flattered but unfortunately there is no truth to it at all."

Stevenson at first seemed confused by the inquiry and an aide explained to him that news stories from Birmingham, Ala., had reported the rumors and Mrs. Vredenburgh's suggestion that they be referred to him. He then gave his one-sentence denial.

In Birmingham, Mrs. Vredenburgh, secretary of the National Democratic Convention, smiled at the rumors.

"I think you'd better ask Adlai Stevenson about it," she said.

Mrs. Vredenburgh is the widow of Peter Vredenburgh III, wealthy Alabama lumberman. He died earlier this year.

Integration Plan Upheld By Court

FORT SMITH, Ark., Aug. 28 (AP)—A gradual plan for integrating Negro and white students in Little Rock schools was upheld today by a federal district court.

The plan, advanced by the Little Rock School Board in answer to a National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People suit, would begin as soon as a new high school is completed—perhaps as early as September, 1957—and would be completed in five to 10 years.

Federal Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith said "this court shall not substitute its own judgment" for that of the Little Rock school district.

The main point at issue was whether the school board's gradual integration plan constituted a bona fide effort to comply with the U.S. Supreme Court decision. The court's decision said that it was.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas chapter of the NAACP, said she would not comment "until I have had a chance to read the decision."

About 25 per cent of the 21,726 students in the Little Rock public school system are Negroes. At present, all schools are segregated.

Nurse Held In Baby Deaths Refuses To Talk At Inquest

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 28 (AP)—An Amazonian baby nurse, who told police she shook three infants to death in a fit of unprofessional temper, fell suddenly silent today at a coroner's inquest.

The nurse, Virginia B. Jaspers, 33, refused to testify on advice of counsel, who asked that she first be given a psychiatric examination.

The inquest was adjourned indefinitely while the six-foot, 220-pound blonde woman remained in County Jail under $50,000 bond.

Police said the nurse also admitted injuring two other infants. Additionally, detectives were investigating five other complaints from parents who said their children were injured while Miss Jaspers looked after them.

The complaints were telephoned to police after the bizarre case received nationwide publicity. One complainant, a former New Haven man who now lives in Detroit, said his child is now mentally retarded. He did not attempt to connect that with the injury he said the child received when three-weeks-old under Miss Jaspers' care.

The nurse broke down and wept under questioning several times yesterday and today. Police quoted her as saying:

"It was all uncontrollable. I don't know why I did it. Children sometimes get on my nerves. I ought to be put in an electric chair."

Four Seized, Charged With Arranging Acid Attack On Vic Riesel

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Justice Department said tonight four men had been arrested in New York City on charges of conspiracy in arranging the acid attack on columnist Victor Riesel, who was blinded.

The department said special agents of the FBI arrested John Dioguardi, 42, his brothers Thomas Dioguardi, 40, and two other persons on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice in arranging the acid attack on Riesel.

A fifth man, held under $100,000 bond as a material witness is also charged as a conspirator, the FBI said.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI said that John Dioguardi, alias Johnny Dio, head of a labor relations consultant firm in New York City was arrested at his Point Lookout, N. Y. home.

His brother, Thomas Dioguardi alias Tommy Dio, an executive of a cotton goods firm in New York City, was arrested at his Atlantic Beach, Long Island, residence.

Others Identified

The others arrested were identified by the FBI as Domenico Bando, alias Nick Bando, 47, and Charles Tuso, 44.

Charles Carlino, alias Charlie Woppie, 43, arrested Aug. 18, 1956 as a material witness, was identified as the fifth coconspirator.

All five men are being charged with conspiring with Joseph Peter Carlino, alias Joe Pilo, 43, and Gondolfo Miranti, 37, arrested by the FBI Aug. 17, and Abraham Telvi, now dead who actually threw the acid into the columnist's face, the FBI said.

Johnny Dio, who operates Equitable Research Associates, Inc., 250 W. 57th St., New York City and Tuso are being charged with approaching Miranti to arrange for the assault on Riesel.

FBI Relates Story

The FBI related this story:

About the first of April this year, Johnny Dio and Tuso met with Miranti at his candy store, 171 Eldridge St., New York City, relative to an attack on Riesel for $1,000. Miranti then contacted Bando who through Pilo procured the services of Telvi to throw the acid.

The FBI said further information developed by it following the assault indicates that Miranti met with Tuso, Johnny and Tommy Dio at a meeting place, Rivington and Forsythe streets, New York City and reported to them that the attack on Riesel had been accomplished but that Telvi had burned his own face during the attack.

The FBI added:

Miranti was instructed to be certain that Telvi was not taken to a doctor for medical attention. At this meeting Miranti was given $500 by Johnny Dio for delivery to Telvi. Subsequently Charlie Woppie met Miranti at the New Roumanian Restaurant, 50 Delancey St. and made another $500 payment to him for distribution among the coconspirators.

Three Killed In Alps

They fell about 600 feet down the east face of a peak called "The Index Needle." All were about to receive diplomas from the National Alpine School here.

Couple Now Has Three Sets Twins, One Set Triplets

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Aug. 28 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Joubert became the parents of twin sons yesterday.

The Jouberts already had two sets of twins, and one set of triplets, as well as three other children, born singly.

Mrs. Joubert is 31, and her husband, 38, is a machinist. Their 12 children are all under eight years of age.

Ike Welcomed Back To Capital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower arrived in Washington tonight from his brief California holiday to a rousing reception at the National Airport.

The presidential plane, the Columbine III, landed at 8:12 p.m. and a crowd of several hundred cheered loudly as the President and Mrs. Eisenhower appeared.

Those on hand to welcome the presidential party included Vice President and Mrs. Nixon, Secretary of State Dulles, and several top Republican leaders, including Miss Bertha Adkins, head of the women's division of the GOP National Committee.

As the Eisenhowers walked down the line of welcomers, shaking hands, the most common greeting was "Welcome home, Mr. President."

The President declined to make a statement over a public address system, but he laughted when he saw several "We like Ike" placards.

Egypt Ousts Two British Officials On Spy Charges

CAIRO, Aug. 28 (AP)—Two British diplomats were accused by Egypt today of serving as contact men for an alleged spy ring. Tonight they were asked by the Egyptian government to leave the country.

Two other Britons, lacking diplomatic immunity from arrest, are being held for prosecution as spies. Four Egyptians are accused as their accomplices.

The government late tonight announced more foreigners and Egyptians were arrested in the spy case but declined to show how many or to name or give the nationality of the foreigners. It said a new announcement may be made tomorrow.

The diplomats were declared persona non grata (unwelcome) by the government of President Nasser. This means they must get out.

The two diplomats are J. B. Flux and J. G. Gove, both first secretaries of the British Embassy here.

The chief of protocol of the Egyptian Ministry of Foreign Affairs summoned Trevor Evans, Oriental counselor of the British Embassy, and informed him the two diplomats must leave.

Evans told the Egyptian official the British Embassy had no knowledge of any such espionage activities and that the embassy was in no way involved.

Evans said he had been instructed to protest strongly against the Egyptian government's decision. He said, however, the British ambassador had no option but to comply with Egypt's request that the two leave the country.

The government yesterday arrested two Britons and an Egyptian on charges of trading in Egyptian military and political secrets.

New Envoy To Greece

EOKA Ends Cyprus Truce In Bomb Blast, Challenge

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Aug. 28 (AP)—Greek Cypriot extremists ended their 11-day truce today with a bomb blast and a new challenge.

They vowed violence would continue until the British resume talks with exiled Archbishop Makarios.

The underground EOKA, fighting arm of Cypriots who want independence from Britain and union with Greece, bombed a house occupied by a British sergeant and his family at Larnaca, on the east coast. The bomb bounced off a wall. No one was hurt.

The British immediately clamped on new travel restrictions in the port. They had relaxed restrictive measures in the island during the truce.

Leaflets circulated by EOKA in Nicosia carried the first official word that the 16-month gun-and-bomb campaign was being resumed after an 11-day "suspension of operations." The EOKA time limit was last midnight.

The leaflets were signed by Dighenis, EOKA leader who spurned a British offer of surrender during the truce. The British say he is a former Greek army colonel named George Grivas.

The leaflets said EOKA would not answer British claims they had captured documents proving the archbishop personally directed the underground violence.

"Debate is useless. We have already been forced by the British to resort to arms," the leaflets said. "We will never respond to direct or indirect approaches from them. These are nothing but soap bubbles.

"There is but one solution. They must sit down with Archbishop Makarios and negotiate on the terms he has laid down."

Democratic Endorsement Voted 17 To 5

Meany Sees Unions Approving Action At Chicago Meeting

FOREST PARK, Pa., Aug. 28 (AP)—The AFL-CIO Executive Council voted today to recommend that its 15-million-member labor organization support the Democratic presidential ticket this fall.

It was a split decision, arrived at behind closed doors after about four hours of hard argument.

The vote was reported to be 14-8 on the key question of whether the AFL-CIO should make any political endorsement this year. Then the council was reported to have voted 17-5 to recommend an endorsement for Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Democratic presidential and vice-presidential nominees.

The recommendation will now be laid before representatives of 140 AFL-CIO unions at a meeting in Chicago Sept. 12

Meany Sees Approval

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, told reporters he had "not the slightest" doubt the recommendation would be approved at Chicago.

Asked whether he thought the Council's action would have much influence on workers when they go to the polls in November, Meany said he felt it would have "some influence."

"I make no pretense to control any one's vote," he added, "and the presidents of unions, I am sure, can't control votes either."

"But I feel we may have some influence. I am quite sure the professional politicians think so, too, because they seek our endorsement from time to time, just as they seek the endorsements of garden clubs, civic organizations and sewing circles."

Unionists Rebelled In '52

Many unions endorsed the Democratic presidential ticket four years ago, but not all their members fell into line—as was evidenced by the way President Eisenhower carried several big industrial states.

Meany announced the council's decision but declined to say how the vote went or how he himself felt about endorsing the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket. Meany had been reported to be against endorsing either party this year.

He said, however, that a substantial majority of the council favored supporting the Democrats. From now on, he added, he will support Stevenson and Kefauver in public speeches whenever he gets a chance. But he didn't intend actually to campaign for the Democrats, he said.

Meany declined to comment on Stevenson's chances against President Eisenhower or whether the Democrats will win.

Segregationist Cleared In Court

Kasper was arrested Sunday on charges of inciting to riot and vagrancy. Police said Kasper, who identified himself as executive secretary of the Seaboard White Citizens Council, distributed inflammatory literature and tried to induce Clinton parents to picket the school.

The 26 - year - old Kasper announced immediately he would continue his efforts to keep Negroes out of Clinton High, which yesterday became the first state-supported high school in Tennessee to integrate.

"We will go on with our picketing and strike until we win," Kasper told a reporter.

A handful of boys carrying prosegregation signs picketed the school grounds, but school officials said virtually all of the 750 students enrolled reported for classes. Twelve Negro boys and girls attended yesterday.

Trial Justice J. Leon Elkins in dismissing the charges said the state had presented insufficient evidence to hold Kasper to the Anderson County grand jury.

700 Million Surplus Seen But Early Tax Cut Unlikely

These returns, however, were inconclusive. Early voting in populous north Alabama was against both amendments, but not by the overwhelming margins given them in the southern areas where the Negro population is highest.

The two amendments were frankly aimed at circumventing Supreme Court decisions outlawing segregation in school and parks.

The school amendment, No. 2 of six on the ballot, would provide "freedom of choice" for parents to send their children to schools serving only their own race.

It also removes both the constitutional provision for state supported public education and the requirement for segregated schools. Additionally, it authorizes the Legislature to abolish public schools in any of Alabama's 67 counties and to finance private schools, presumably segregated, with public funds.

Chinese Reds Acknowledge Plane Downed

Note Insists Chiang Craft, Not U.S. Navy Mercator, Attacked

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles reported today Red China has acknowledged its fighter pilots shot down an aircraft off the coast last Thursday—the same day a U. S. Navy patrol plane was shot down in the Pacific. One bullet-riddled body was recovered.

While the Communist note admitted downing a plane, Dulles said, it repeated the claim that it was a Chinese Nationalist aircraft and not a Navy plane.

Questioned about survivors, Dulles said the note was "entirely negative with respect to survivors," and he concluded there were none.

16 Men Aboard

The Navy's Mercator patrol plane had 16 men aboard. Searching ships recovered only the one bullet - riddled body and a few pieces of wreckage.

Dulles, faced with new demands that the United States take strong action against Red China in connection with the incident, said the government would announce what action it plans when all the facts are available.

Criticism of both Dulles and President Eisenhower for not filing a formal protest with Red China over the downing of the Navy plane, came today from Rep. Celler (D-NY).

Protest "Minimum Action"

"Protests in no uncertain terms" should be "the very minimum action taken," he said.

"Otherwise," Celler maintained, "We could well be accused of being afraid to speak our minds."

Dulles told his news conference today the Peiping government had sent a reply to its request for information about the missing plane and any possible survivors. The inquiry was made through the British in Peiping because the United States does not have formal diplomatic relations with the Red regime.

Wreckage of the plane and the body of the crewman were recovered in the Pacific about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai.

Stevenson Denies He Plans To Wed

BONNEVILLE DAM, Ore., Aug. 28 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, told today there were rumors in Alabama that he would wed Mrs. Dorothy Vredenburgh, advised reporters, "You may say I was never more flattered but unfortunately there is no truth to it at all."

Stevenson at first seemed confused by the inquiry and an aide explained to him that news stories from Birmingham, Ala., had reported the rumors and Mrs. Vredenburgh's suggestion that they be referred to him. He then gave his one-sentence denial.

In Birmingham, Mrs. Vredenburgh, secretary of the National Democratic Convention, smiled at the rumors.

"I think you'd better ask Adlai Stevenson about it," she said.

Mrs. Vredenburgh is the widow of Peter Vredenburgh III, wealthy Alabama lumberman. He died earlier this year.

Integration Plan Upheld By Court

FORT SMITH, Ark., Aug. 28 (AP)—A gradual plan for integrating Negro and white students in Little Rock schools was upheld today by a federal district court.

The plan, advanced by the Little Rock School Board in answer to a National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People suit, would begin as soon as a new high school is completed—perhaps as early as September, 1957—and would be completed in five to 10 years.

Federal Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith said "this court shall not substitute its own judgment" for that of the Little Rock school district.

The main point at issue was whether the school board's gradual integration plan constituted a bona fide effort to comply with the U.S. Supreme Court decision. The court's decision said that it was.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas chapter of the NAACP, said she would not comment "until I have had a chance to read the decision."

About 25 per cent of the 21,726 students in the Little Rock public school system are Negroes. At present, all schools are segregated.

Smoke And Flames Skyward

Four Seized, Charged With Arranging Acid Attack On Vic Riesel

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Justice Department said tonight four men had been arrested in New York City on charges of conspiracy in arranging the acid attack on columnist Victor Riesel, who was blinded.

The department said special agents of the FBI arrested John Dioguardi, 42, his brothers Thomas Dioguardi, 40, and two other persons on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice in arranging the acid attack on Riesel.

A fifth man, held under $100,000 bond as a material witness is also charged as a conspirator, the FBI said.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI said that John Dioguardi, alias Johnny Dio, head of a labor relations consultant firm in New York City was arrested at his Point Lookout, N. Y. home.

His brother, Thomas Dioguardi alias Tommy Dio, an executive of a cotton goods firm in New York City, was arrested at his Atlantic Beach, Long Island, residence.

Others Identified

The others arrested were identified by the FBI as Domenico Bando, alias Nick Bando, 47, and Charles Tuso, 44.

Charles Carlino, alias Charlie Woppie, 43, arrested Aug. 18, 1956 as a material witness, was identified as the fifth coconspirator.

All five men are being charged with conspiring with Joseph Peter Carlino, alias Joe Pilo, 43, and Gondolfo Miranti, 37, arrested by the FBI Aug. 17, and Abraham Telvi, now dead who actually threw the acid into the columnist's face, the FBI said.

Johnny Dio, who operates Equitable Research Associates, Inc., 250 W. 57th St., New York City and Tuso are being charged with approaching Miranti to arrange for the assault on Riesel.

FBI Relates Story

The FBI related this story:

About the first of April this year, Johnny Dio and Tuso met with Miranti at his candy store, 171 Eldridge St., New York City, relative to an attack on Riesel for $1,000. Miranti then contacted Bando who through Pilo procured the services of Telvi to throw the acid.

The FBI said further information developed by it following the assault indicates that Miranti met with Tuso, Johnny and Tommy Dio at a meeting place, Rivington and Forsythe streets, New York City and reported to them that the attack on Riesel had been accomplished but that Telvi had burned his own face during the attack.

The FBI added:

Miranti was instructed to be certain that Telvi was not taken to a doctor for medical attention. At this meeting Miranti was given $500 by Johnny Dio for delivery to Telvi. Subsequently Charlie Woppie met Miranti at the New Roumanian Restaurant, 50 Delancey St. and made another $500 payment to him for distribution among the coconspirators.

Three Killed In Alps

CHAMONIX, France, Aug. 28 (AP)—Three Frenchmen were killed today practicing to become Alpine guides.

They fell about 600 feet down the east face of a peak called "The Index Needle." All were about to receive diplomas from the National Alpine School here.

Couple Now Has Three Sets Twins, One Set Triplets

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Aug. 28 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Joubert became the parents of twin sons yesterday.

The Jouberts already had two sets of twins, and one set of triplets, as well as three other children, born singly.

Mrs. Joubert is 31, and her husband, 38, is a machinist. Their 12 children are all under eight years of age.

Ike Welcomed Back To Capital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower arrived in Washington tonight from his brief California holiday to a rousing reception at the National Airport.

The presidential plane, the Columbine III, landed at 8:12 p.m. and a crowd of several hundred cheered loudly as the President and Mrs. Eisenhower appeared.

Those on hand to welcome the presidential party included Vice President and Mrs. Nixon, Secretary of State Dulles, and several top Republican leaders, including Miss Bertha Adkins, head of the women's division of the GOP National Committee.

As the Eisenhowers walked down the line of welcomers, shaking hands, the most common greeting was "Welcome home, Mr. President."

The President declined to make a statement over a public address system, but he laughted when he saw several "We like Ike" placards.

EOKA Ends Cyprus Truce In Bomb Blast, Challenge

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Aug. 28 (AP)—Greek Cypriot extremists ended their 11-day truce today with a bomb blast and a new challenge.

They vowed violence would continue until the British resume talks with exiled Archbishop Makarios.

The underground EOKA, fighting arm of Cypriots who want independence from Britain and union with Greece, bombed a house occupied by a British sergeant and his family at Larnaca, on the east coast. The bomb bounced off a wall. No one was hurt.

The British immediately clamped on new travel restrictions in the port. They had relaxed restrictive measures in the island during the truce.

Leaflets circulated by EOKA in Nicosia carried the first official word that the 16-month gun-and-bomb campaign was being resumed after an 11-day "suspension of operations." The EOKA time limit was last midnight.

The leaflets were signed by Dighenis, EOKA leader who spurned a British offer of surrender during the truce. The British say he is a former Greek army colonel named George Grivas.

The leaflets said EOKA would not answer British claims they had captured documents proving the archbishop personally directed the underground violence.

"Debate is useless. We have already been forced by the British to resort to arms," the leaflets said. "We will never respond to direct or indirect approaches from them. These are nothing but soap bubbles.

"There is but one solution. They must sit down with Archbishop Makarios and negotiate on the terms he has laid down."

Egypt Ousts Two British Officials On Spy Charges

CAIRO, Aug. 28 (AP)—Two British diplomats were accused by Egypt today of serving as contact men for an alleged spy ring. Tonight they were asked by the Egyptian government to leave the country.

Two other Britons, lacking diplomatic immunity from arrest, are being held for prosecution as spies. Four Egyptians are accused as their accomplices.

The government late tonight announced more foreigners and Egyptians were arrested in the spy case but declined to show how many or to name or give the nationality of the foreigners. It said a new announcement may be made tomorrow.

The diplomats were declared persona non grata (unwelcome) by the government of President Nasser. This means they must get out.

The two diplomats are J. B. Flux and J. G. Gove, both first secretaries of the British Embassy here.

The chief of protocol of the Egyptian Ministry of Foreign Affairs summoned Trevor Evans, Oriental counselor of the British Embassy, and informed him the two diplomats must leave.

Evans told the Egyptian official the British Embassy had no knowledge of any such espionage activities and that the embassy was in no way involved.

Evans said he had been instructed to protest strongly against the Egyptian government's decision. He said, however, the British ambassador had no option but to comply with Egypt's request that the two leave the country.

Democratic Endorsement Voted 17 To 5

Meany Sees Unions Approving Action At Chicago Meeting

FOREST PARK, Pa., Aug. 28 (AP)—The AFL-CIO Executive Council voted today to recommend that its 15-million-member labor organization support the Democratic presidential ticket this fall.

It was a split decision, arrived at behind closed doors after about four hours of hard argument.

The vote was reported to be 14-8 on the key question of whether the AFL-CIO should make any political endorsement this year. Then the council was reported to have voted 17-5 to recommend an endorsement for Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Democratic presidential and vice-presidential nominees.

The recommendation will now be laid before representatives of 140 AFL-CIO unions at a meeting in Chicago Sept. 12

Meany Sees Approval

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, told reporters he had "not the slightest" doubt the recommendation would be approved at Chicago.

Asked whether he thought the Council's action would have much influence on workers when they go to the polls in November, Meany said he felt it would have "some influence."

"I make no pretense to control any one's vote," he added, "and the presidents of unions, I am sure, can't control votes either."

"But I feel we may have some influence. I am quite sure the professional politicians think so, too, because they seek our endorsement from time to time, just as they seek the endorsements of garden clubs, civic organizations and sewing circles."

Unionists Rebelled In '52

Many unions endorsed the Democratic presidential ticket four years ago, but not all their members fell into line—as was evidenced by the way President Eisenhower carried several big industrial states.

Meany announced the council's decision but declined to say how the vote went or how he himself felt about endorsing the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket. Meany had been reported to be against endorsing either party this year.

He said, however, that a substantial majority of the council favored supporting the Democrats. From now on, he added, he will support Stevenson and Kefauver in public speeches whenever he gets a chance. But he didn't intend actually to campaign for the Democrats, he said.

Segregationist Cleared In Court

Kasper was arrested Sunday on charges of inciting to riot and vagrancy. Police said Kasper, who identified himself as executive secretary of the Seaboard White Citizens Council, distributed inflammatory literature and tried to induce Clinton parents to picket the school.

The 26 - year - old Kasper announced immediately he would continue his efforts to keep Negroes out of Clinton High, which yesterday became the first state-supported high school in Tennessee to integrate.

"We will go on with our picketing and strike until we win," Kasper told a reporter.

A handful of boys carrying prosegregation signs picketed the school grounds, but school officials said virtually all of the 750 students enrolled reported for classes. Twelve Negro boys and girls attended yesterday.

Trial Justice J. Leon Elkins in dismissing the charges said the state had presented insufficient evidence to hold Kasper to the Anderson County grand jury.

Nurse Held In Baby Deaths Refuses To Talk At Inquest

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 28 (AP)—An Amazonian baby nurse, who told police she shook three infants to death in a fit of unprofessional temper, fell suddenly silent today at a coroner's inquest.

The nurse, Virginia B. Jaspers, 33, refused to testify on advice of counsel, who asked that she first be given a psychiatric examination.

The inquest was adjourned indefinitely while the six-foot, 220-pound blonde woman remained in County Jail under $50,000 bond.

Police said the nurse also admitted injuring two other infants. Additionally, detectives were investigating five other complaints from parents who said their children were injured while Miss Jaspers looked after them.

The complaints were telephoned to police after the bizarre case received nationwide publicity. One complainant, a former New Haven man who now lives in Detroit, said his child is now mentally retarded. He did not attempt to connect that with the injury he said the child received when three-weeks-old under Miss Jaspers' care.

The nurse broke down and wept under questioning several times yesterday and today. Police quoted her as saying:

"It was all uncontrollable. I don't know why I did it. Children sometimes get on my nerves. I ought to be put in an electric chair."

Mission To Arctic

Dulles Says Russia Trying To Obstruct Agreement On Suez

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles accused Russia today of waging a "very vicious type" of propaganda campaign to force Egypt to reject a peaceful and fair settlement of the Suez Canal dispute.

In blunt language, he charged that Russia alone of the 22 countries seeking to solve the Suez crisis was carrying on "this most extreme form of propaganda."

At a news conference, Dulles expressed confidence that Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser "has sufficient influence and authority" to accept a reasonable Suez settlement despite Russia's attitude.

He praised Nasser for contributing to world peace by agreeing to meet with a five-nation committee which will seek to persuade him to adopt a plan for international control, dratted in London last week.

Eighteen nations, led by the United States, Britain and France, devised this formula despite opposition from Russia, India, Indonesia and Ceylon.

In denouncing Russia's Suez role, Dulles said Moscow began its propaganda barrage even before he explained the Western-backed proposals to Soviet Foreigh Minister Shepilov in London.

Arab language broadcasts beamed by the Soviets to Egypt, he said, sought to portray the plan as "imperialism" and "colonialism."

Russia's propaganda blasts were continuing, he said, as of yesterday with the aim of making it "extremely difficult for President Nasser to accept even a fair solution."

Dulles hinted in answering a question that he believes Russia's motive is to keep the Mideast in turmoil by preventing a Suez settlement. He said:

"There is a legal doctrine that says a man is presumed to intend the natural consequences of his acts. And I think that perhaps this is a situation where that legal dictum is applicable."

Obviously seeking to offset Russia's propaganda, Dulles appealed for both sides to approach a Suez settlement without "slogans" such as "nationalism versus colonialism" and "Asia versus Europe."

McKeldin Sees Maryland Again Strong For Ike

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin returned home today from the Republican National Convention, full of vim for the coming campaign and confident of another Eisenhower landslide in Maryland this fall.

"He carried this state by 104,000 votes four years ago as a general and will do even better now that we have had the benefit of his leadership as President," McKeldin predicted.

The governor, who expects to be doing a lot of travelling and talking for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket on a national as well as state level, goes to neighboring Delaware tomorrow to keynote the state Republican Convention at Dover.

He will also keynote the New Hampshire GOP state convention Sept. 28 and has had invitations to speak in Minnesota, Tennessee and other states. He also expects to be active as chairman of the nationalities division of the Republican campaign.

McKeldin said he had a "fine time" at the national convention and was particularly pleased that he made "the first speech of the campaign for Eisenhower" before leaving San Francisco.

"I went straight from the Cow Palace Thursday night for an address at the Press and Union League Club . . . even before I had dinner," McKeldin said.

"I don't see how anybody could have made one before that."

The governor and his family returned from San Francisco by train this morning. After clearing his desk of State business, he went to Washington tonight to join an airport welcome for Eisenhower.

Accused Bank Teller Held On $5,000 Bail

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Aug. 28 (AP)—A Morgantown bank teller who worked as a part-time assistant pastor of a Morgantown church, was held in Marion County Jail here today on $5,000 bail after he waived preliminary arraignment on federal charges he embezzled bank funds.

Robert Drodge, 27-year-old University of Pittsburgh graduate from Mount Morris, Pa., was not represented by counsel at today's routine proceeding before U. S. Commissioner L. T. Eddy. There was no indication whether he would be able to raise bail.

Drodge was brought here last night on a federal warrant charging him with embezzlement of about $2,000 from the account of W. F. Snowden of Mount Morris. The account was in the First National Bank of Morgantown where Drodge was employed.

COMPLETES SAD TASK—Mrs. Morris Weinberger, mother of kidnaped infant Peter Weinberger whose body was found last week, leaves Nassau County, Long Island, police headquarters. She viewed clothing found on the body for indentification purposes. According to police, Angelo LaMarca, a Plainview, L. I., taxi driver, admitted kidnaping the baby and later abandoning him. # Nixon Planning 'Back-Breaking' Aerial Campaign

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP) — Vice President Nixon plans a "back breaking" aerial campaign tour starting in mid-September, a Republican official announced today.

I. Richard Guylay, public relations director for the GOP National Committee, made the statement after meeting with the vice president and other party leaders.

He declined to detail the itinerary, but said the tour will last 10 days to two weeks. The route probably will be announced Sept. 10, Guylay added, "after we check the miles to see if it is possible to do all he wants to do."

The party official said Nixon and his family will fly to New Jersey tomorrow and will stay until after Labor Day at the home of Amos Peasley in Mantoloking.

Peasley is the top aide to Harold Stassen presidential disarmament adviser who attempted for a while to block Nixon's renomination but finally seconded it at the GOP Convention last week. Stassen first favored Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts who, he said, would be a stronger candidate.

At Least Three Die In Gas Explosion

MONTREAL, Aug. 28 (AP)—A gas explosion wrecked a four-family dwelling today in a new housing development in a Montreal suburb. Three bodies were recovered. Firemen said they believed four or five others were buried in the ruins.

In addition 15 persons were injured, 5 seriously.

Flames roared through the building after an explosion caused by gas which poured from a main broken by a bulldozer working on a street paving job in suburban Ville LaSalle.

While firemen hunted for survivors, flames two stories high leaped from the spot where the gas main was broken.

Soviets Attack Bonn

MOSCOW, Wednesday, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party charged today that the West German government is plotting a new war to reunite divided Germany by force.

Had Wrong Girl, Found Right One

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 28 (AP) —William Allen, 38, applying for a marriage license yesterday, filled in the prospective bride's name as Wanda Jarrett, 26, of Springfield.

Today Allen had the application cancelled and got a new form. This time the bride's name appeared as Mildred L. Grubbs, 46, Springfield.

Packard Production Set For South Bend

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 28 (AP) —Studebaker-Packard Corp. announced today it will bring out a line of 1957 Packards in January, with production starting in the South Bend plant in December.

The announcement, made to the firm's Packard - Clipper dealer council, confirmed reports that Packard manufacturing would be moved from its Detroit plant and denied rumors that there would be no 1957 Packards.

The statement by Harold E. Churchill, new S-P president, said production of new Studebaker cars and trucks will start in mid-September, with introduction of the line set for "late fall."

Ex-Congressman, Dies

BOSTON, Aug. 28 (AP) — George Holden Tinkham, 86, proper Boston's bearded barrister and globe trotter who served 14 terms in the U. S. House, died Monday night at a sister's home in Cramerton, N. C.

A descendant of a Mayflower family, he represented the 11th Massachusetts Dist. — including Back Bay and fashionable Newton—from 1915 to 1943 when he retired from political life.

Attorneys Rate Low With Public, Lawyer Asserts

DALLAS, Aug. 28 (AP)—A leader among attorneys general today said polls show the public ranks lawyers "at the bottom of the list" in contributions to society.

John Ben Shepperd of Texas, president of the National Assn. of Attorneys General, said more education was not the sole answer, and added:

"How far have we gone toward eliminating from our ranks the moral misfit, the conscientious nonobjector, the lawyer who will sacrifice a principle to win a point, and discredit reason to get a rationalized decision?" Shepperd asked.

He said the polls were conducted in Texas, Michigan, Iowa, California and other states. He also said that in prestige, the poll showed attorneys ranked fourth in professions in the public's mind.

Shepperd addressed the annual national conference of bar examiners here. It met in conjunction with the American Bar Assn. Convention.

In another address, the president of the American Medical Assn. hit at doctors who he said would shade their court testimony for selfish reasons.

Dr. Dwight H. Murray, NAPA, Calif., called for the legal and medical profession to work together in ferreting out physicians and lawyers who "mock justice."

"Medical licensure should be withdrawn by the state from the physician who sells his testimony to the highest bidder and shades his testimony to the extent that he is paid," Dr. Murray said.

Circus Gets Lost; Firemen On Spot

VIENNA, Va., Aug. 28 (AP)—If you happen to see a lost circus, call the Vienna Fire Department.

For weeks the fire fighters have been informing the community that a circus was coming to town. Most fascinated by the prospects of the show were, naturally, the community's youngsters.

So yesterday the kids arrived. But no circus.

Harford County Integration Suit Filed

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28 (AP) — A suit was filed in Federal Court today to compel the Harford County Board of Education to integrate classes above the third-grade level in the county.

The complaint, filed by attorneys for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), said four Negro children had been refused enrollment in county white schools solely because of their race.

The governor and his family returned from San Francisco by train this morning. After clearing his desk of State business, he went to Washington tonight to join an airport welcome for Eisenhower.

Accused Bank Teller Held On $5,000 Bail

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Aug. 28 (AP)—A Morgantown bank teller who worked as a part-time assistant pastor of a Morgantown church, was held in Marion County Jail here today on $5,000 bail after he waived preliminary arraignment on federal charges he embezzled bank funds.

Robert Drodge, 27-year-old University of Pittsburgh graduate from Mount Morris, Pa., was not represented by counsel at today's routine proceeding before U. S. Commissioner L. T. Eddy. There was no indication whether he would be able to raise bail.

Drodge was brought here last night on a federal warrant charging him with embezzlement of about $2,000 from the account of W. F. Snowden of Mount Morris. The account was in the First National Bank of Morgantown where Drodge was employed.

COMPLETES SAD TASK—Mrs. Morris Weinberger, mother of kidnaped infant Peter Weinberger whose body was found last week, leaves Nassau County, Long Island, police headquarters. She viewed clothing found on the body for indentification purposes. According to police, Angelo LaMarca, a Plainview, L. I., taxi driver, admitted kidnaping the baby and later abandoning him. At right is unidentified detective. (AP Photofax)

Nixon Planning 'Back-Breaking' Aerial Campaign

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Vice President Nixon plans a "back breaking" aerial campaign tour starting in mid-September, a Republican official announced today.

I. Richard Guylay, public relations director for the GOP National Committee, made the statement after meeting with the vice president and other party leaders.

He declined to detail the itinerary, but said the tour will last 10 days to two weeks. The route probably will be announced Sept. 10, Guylay added, "after we check the miles to see if it is possible to do all he wants to do."

The party official said Nixon and his family will fly to New Jersey tomorrow and will stay until after Labor Day at the home of Amos Peasley in Mantoloking.

Peasley is the top aide to Harold Stassen presidential disarmament adviser who attempted for a while to block Nixon's renomination but finally seconded it at the GOP Convention last week. Stassen first favored Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts who, he said, would be a stronger candidate.

At Least Three Die In Gas Explosion

MONTREAL, Aug. 28 (AP)—A gas explosion wrecked a four-family dwelling today in a new housing development in a Montreal suburb. Three bodies were recovered. Firemen said they believed four or five others were buried in the ruins.

In addition 15 persons were injured, 5 seriously.

Flames roared through the building after an explosion caused by gas which poured from a main broken by a bulldozer working on a street paving job in suburban Ville LaSalle.

While firemen hunted for survivors, flames two stories high leaped from the spot where the gas main was broken.

Soviets Attack Bonn

MOSCOW, Wednesday, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party charged today that the West German government is plotting a new war to reunite divided Germany by force.

Had Wrong Girl, Found Right One

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 28 (AP)—William Allen, 38, applying for a marriage license yesterday, filled in the prospective bride's name as Wanda Jarrett, 26, of Springfield.

Today Allen had the application cancelled and got a new form. This time the bride's name appeared as Mildred L. Grubbs, 46, Springfield.

Packard Production Set For South Bend

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 28 (AP)—Studebaker-Packard Corp. announced today it will bring out a line of 1957 Packards in January, with production starting in the South Bend plant in December.

The announcement, made to the firm's Packard - Clipper dealer council, confirmed reports that Packard manufacturing would be moved from its Detroit plant and denied rumors that there would be no 1957 Packards.

The statement by Harold E. Churchill, new S-P president, said production of new Studebaker cars and trucks will start in mid-September, with introduction of the line set for "late fall."

Ex-Congressman, Dies

BOSTON, Aug. 28 (AP) — George Holden Tinkham, 86, proper Boston's bearded barrister and globe trotter who served 14 terms in the U. S. House, died Monday night at a sister's home in Cramerton, N. C.

A descendant of a Mayflower family, he represented the 11th Massachusetts Dist. — including Back Bay and fashionable Newton—from 1915 to 1943 when he retired from political life.

Attorneys Rate Low With Public, Lawyer Asserts

DALLAS, Aug. 28 (AP)—A leader among attorneys general today said polls show the public ranks lawyers "at the bottom of the list" in contributions to society.

John Ben Shepperd of Texas, president of the National Assn. of Attorneys General, said more education was not the sole answer, and added:

"How far have we gone toward eliminating from our ranks the moral misfit, the conscientious nonobjector, the lawyer who will sacrifice a principle to win a point, and discredit reason to get a rationalized decision?" Shepperd asked.

He said the polls were conducted in Texas, Michigan, Iowa, California and other states. He also said that in prestige, the poll showed attorneys ranked fourth in professions in the public's mind.

Shepperd addressed the annual national conference of bar examiners here. It met in conjunction with the American Bar Assn. Convention.

In another address, the president of the American Medical Assn. hit at doctors who he said would shade their court testimony for selfish reasons.

Dr. Dwight H. Murray, NAPA, Calif., called for the legal and medical profession to work together in ferreting out physicians and lawyers who "mock justice."

"Medical licensure should be withdrawn by the state from the physician who sells his testimony to the highest bidder and shades his testimony to the extent that he is paid," Dr. Murray said.

Circus Gets Lost; Firemen On Spot

VIENNA, Va., Aug. 28 (AP)—If you happen to see a lost circus, call the Vienna Fire Department.

For weeks the fire fighters have been informing the community that a circus was coming to town. Most fascinated by the prospects of the show were, naturally, the community's youngsters.

So yesterday the kids arrived. But no circus.

Harford County Integration Suit Filed

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28 (AP) — A suit was filed in Federal Court today to compel the Harford County Board of Education to integrate classes above the third-grade level in the county.

The complaint, filed by attorneys for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), said four Negro children had been refused enrollment in county white schools solely because of their race.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

How To Choose Powder

Women have always "improved on nature" by the use of make-up. Powder is one of the eldest cosmetics in history. The difference is that we now produce face powders in skin shades — white powder disappeared along with the horse and buggy days.

If you use face powder without a foundation, select it in a flattering shade to supply the color your own skin-tone lacks. How to choose? Usually you buy powder one shade darker than your skin.

Don't make the mistake of using a pink powder if your skin is pink. You need a powder containing buff, beige or amber. If you have a very white skin, or one that is pale or sallow, it will look best with a pinkish or rose-toned powder. All these skin tones lack pink.

Olive skin, the skin tone on the dark side, requires a copper shade. So many make the mistake of trying to lighten this skin with a light powder. The same holds true with a florid or ruddy skin . . . one shouldn't try to cover it with too light a shade. Instead, select one with a tan (but not a copper) cast.

There are two exceptions to the above. If you have a very thin or small face, you need to select as light a powder as your skin will take. The reason is that you need to create an illusion of increased size or plumpness. If your face is large . . . you naturally will want to choose powder that appears to diminish the size. A powder about two shades darker than your skin tone would be most flattering. The light shades make the countenance appear larger.

Long Says Council

Buchholtz and had said that he understood the city's total responsibility to be $250,000. He contended further that it appeared the occasion was the first time that some members of council realized cost would exceed that amount.

Referring to minutes of the October 25, 1954 meeting, Long said Gibson asked what the total city responsibility would be and Nuzum replied it was estimated at $265,000 but that a final settlement would be made when work was completed.

Long said at that time, Nuzum pointed out the $265,000 included 10 per cent for engineering, contingencies, etc., and that Morris M. Brodsky, assistant to the comptroller of the SRC, had intimated he felt that was high and when the project was completed $250,000 would probably cover the city's share.

Long said Nuzum further stated that federal government participation would be 50 per cent and the whole thing would cost an estimated $517,000.

Long added that the latest report of the SRC shows cost to be $595,221.72.

State Fair, Opening At Timonium Today, Draws Record 8,204 Head Of Livestock

TIMONIUM, Md., Aug. 28 (AP)—Barns and pens were filled to the bursting point tonight as exhibitors moved in their prize livestock in preparations for the State Fair opening.

The "Diamond Jubilee" fair—the 75th—gets under way at noon tomorrow.

A record 8,204 head of livestock have been entered in competition by 236 exhibitors, also a record, in the hope of winning ribbons and a share of premium money totaling $96,000, another record.

Fair officials predict a new record attendance topping 280,000 for the 14 days the fair will be in progress.

The fair will get under way formally at a noon-time ceremony which will include a ribbon-cutting and a parade down the Midway. Officiating will be Fair President William F. Schluderberg and members of the Baltimore County board of commissioners. Opening day is by tradition designed "Baltimore County Day."

The first-day program includes the judging of 4-H and Future Farmer of America dairy cattle, judging of Arabian horses, and selection of the State Fair Farm Queen in a competition tomorrow night.

Twenty-three farm girls representing each of the counties in Maryland will compete for the farm queen title, and the winner will be crowned at the special 4-H Club program Sunday.

There will be racing at Timonium's half-mile track daily for 14 days. Livestock and exhibits will be released at the end of the 10th day Saturday, Sept. 8.

Banana Hijackers Give Police Slip

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28 (AP) — Banana hijackers gave police the slip today after making off with a load of fruit estimated to be worth $1,500.

Herbert Wheeler said two men with banana knives locked him in a truck and made off with his tractor-trailer loaded with bananas.

Police Seize Still In College Park Home

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—Police today seized a 60-gallon whisky still in a College Park residence.

Ellis Johnson was charged with possession of equipment designed for manufacture of illicit whisky, State officials said.

Robert N. Lucke, agent in charge of the State Tax Enforcement Unit, said two fermenters and 50 gallons of mash were seized.

Recent Rains Aid Farmers In Late Plowing Chore

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 28 (AP) — Widespread rains improved plowing conditions on Maryland and Delaware farms recently, the Crop Reporting Service said today.

In its report covering the week ended Aug. 25, the service said the harvesting of vegetables, fruit and hay continued as the chief activity of farmers.

However, late summer plowing took an upswing as rains replenished soil moisture in most areas after a three-week dry spell.

The report gave this summary:

Pastures — In better-than-average condition in all sections for this time of year. The second cutting of clover and third cutting of alfalfa made progress in North Central Maryland. The third cutting of alfalfa was finished on the Northern Shore.

Corn — A big volume of sweet corn was on its way to canneries from major production areas in Northern Delaware and Northeastern Maryland.

Cantaloupes—Late crop of good quality moving to market but early vines dying rapidly.

Tomatoes — Peak harvest on Shore passed with two-thirds of crop already picked.

Peaches—Harvest at peak on Shore.

Soybeans—Podded in about 60 per cent of fields in southern counties and making excellent progress.

Tobacco—Rains early last week interrupted harvest but about one-third of crop has been cut; aphids and flea beetles appearing in numbers on St. Marys County crop; some reports of late brood of horn worms in Charles County.

McKeldin Directs "Invalid" Medical License Cancellation

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 28 (AP) — Gov. McKeldin today directed the attorney general to work for prompt cancellation of "invalid" homeopathic medical licenses issued "to a large number of obviously unqualified persons."

"These purported licenses," the governor said, "which have the appearance of being validly issued, are a source of great danger to the public health, safety and welfare of the citizens of this state and of the other states of the nation."

The governor authorized Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert to carry out all actions "necessary to accomplish the expunging of these invalid licenses from the public records . . . and a final judicial determination of the invalidity of all licenses issued under questionable circumstances by the Board of Medical Examiners of the State of Maryland, representing the Maryland State Homeopathic Medical Society."

Judge Joseph R. Byrnes recently held in Baltimore Circuit Court that a "rump" board of homeopathic examiners had improperly issued licenses and that its actions were invalid.

Road Project Bid

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28 (AP)—E. D. Plummer & Sons of Chambersburg, Pa. submitted the apparently low bid of $1,243,332 today on a State Roads Commission contract to widen and relocate Maryland 34 from Sharpsburg to Boonsboro.

The contract calls for use of flexible pavement.

Historic Oak's Largest Limb Victim Of Age

WYE MILLS, Aug. 28 (AP)—The biggest limb of the Wye Oak, billed as America's oldest and biggest white oak, crashed to the ground today, an apparent victim of age and disease.

The limb, about 75 feet long and five feet thick at its trunk juncture, smashed a nearby picnic bench and a section of the gray picket fence enclosing a 1.5-acre area around the tree trunk. The area is officially designated a Maryland State park.

State Forest Warden Alfred Henckel said the limb of the tree, which is estimated to be more than 400 years old, bore signs of rot.

The second largest limb was lost about two years ago. State officials had gavels made from the wood and passed tpem out to important visitors as souvenirs.

Convalescent Home Operator Yields

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28 (AP)—Mrs. Thelma G. Passwaters, operator of the Glenburn Convalescent Home at Cambridge, has heeded a court order to turn her financial records over to Internal Revenue agents.

The government contends the woman has not filed income tax returns since 1950. She contends she has.

The Internal Revenue Dept. said Mrs. Passwaters complied with Judge Roszel C. Thomsen's order to make her records available. She previously had been cited for contempt of court for failing to appear at scheduled meetings with her records.

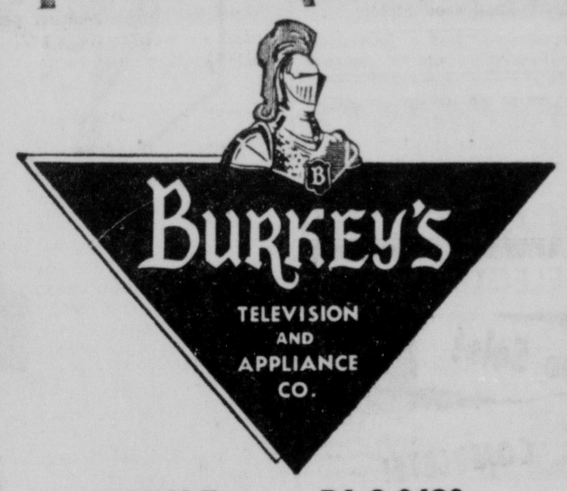

A rain forest is one in which the annual rainfall totals 100 inches or more. The forests occur mostly in the Amazon valley of South America, parts of west Africa and some Pacific islands.

Condemnation Suit Settled

A condemnation suit, involving property atop Martins Mountain along U.S. Route 40, scheduled for a jury trial on Monday in Allegany County Circuit Court, has been settled out of court by the State Roads Commission and the defendants.

The defendants in the suit, William M. Wolford, who died after the court action was instituted, his wife, Hattie V. Wolford; Thomas R. Wolford and wife Nellie H. Wolford were awarded $27,500 in the settlement.

The property in dispute is situated on the south side of Route 40 and consists of a tavern, restaurant and gasoline station.

The court order by Associate Judge Morgan Harris instructed Joseph E. Boden, clerk of court, to deliver the amount of money to the defendants, and ruled the case "settled and off."

Attorneys for the SRC were Joseph D. Buscher, assistant attorney general, and William L. Wilson, while Earl E. Manges and W. Earle Cobey were counsel for the defendants.

76 Homeopath Licenses Are Declared Void

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Maryland Board of Homeopathic Medical Examiners today declared that all licenses issued by a rival board, now under court injunction, were invalid.

The board authorized Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert to take all steps necessary and desirable to wipe the void licenses from the public records.

The attorney general's office said the so-called rump board, headed by Dr. Robert H. Reddick, had issued 76 licenses. A total of 82 persons passed examinations given by the board, but six had not yet obtained their licenses, Deputy Atty. Gen. Norman Ramsey said.

Members of the board held by Circuit Judge Joseph R. Byrnes of Baltimore to be the valid licensing body of the Maryland State Homeopathic Society held their first meeting today since the rival board was suspended from all official action by court order.

Members of the "valid" board are Drs. Julius Chepko of Westminster, chairman; Robert Follweiler of Havre de Grace, Edward J. Simon of Aberdeen, William Harrison of Hurlock, and Joseph Watson of Chevy Chase.

Attorney General Sybert, who was represented at the meeting, said it was his intention to immediately notify all holders of the invalid licenses that they are void. He said he also would send notice to all clerks of courts in Maryland in which the licenses have been offered for registration.

As the board was meeting, Gov. McKeldin from Annapolis directed Sybert to work for prompt cancellation of the licenses which he said were issued "to a large number of obviously unqualified persons."

Russians Welcome Indonesia President

MOSCOW, Aug. 28 (AP)—President Sukarno of Indonesia flew into Moscow today with an escort of MIG jet fighters and hailed the Soviet people as campaigners for freedom and justice.

Soviet President Klementi Y. Voroshilov greeted him. Voroshilov complimented the Indonesian people on their "struggle against colonialism and the vestiages of colonialism in Asia."

Paper Firm's Sales Profits Increase

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. today reported profits for the nine months ended July 31 were $13,001,000, or $2.54 per share of common stock.

This compared favorably with income of $11,138,000 or $2.18 a share, for the year-earlier period. Sales advanced to $142,678,000 from $128,998,000 a year earlier.

Frostburg Discount Period On Taxes To End September 1

FROSTBURG — J. Harry Hanson, city tax collector, has announced that 84 per cent of the real estate and personal property taxes for the city have been paid for the current year.

Hanson states, however, there are a number of taxpayers who have not yet taken advantage of the discount period, which will end on Sept. 1.

A total of $1,000 in taxes for the fiscal year of 1954 still remains unpaid, said Hanson, and slightly over $3,000 for the year of 1955 is still outstanding.

Twiggtown Club Has Family Picnic

Plans for an afternoon, instead of an evening meeting, were formulated at the picnic supper of the Twiggtown Homemakers Club which was held at the home of Mrs. Wade Rice.

Mrs. Charles Frost will be hostess for the meeting at 1:30 p. m. September 8, at which time she will give the Clothing chairman report.

Families and friends were entertained at the picnic, which was followed by games with prizes for the children. There were 42 members and guests attending.

Condemnation Suit Settled

A condemnation suit, involving property atop Martins Mountain along U.S. Route 40, scheduled for a jury trial on Monday in Allegany County Circuit Court, has been settled out of court by the State Roads Commission and the defendants.

The defendants in the suit, William M. Wolford, who died after the court action was instituted, his wife, Hattie V. Wolford; Thomas R. Wolford and wife Nellie H. Wolford were awarded $27,500 in the settlement.

The property in dispute is situated on the south side of Route 40 and consists of a tavern, restaurant and gasoline station.

The court order by Associate Judge Morgan Harris instructed Joseph E. Boden, clerk of court, to deliver the amount of money to the defendants, and ruled the case "settled and off."

Attorneys for the SRC were Joseph D. Buscher, assistant attorney general, and William L. Wilson, while Earl E. Manges and W. Earle Cobey were counsel for the defendants.

Jr. Civic Club To Observe 10th Anniversary At Supper

The Junior Woman's Civic Club will celebrate its 10th anniversary with a buffet supper September 12.

Mrs. Arthur C. Bright, Norwalk, Conn., who was president of the Woman's Civic Club in 1946 and was instrumental in the founding of the junior club, has been invited to attend.

Other guests will be the 21 charter members of the club, past presidents, the State Federation officers and members of the Oakland Junior Woman's Civic Club.

An entertainment program will feature musical readings by Miss Dorothy Stone White and Mrs. Mary Drumm Bolino, Frostburg.

It is to be held at 6 p. m. in the Club House of the Woman's Civic Club, Washington Street.

Organization began in October 1946 and the club received its charter in December 1946.

Mrs. Bruce Douglas will preside at a business session, the first to be held after the summer recess. Other new officers serving with her are Mrs. Mark Lazarus Jr., vice president; Mrs. Glenn R. Brant, recording secretary; Miss Louise Lippold, corresponding secretary; and Miss Jean Dauphin, treasurer.

General chairman for the anniversary is Mrs. C. M. Sanner. The committee assisting in arrangements includes Mrs. Galuen Metzger, chairman of Food and Reservations; Mrs. Miles Thompson, Jr., Serving; Miss Virginia Harmison, Cleanup committee; and Mrs. Arthur Crum, Program.

Society Makes 3 Donations

Three donations were made by the Women's Society of Christian Service of Centenary Church at a meeting following a covered dish supper in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Louis L. Emerick, held at the church.

The invocation was given by Rev. Emerick. A gift was presented to the honor guests by Mrs. Melvin Little, on behalf of the society. Humorous recitations were given by Miss Joyce H. White, Mrs. Willetts Heavner and Mrs. Little.

Devotionals were led by Mrs. George Yeargan; her topic being, "Measuring Our Growth through the Quadrennium." The Scripture readings were given by Mrs. Ward Wilson, Mrs. Hilda Growden and Mrs. Selma Gillum. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Emerick. The music included group singing of "Waiting on Jesus," a solo, "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations," by Rev. Emerick; and a duet by Mrs. Walter Growden and Mrs. Little, "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me."

Mrs. Little presided at the business session. Mrs. Wilson read an article about the Cherokee Indians of the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee. Mrs. Gillum spoke about the festival and announced $170 was realized. Donations were voted to be given to the Bedford Road Firemen's Ladies Auxiliary and the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the church. Mrs. Fred Purnell outlined the supply work of the society. It was decided to send $6 to the Home Missions. The meeting closed with praying the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Teen-Age Dance To Be Held At Club

Two dances are scheduled at the Cumberland Country Club this weekend.

A special semi-formal dance for teen-agers will be held Friday. John Ritchie and his band will play from 8:45 until 11:45 p.m. It is for teen-agers from 12 to 16 years, inclusive.

The Ticket committee consists of JoAnn Carscaden, Susan Geppert, Sarah Gerson, John Moberly and Michael Renz. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Carroll Boggs is to be the chaperon. Betsy White is Publicity chairman.

Jr. Civic Club To Observe 10th Anniversary At Supper

The Junior Woman's Civic Club will celebrate its 10th anniversary with a buffet supper September 12.

Mrs. Arthur C. Bright, Norwalk, Conn., who was president of the Woman's Civic Club in 1946 and was instrumental in the founding of the junior club, has been invited to attend.

Other guests will be the 21 charter members of the club, past presidents, the State Federation officers and members of the Oakland Junior Woman's Civic Club.

An entertainment program will feature musical readings by Miss Dorothy Stone White and Mrs. Mary Drumm Bolino, Frostburg.

It is to be held at 6 p. m. in the Club House of the Woman's Civic Club, Washington Street.

Organization began in October 1946 and the club received its charter in December 1946.

Mrs. Bruce Douglas will preside at a business session, the first to be held after the summer recess. Other new officers serving with her are Mrs. Mark Lazarus Jr., vice president; Mrs. Glenn R. Brant, recording secretary; Miss Louise Lippold, corresponding secretary; and Miss Jean Dauphin, treasurer.

General chairman for the anniversary is Mrs. C. M. Sanner. The committee assisting in arrangements includes Mrs. Galuen Metzger, chairman of Food and Reservations; Mrs. Miles Thompson, Jr., Serving; Miss Virginia Harmison, Cleanup committee; and Mrs. Arthur Crum, Program.

Society Makes 3 Donations

Three donations were made by the Women's Society of Christian Service of Centenary Church at a meeting following a covered dish supper in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Louis L. Emerick, held at the church.

The invocation was given by Rev. Emerick. A gift was presented to the honor guests by Mrs. Melvin Little, on behalf of the society. Humorous recitations were given by Miss Joyce H. White, Mrs. Willetts Heavner and Mrs. Little.

Devotionals were led by Mrs. George Yeargan; her topic being, "Measuring Our Growth through the Quadrennium." The Scripture readings were given by Mrs. Ward Wilson, Mrs. Hilda Growden and Mrs. Selma Gillum. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Emerick. The music included group singing of "Waiting on Jesus," a solo, "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations," by Rev. Emerick; and a duet by Mrs. Walter Growden and Mrs. Little, "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me."

Mrs. Little presided at the business session. Mrs. Wilson read an article about the Cherokee Indians of the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee. Mrs. Gillum spoke about the festival and announced $170 was realized. Donations were voted to be given to the Bedford Road Firemen's Ladies Auxiliary and the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the church. Mrs. Fred Purnell outlined the supply work of the society. It was decided to send $6 to the Home Missions. The meeting closed with praying the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Radioactive Blood Clots Offer Promise In Search For Heart Attack Preventive

BOSTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Radioactive blood clots promise to lead to better ways of preventing coronary heart attacks such as President Eisenhower suffered.

The radioactive clots are produced in animals. Drugs or agents then can be tested to see how well they dissolve the clots and prevent dangerous new ones from forming.

The study finds one natural component of human blood, known as plasmin, works well in dissolving clots and preventing heart damage in animals.

The new technique was described today to the sixth congress of the International Soviety of Hematology by Drs. Julian L. Ambrus and Clara Ambrus, a husband - wife team, and Dr. Nathan Back and J. W. Byron of Buffalo, N. Y.

Coronary attacks are usually caused by blood clots lodging in narrowed arteries feeding the heart. The blockage causes part of the heart muscle to die. New clots forming later can produce second or third attacks and more damage or death.

The Buffalo researchers produce clots containing radioactive iodine in the heart, lung or other arteries of animals. The iodine gives off rays showing where the clot is, and how fast it dissolves within the body when drugs are given.

The scientists tested a number of clot - dissolving agents, and found that concentrated plasmin had the best effect.

In dogs and monkeys, plasmin prevented heart damage without adverse effects on the normal balance of clotting and anticlotting agents in the bloodstream.

Human trials using plasmin and regular blood-thinning drugs, such as heparin and dicoumarol, now are starting, Dr. Ambrus said.

Horses, Mules On Fast Decline, Count Reveals

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP) — Could it be that Old Dobbin, the horse, and Maude, the mule, soon will be as rare as grandpa's left-handed mustache cup down on the farm? It looks that way.

The Census Bureau reported today that the Dobbins and the Maudes definitely are on the decline—and fast.

A new count of noses shows there were 45½ per cent fewer horses and mules on farms in 1954 than in 1950. And that decline, the bureau said, came on top of a previous record drop of better than 36 per cent from 1945 to 1950.

For the horse, the decline has been in progress since 1910. The mule was a little hardier. Not until the late 1920s or the early 30s did the mule begin giving way to the rise of mechanization.

The census count showed 4,141,288 horses and mules on farms in 1954. That was a drop of 3,462,622 from the 7,603,910 in 1950.

Census did not have a breakdown of horses and mules in the 1954 total but the count of both together compared with a 1925 record total of 25,199,552.

The horse reached its high point in 1910 when the tally showed 19,833,113. Mules were most numerous in 1925 when 5,680,897 were counted.

The census report showed St. Landry Parish, La., the top county or parish in the nation in 1950 and again in 1954 in the number of horses and mules. But there, too, there was a decline—from 19,158 in 1950 to 13,897 in 1954.

Of the top 10 counties listing ownership of horses and mules on farms Otter Tail County, Minn., showed the biggest drop in rank—from 10th in 1950 to 53rd in 1954.

The quadrupeds still were being used most in six Southern states—Mississippi, North Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, Alabama and South Carolina—and in Far West states, principally Arizona and New Mexico.

Apache and Navajo counties, Ariz., were second and third in the 1954 count. Of the top 100 counties in the nation for horses and mules only four showed increases from 1950. They were:

Apache, Ariz., McKinley, N.M., which moved up to 4th; Rio Arriba, N.M., and Owyhee County, Idaho.

Record Clear U.S. Wasn't Prepared For Pacific War

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Every now and then someone tries to sell the idea that it was the United States, not Japan, which set off the Pacific phase of World War II.

Yet the record is clear that the United States was not prepared for war in the Pacific when it started, and that for a long time it had to fight in that sector with its left hand—which would have been the case even without the loss of the ships at Pearl Harbor, because of the European situation.

Now comes the version of Shigenori Togo, 1941 foreign minister of Japan, in his posthumous memoirs. He died in a war criminal's cell. It is being published by U. S. News & World Report prior to issuance as a book by Simon and Schuster, Inc.

Togo took the general line, so often heard before, that Japan reacted to American pressure deliberately applied for the purpose of producing war.

But at one point he wrote that President Roosevelt was "lying" to "baby" Japan along until the United States could get ready.

There he gets somewhat closer to the truth than on most points. The United States was indeed conducting a delaying action.

The United States had recognized its position in the Pacific by the fall of 1941, and was preparing to stand across the path of Japan in a posture much similar to that which she now takes toward Communist China. She was not willing to let Japan expand in Southeast Asia at will.

But Japan made up her mind early in October that she would not stand tied. On Oct. 18 the peace - seeking members of her Cabinet were ousted and a complete set of warmakers installed.

American correspondents in Tokyo ran into a stone wall of censorship with the story. Their dispatches came through with everything deleted except a brief line saying there was a new Cabinet and listing its names. Not a word as to the background of the maneuver.

But these names and what they represented were well known to American experts on Japanese politics. The Associated Press was able to carry a story, under a New York dateline, seven weeks before Pearl Harbor, which said the Cabinet shift meant Japan had committed herself to war with the United States.

The record is too clear as to what happened.

The groundwork for confusion had been laid, however, and American writers have preceded Togo in discussing it.

Secretary of State Hull and President Roosevelt had long been aware that there was almost no chance the United States could avoid war with the Axis indefinitely.

One of their problems was to begin the preparations they believed essential, in the face of an isolationist Congress and public opinion. They took positions in advance of that opinion. This produced, later, the charge that they were deliberately provocative.

The very confusion which surrounded the actual outbreak, the slowness with which Japanese military orders were decoded, the unreadiness of military units — all these and dozens of other circumstances are a sufficient refutation.

Red Law Curbs Farm Animals In City Areas

MOSCOW, Aug. 28 (AP) — A law aimed to end private ownership of farm animals in city areas of the Soviet Union went into effect yesterday.

The law was proposed last June 28 by the ministries of trade, finance and cereal production and finally approved by the government yesterday.

Ownership of cattle and other farm animals in city areas shot up during the last two years. But there was a lack of feed stores open to the general public and private owners had been feeding their animals bread, cereals, potatoes and other foods intended for human consumption.

State and collective farmers will be exempt from the law. Among other things, it requires that every cow must produce 400 quarts of milk for the state a year, and each pig must yield 44 pounds of pork.

342,000 W. Virginia Vehicles Inspected

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 28 (AP)—The State Police Accident and Prevention Bureau reported today that 342,000 of the 580,000 registered West Virginia vehicles have been inspected so far this year.

"We are rather well on schedule as far as the number of inspections are concerned," Lt. T. A. Welty, accident prevention chief, said.

He emphasized that there would be no extension of the inspection period, which ends Sept. 30.

He added that the department has not yet analyzed the ratio of traffic accidents resulting from faulty mechanical operation, as compared to 1955.

Radioactive Blood Clots Offer Promise In Search For Heart Attack Preventive

BOSTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Radioactive blood clots promise to lead to better ways of preventing coronary heart attacks such as President Eisenhower suffered.

The radioactive clots are produced in animals. Drugs or agents then can be tested to see how well they dissolve the clots and prevent dangerous new ones from forming.

Tri-Towns Fire Company Plans Fund Campaign

Launch Project To Buy New Truck

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — The Tri-Towns Volunteer Fire Company and its ladies auxiliary are completing plans for an extensive campaign for funds to buy a new fire truck and pumper.

According to Thomas Bryan, fire company president, a number of specially designed collection cars have been received and these are to be distributed to residents in the community. Each card contains 16 slots where a twenty-five cent piece can be placed, and residents are urged to "save" a quarter a week on the card. At the end of 16 weeks, the cards and money will be collected.

William Conn, assistant secretary of the company said plans are now made to begin the campaign on September 5, and members of the company and the ladies auxiliary have agreed to assist. Other fund raising plans may be considered later if necessary.

In the meantime, the company is selling small household and auto fire extinguishers at a nominal price, to residents of the community. These fire extinguishers, Chief Vernon Hamilton said, are approved, and one of them, in case of an emergency, could easily save a life or help prevent serious property loss before firemen can be summoned.

These extinguishers may be obtained at the fire hall or from any member of the fire company.

Hampshire County To Check Buses

ROMNEY, W. Va.—The annual Hampshire County school buses check will be made Thursday at Romney High School, according to Sgt. R. E. Schnell, West Virginia State Police.

Physical, written and driving exams are planned for the bus drivers and the county's 42 school buses will be checked thoroughly for the opening of the school term in September.

The examinations will be held all day beginning at 8 a.m. Thursday, Sgt. Schnell stated.

Rhine-Arnold Nuptials Are Announced

FROSTBURG — Announcement has been made of the marriage of Sara Louise Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zack Arnold, Maplehurst Golf Course, to Robert Eugene Rhine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Rhine, York, Pa.

The wedding took place August 12 at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church here, with Rev. George Wehler performing the ceremony.

William Plummer was soloist and Miss Mabel Myers was organist. Wedding music included "I Love You Truly," "The Lord's Prayer," and "I Love Thee."

Attendants were Miss Louise Cook of York, Pa., Charles Rhine, brother of the groom; Taylor Arnold, brother of the bride, and Mose Wilson, cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the social room of the church. A four-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom highlighted the decorations which included gladioli and mums.

Mrs. Hilda Albright, sister of the groom and Mrs. Martha Hosken, cousin of the bride served punch. Miss Rosella Youngerman presided at the guest book. Mrs Pearl Hartig and Mrs. Edward Cramer, Mrs. Albert Miller assisted.

The bride is a 1953 graduate of Beall High School and a graduate of Maryland Medical Secretarial School, Hagerstown, class of 1954. She has been working as a secretary at York Hospital.

The bridegroom graduated from York High School and is employed by Dentists' Supply, York, Pa.

W.Va. Reports Oak Wilt In 36 Counties

Infection Increases Since Last Year

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — The first state-wide aerial survey to locate trees infected with Oak Wilt has discovered 1,100 trees in 36 counties, according to Commissioner of Agriculture, John T. Johnson. There has been an increase of over 300 infected trees since last year.

The survey for Oak Wilt was conducted by the State Department of Agriculture and other cooperating agencies. State officials consider this disease a serious threat to the Oak forests of the state.

Planes flew over 500 hours to locate the diseased trees. The state department states that ground crews will continue to locate diseased trees until November 1.

"It is of great concern to me to note," Commissioner Johnson said, "that Oak is considered the major timber tree in 39 of the 40 counties where Oak Wilt has been discovered during the past three years." Oak Wilt affects all Oaks in varying degrees.

Ground crews of the Agriculture Department have visited most of the infected trees. Trees are girdled and the bark stripped from the stump to prevent the spread of the disease. Treatment of the diseased trees should be completed by October 1.

Commissioner Johnson said, that most of the trees found this year are in infected centers that are several years old. These larger areas are being found for the first time this year as a result of the enlarged survey.

The disease will often lay dormant for two or three years before starting again on its destructive path. Continued surveys are needed, the Commissioner said, to locate new spots of the disease and outbreaks from old areas.

Commissioner Johnson stated, "The disease will never be effectively under control until every diseased spot has been located and proper treatment applied."

Chief Truly Cites Limit On Parking

FROSTBURG—Ordinance 415 of the laws of the City of Frostburg makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by arrest and fine to allow a motor vehicle of any description to be parked on any street or alley in the corporate limits for "over forty-eight hours."

According to Chief of Police Lloyd Truly, some citizens have been taking liberties with this law. Several instances have arisin in which an old model truck or car has been parked at the curb by the owner, and allowed to remain there for months, being not only an eyesore and a nuisance, but a definite safety hazard to the community.

Chief Truly has brought this law to the attention of several offenders. One citizen was hailed before the magistrate and warned to remove his vehicle from the street within 10 days or suffer arrest and fine. The truck was moved.

The practice of parking old cars and trucks at the curb or in alleys must be discontinued, Truly says, or the offenders will be dealt with according to the provisions of the law.

Tri-Towns Fire Company Plans Fund Campaign

Launch Project To Buy New Truck

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — The Tri-Towns Volunteer Fire Company and its ladies auxiliary are completing plans for an extensive campaign for funds to buy a new fire truck and pumper.

According to Thomas Bryan, fire company president, a number of specially designed collection cars have been received and these are to be distributed to residents in the community. Each card contains 16 slots where a twenty-five cent piece can be placed, and residents are urged to "save" a quarter a week on the card. At the end of 16 weeks, the cards and money will be collected.

William Conn, assistant secretary of the company said plans are now made to begin the campaign on September 5, and members of the company and the ladies auxiliary have agreed to assist. Other fund raising plans may be considered later if necessary.

In the meantime, the company is selling small household and auto fire extinguishers at a nominal price, to residents of the community. These fire extinguishers, Chief Vernon Hamilton said, are approved, and one of them, in case of an emergency, could easily save a life or help prevent serious property loss before firemen can be summoned.

These extinguishers may be obtained at the fire hall or from any member of the fire company.

Southern States Cooperative Meeting Called At Lonaconing

Annual Election, Contest Scheduled

LONACONING—A "What's the Answer" contest, leading to prizes valued at nearly $25,000, and the election of local board and Farm Home Advisory Committee members, will be among the highlights of the annual Southern States membership meeting here September 5. The meeting will be held at 8 p. m. DST at the home of Alvin C. Neat Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The session is jointly sponsored by Southern States Cooperative and Clise Feed and Supply Company.

A motion picture entitled "Partners," featuring a story of farmer cooperatives and what they mean to the individual farmer will be shown.

Thorughout the six-state territory of Southern Cooperative, there will be 450 "What's the Answer" contests. To be eligible, contestants must be 18 years or older as of August 1, 1956 and a member or patron, or a member of a member or patron family.

There will be three contests, based on "What's The Answer" questions, to be held at local meetings. All winners will have their names entered in the grand prize competition which will be held as part of the Southern States annual stockholders meeting scheduled for Lexington, Ky., in November. Two winners at the local meeting will receive electric skillets.

A total of 15 grand prizes, all of them with cash options, will be awarded at Lexington. Included among these are $1,200 worth of Southern States supplies for use on the winner's farm; a 35-cubic-foot food freezer; a fertilizer spreader; $1,100 worth of Southern States supplies for use on the winner's farm; $1,000 worth of seed; a milking machine; a bulk milk tank; $1,000 worth of fertilizer, and other prizes.

Nelson Ward of Lonaconing will serve as chairman of the local meeting. Rev. Reckley of Midland, will give the invocation. Group singing will be led by Mrs. William Weir.

A report on local operations and services will be given by Charles Clise, manager of Clise Feed and Supply Company. Southern States District Manager John E. Wetsel will report on over-all Southern States operations for the year ended last June 30.

Nominees for the local Southern States board for the Lonaconing area are Elmer Clise of Midland, John Beeman of Barton; William Weir and Bert Beeman, both of Lonaconing.

Nominees for the Farm Home Advisory Committee are Mrs. Delwood Merrill of Barton; Mrs. Joe Steele, Mrs. Clara Pierce, Mrs. William Robeson and Mrs. Vincent Jacobs, all of Lonaconing.

Other nominations may be made from the floor.

Members of the board whose terms expire this year are Alfred Boardwater and Chester A. Green.

Members of the Farm Home Advisory Committee whose terms expire this year are Mrs. Bertus Beeman and Mrs. Stanley Green.

Members of the general committees assisting with the meeting are Parking—Stanley Boardwater of Grantsville; Patron's tickets—Chester A. Green of Lonaconing and Dewey Llewellyn of Barton.

Long Says Council Misinformed On Frederick Street Costs

Cumberland's finance commissioner charged yesterday that the city council has been "misinformed" on cost of the Frederick Street improvement project and cited figures which he said indicate the city is paying an estimated $72,000 more than the price to which it originally agreed.

Commissioner John J. Long referred to Order 13,626 passed August 9, 1954 which read: "Ordered by the Mayor and Council of the City of Cumberland, Md., that the city auditor be, and is hereby authorized, to issue a check of $250,000 covering the city's share of the Frederick Street Improvement Project. And be it further ordered that the amount be charged to Cumberland Urban Development Bonds of 1953." The order was signed by Mayor Roy W. Eves and Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz.

The city's $350,000 Urban Development Bond Issue, authorized by the state legislature, was sold to provide $250,000 for Frederick Street, funds for the George Street cutoff and widening of Franklin Street.

Long said, however, that instead of $250,000 for Frederick Street, the city must pay $322,513.53 as its share of the urban aid project.

Long also stated that he had been informed by City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson that when the State Roads Commission indicated cost to the city would be more than the $250,000, it had been told by Gibson that the figure was the maximum the city could pay. Gibson was told at that time, Long said, that the SRC "would not insist" upon the city taking on the contract although bids had already been submitted. Therefore, when the order was submitted limiting the city share to $250,000 which it was presumed the SRC would accept as the full share, Long said he voted for it.

The commissioner said he voted for the original order presented on authority of City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum but the record will show that he (Long) has since opposed every move to increase the city's share of the project's cost.

Long claimed that it was the original intention that residents would not pay anything for the Frederick Street improvement but the city "finds it necessary to charge them approximately $100,000 including cost of a storm sewer."

The latest in these additional costs, according to the commissioner, is an SRC bill for $47,780.06 representing the city's share of construction of concrete curbing, storm sewers, etc., along Frederick from near Woodlawn Terrace, northeast for a distance of 1.429 miles. This, the SRC says, is in accord with an agreement reached July 13, 1953.

Long added that another $24,803.87 has been tacked onto the original estimate for work performed by the city in connection with the project for such things as catch basins and moving water lines. He charged these should have been figured into the total cost when original estimates were presented.

SRC records show total cost of the project at $595,221.72. The SRC's share was $39,975.60. Federal aid amounts to $257,466.

The city must stand the remainder of $297,441.66, plus the $24,803.87 for work it performed.

Payments to the S. T. Brotemarkle Construction Company amounted to $530,114.16 of which $496,315.29 was borne by the city and federal government and $33,798.87 by the SRC.

Other expenses in which the city and federal government shared were: Salaries, $25,023.29; labor, $322.21; materials and supplies, $397.57; advertising, $177.79; equipment, $14.98; operating expenses, $1,576.65; administration and general expense, $31,508.28. Total of these other city-federal shared expenses was $58,930.77.

All rights-of-way costs were assumed by the State Roads Commission.

Long is joining Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan in voicing displeasure at handling of the Frederick Street project.

Kegan, in previously announcing there was no alternative but to go along with restrictions on traffic pertaining to one-way travel and parking on Frederick and Bedford streets in order to obtain $66,000 in federal aid, stated that the restrictions to which he is opposed were not in the agreement submitted to him before it was executed by the city.

In addition, Keegan said: "When I voted for the project, I understood that it was to cost the city $250,000. On this, too, I was misinformed."

As further evidence of his point, Long pointed to the cancelled check for $250,000 made payable to the SRC which carried the notation "Cumberland Share of Frederick Street Improvement Project." It was dated August 10, 1954 and was signed by himself, Gibson and Mayor Eves.

He continued that at a meeting of council in October 1954, Gibson had used the word "confused" when asked about the total cost by

Street Signs To Be Placed In LaVale

Plans have been completed for the installation of street signs in the LaVale area between Allegany Grove and the Mt. Savage Road underpass.

William P. Durland and Lloyd Buchanan, co-chairmen of the street sign fund committee for the LaVale Civic Improvement Association, have sent a map to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, on which are shown the locations of the approximately 160 street signs.

The map shows that each street intersection will be marked. Steel poles will be installed with the street signs being affixed.

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has agreed to have the street signs installed by County Roads Department workers. The LaVale group will purchase the steel poles and signs and other materials needed.

The signs will eliminate the confusion which exists in the fast-growing area when delivery men and others are trying to locate certain residences. The area in the past 10 years has grown at an accelerated rate and the lack of street signs has been a problem. The population of the suburban area is estimated at more than 6,000 persons.

Man Charged In Shooting

A charge of assault with intent to kill was placed yesterday against a 48-year-old Deep Creek Lake man who police said shot his wife and an 18-year-old innocent bystander Monday with a .410 gauge shotgun blast near his home in the Garrett County resort area.

Under custody in Garrett County Memorial Hospital is John Guthrie Luke II, who was arrested by Cpl. Samuel Conrad, Maryland State Police officer Monday after the shooting.

In satisfactory condition in the same hospital with pellet wounds are his wife, Mrs. John Guthrie Luke, and the bystander, Kermit Wayne Wildman, 18, of Luke.

S. R. Pagenhardt, state's attorney for Garrett County, said no date has been set for the preliminary hearing.

Salisbury Woman Seeking $25,000 In Damage Suit

A suit for $25,000 damages was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by a Salisbury, Pa., woman against a Frostburg woman for injuries received in a two-car crash on U. S. Route 40 at a point known as Long Stretch in Garrett County.

The declaration in the case, docketed by William R. Carscaden, attorney for the plaintiff, states that on June 4, 1955 at 9:30 p. m. that Pauline Norris, of Salisbury, was a passenger in a car operated by Frank Polvinale.

It was stated that the defendant, Marlene M. Hunter, 75 East Main Street, Frostburg, was driving her car in a careless and negligent manner and at a high rate of speed and crashed into the rear of Polvinale's car.

The plantiff claims she was thrown from the front seat of Polvinale's car into the rear seat and suffered injuries to her left ankle, left hip, back, neck and her nervous system suffered shock. She said she underwent medical and hospital expenses and since the accident has been unable to do her housework. She also claims she is permanently disabled.

Man Serves Time For Killing Deer

Herman Crowe, of Borden, was released from the Allegany County Jail Saturday after serving 11 days and then paying his fine.

Crowe was lodged in the jail on August 14 after being found guilty of three game violations in Trial Magistrate Court.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason fined the man $226 for killing deer in a closed season, and ordered him committed to the jail in default of the fine.

He was apprehended along with Joseph Snyder, 23, Frostburg, by Game Wardens Joseph J. Keating and Theodore Thoerig.

Snyder was fined $104 and court costs.

Commissioners Discuss Bridge Plans

Plans were discussed yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for the Flat Rock Bridge project at Barton.

The board will give 30 days notice that it intends to reopen the Flat Rock Bridge and those who are opposed may register their protests. If the project goes through the legal formality during the 30-period, then the work can be started soon after.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, said he can have estimates drawn up by Friday so that bids can be asked on the project. By doing this prior to the end of the 30-day period time can be saved.

The Flat Rock Bridge has been a bone of contention for more than 15 years. Originally it was closed about 1939 under the grade crossing elimination program of the federal government. This was done at a time when the Georges Creek road was relocated.

A number of attempts were made in the 1940s to have the bridge opened, but the Circuit Court ruled against the petitioners. The way was cleared to reopen the bridge after a resolution was passed in the Legislature and the Western Maryland Railway gave its approval to the plan.

There are only about two trains which will use the crossing daily. The county has agreed to the request of the railway that no crossing watchman or signal lights will be required.

Italy Uses The Boot

ROME (AP) — Nearly 135,000 men and boys play soccer in organized leagues in Italy.

The Italian Soccer Federation announced that 91,000 players participate in the seven top national and regional leagues. Another 43,792 compete with junior elevens.

Check Of Streams Is Being Planned By U.S. Service

The various tributary streams of the Potomac River in this section will be checked by a team of technicians from the sanitary division of the U. S. Public Health Service during the next month and a half.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, told the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today that a mobile laboratory which the technicians will use in their testing will be stationed at the County Garage on Franklin Street.

The commissioners granted Chapman the authority to permit the mobile lab to be parked on the county property.

The USPH unit will check the pollution in the various streams such as Braddock Run, Wills Creek,, Georges Creek, Jennings Run, Colliers Run and other waters which eventually reach the Potomac.

Teen-Agers' Driving Licenses Suspended

Hearings were held at the Court House yesterday by Ray Horn, reviewer for the Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles for a group of motorists who have violated traffic laws.

Horn said that teen-agers who are brought before him for a review of their case are given a first warning, but any further violations result in suspensions or revocations of licenses. In some cases the drivers are placed on probation, depending on the facts in the case.

Out of four drivers whose licenses were suspended after hearings yesterday, three were teen-agers. Actually, only three of the four violators appeared, with the fourth failing to show up. This youth automatically was suspended from driving.

One driver's license was revoked and five other drivers were placed on probation for one year. If they are brought before him again their permits to drive are suspended.

Horn said the purpose of the hearings for teen-agers is to give them advice after they have their first violation in an attempt to make them become law-abiding motorists. Horn said that very few girls are among traffic law violators. This is probably the reason there is no requirement that young girls have certain insurance before being issued a learner's permit. Boys who take out a learner's permit have to have liability insurance before the permit is granted.

Street Signs To Be Placed In LaVale

Plans have been completed for the installation of street signs in the LaVale area between Allegany Grove and the Mt. Savage Road underpass.

William P. Durland and Lloyd Buchanan, co-chairmen of the street sign fund committee for the LaVale Civic Improvement Association, have sent a map to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, on which are shown the locations of the approximately 160 street signs.

The map shows that each street intersection will be marked. Steel poles will be installed with the street signs being affixed.

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has agreed to have the street signs installed by County Roads Department workers. The LaVale group will purchase the steel poles and signs and other materials needed.

The signs will eliminate the confusion which exists in the fast-growing area when delivery men and others are trying to locate certain residences. The area in the past 10 years has grown at an accelerated rate and the lack of street signs has been a problem. The population of the suburban area is estimated at more than 6,000 persons.

Man Charged In Shooting

A charge of assault with intent to kill was placed yesterday against a 48-year-old Deep Creek Lake man who police said shot his wife and an 18-year-old innocent bystander Monday with a .410 gauge shotgun blast near his home in the Garrett County resort area.

Under custody in Garrett County Memorial Hospital is John Guthrie Luke II, who was arrested by Cpl. Samuel Conrad, Maryland State Police officer Monday after the shooting.

In satisfactory condition in the same hospital with pellet wounds are his wife, Mrs. John Guthrie Luke, and the bystander, Kermit Wayne Wildman, 18, of Luke.

S. R. Pagenhardt, state's attorney for Garrett County, said no date has been set for the preliminary hearing.

Salisbury Woman Seeking $25,000 In Damage Suit

A suit for $25,000 damages was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by a Salisbury, Pa., woman against a Frostburg woman for injuries received in a two-car crash on U. S. Route 40 at a point known as Long Stretch in Garrett County.

The declaration in the case, docketed by William R. Carscaden, attorney for the plaintiff, states that on June 4, 1955 at 9:30 p. m. that Pauline Norris, of Salisbury, was a passenger in a car operated by Frank Polvinale.

It was stated that the defendant, Marlene M. Hunter, 75 East Main Street, Frostburg, was driving her car in a careless and negligent manner and at a high rate of speed and crashed into the rear of Polvinale's car.

The plantiff claims she was thrown from the front seat of Polvinale's car into the rear seat and suffered injuries to her left ankle, left hip, back, neck and her nervous system suffered shock. She said she underwent medical and hospital expenses and since the accident has been unable to do her housework. She also claims she is permanently disabled.

Man Serves Time For Killing Deer

Herman Crowe, of Borden, was released from the Allegany County Jail Saturday after serving 11 days and then paying his fine.

Crowe was lodged in the jail on August 14 after being found guilty of three game violations in Trial Magistrate Court.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason fined the man $226 for killing deer in a closed season, and ordered him committed to the jail in default of the fine.

He was apprehended along with Joseph Snyder, 23, Frostburg, by Game Wardens Joseph J. Keating and Theodore Thoerig.

Tax Reduction When And If

Shortly before or soon after Labor Day the Budget Bureau is expected to announce new estimates of the Treasury surplus for the present year. President Eisenhower's estimate last January, in his budget message, was $435 million.

If the new estimate should be much higher, and one of the $2 billion or more is widely predicted, the 1956 Republican tax reduction plank will be especially pertinent. It pledges tax reduction, with especial consideration for low and middle income taxpayers and for "small independent businesses," provided the budget is balanced and the national debt has been "gradually" reduced.

Well, a surplus of almost $1.8 billion was achieved last fiscal year. If to that is to be added $2 billion or more this fiscal year, (1) the budget will be more than balanced, (2) the debt will be reduced, and (3) hip, hip!, taxes can be cut.

Recent administration estimates of the national finances have proved conservative. As late as last January the President figured in his budget message that last fiscal year would end with a surplus of only $230 million.

On June 30 the surplus proved to be much larger because the level of general economic activity was higher than almost anybody had dared hope. This meant in turn that federal tax receipts were well above the original estimates. The President said in January that a tax cut would be "justified" only when some reduction, "even though modest," was being made in the debt. His position then is substantially the position of the Republican platform now.

How To Save Money

I was reading a circular of an American-Canadian investment fund which are proliferating like rabbits, when I came across this paragraph relating to the primary objective for the fund:

"To operate in such a way that the shareholders will incur only minimum taxes and the fund will incur no United States tax liability and only relatively small tax liability to Canada and other countries."

It has been suggested to me that there is nothing wrong in thinking up a gimmick to save money on taxes. Of course, there is nothing morally or legally wrong with that, except that when the rest of us have to carry a heavy load because we earn wages, we are not excited about those who are able to shift the load from themselves to us. If a tax is to be socially right, it should be equally collected. If those who possess reservoirs of capital can shift their funds to Canada or Liberia or Panama or wherever and thus avoid paying an equal tax with other citizens, it can only mean that the others have to pay more.

I do not mention the name of this particular fund, first, because I am not advertising it for prospective investors and secondly because there are many such funds and they are all pretty much alike. I have its brochure before me and this paragraph is particularly interesting:

"The Fund intends so to conduct its affairs that it will incur no tax liability to the United States, since it does not intend (1) to engage in trade or business in the United States within the meaning of the United States Internal Revenue Code, (2) to have a permanent establishment in the United States within the meaning of the tax treaty between the United States and Canada or (3) to have any income arising from sources within the United States which would be subject to United States taxes."

The Government of the United States has very little information on the movement of money in and out of the country. A statement prepared by M. Joseph Meehan, director, Office of Business Economics of the U. S. Department of Commerce, read before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security, contained these paragraphs which are a realistic appraisal of the situation:

"Our present sources of information on the acquisition and sale by foreigners of controlling interests in United States companies are incomplete. Withholding-tax records apply only to enterprises paying dividends to foreign residents.

"When purchases or sales are deliberately concealed, we would have no means to discover them. Moreover, even when we know that an enterprise is wholly or partially controlled by foreign interests our questionnaires are not always answered."

Walter Lederer, chief of the Balance of Payments Division of the Department of Commerce, estimated that the minimum foreign investment in American industry is $11,000,000,000. Chairman Armstrong of the SEC had put the figure at $26,000,000,000. These figures are not divergent; they represent the inclusion of different entities, but no matter what data one studies, the fact emerges that Canada and Switzerland are excellent tax sanctuaries for American money which can then come back into this country in the form of Canadian, Swiss or other national investments and avoid the payment of taxes.

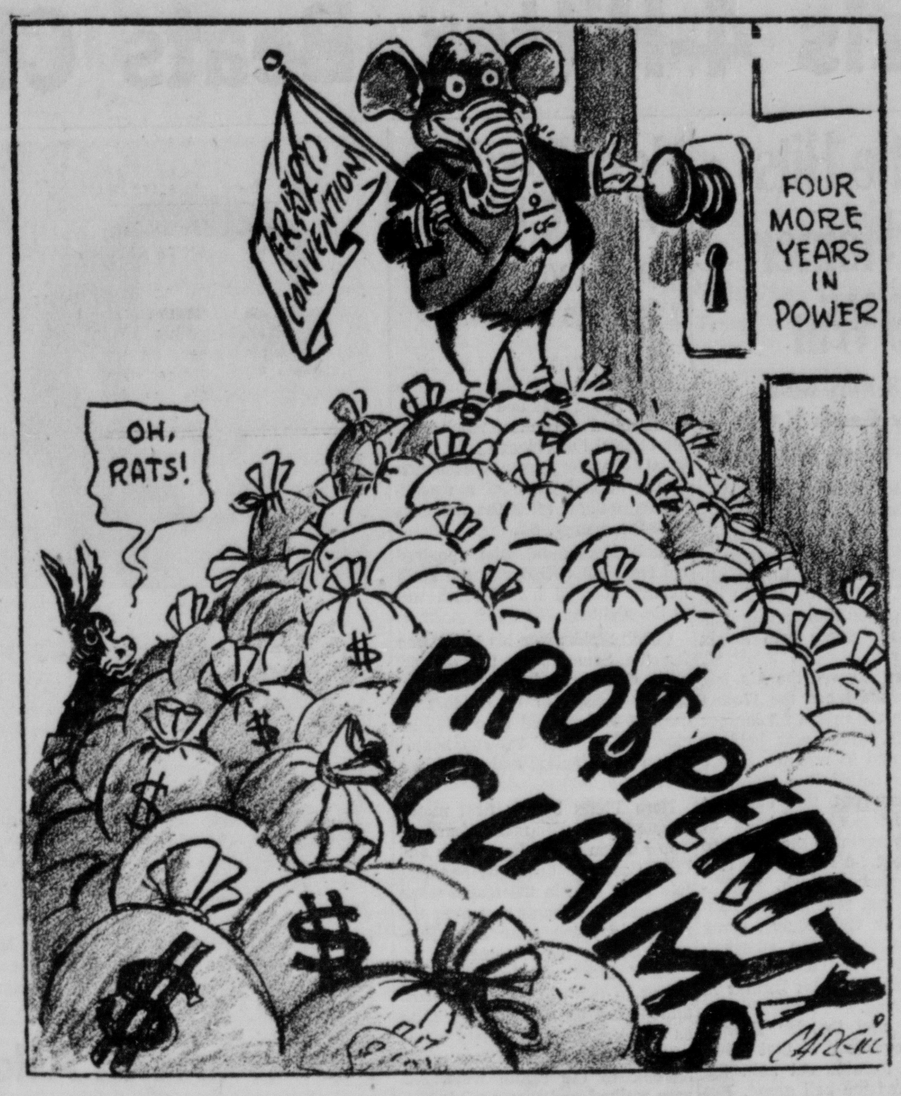

And, so far as anyone knows, it is done legitimately. In 1949, the value of Swiss-owned stock was $522,000,000; that is, American securities owned by Swiss nationals, usually Swiss banks representing anonymous accounts. By the end of 1954, this was increased to $1,353,000,000. It must be much greater now because the past year has witnessed enormous activities in this direction. As for Canada, the Canadian investment in American securities in 1949 amounted, according to Lederer, to $480,000,000; in 1954, to $910,000,000. These figures appear very low in 1956 but give the general trend sufficiently to indicate what it is.

Surely, there can be no objection to the investment of foreign funds in American industry if we know who owns the funds. The principal objection is to anonymous ownership, particularly of defense plants which could be a peril to the country. The Swiss investment is totally anonymous and could even represent foreign governments. The Canadian investment often represents American money operating through Canada to evade American taxes.

All this calls for getting at the facts, which are very difficult to obtain.

Nashville Publisher Persuaded Gore To Give Up Race For Vice President

By Drew Pearson

(Ed. Note—Today Drew Pearson concludes the thrilling inside story of the last day of the Chicago convention.)

WASHINGTON — As the Democratic Convention reached the climax of its exciting vote for vice president, Albert Gore, junior senator from Tennessee, watched the proceedings from the taproom behind the speaker's platform. He had his elbow on the bar, but he was not drinking.

Kefauver has always supported Gore, but Southern leaders, masterminded by Texas' Lyndon Johnson and Sam Rayburn, were out to block Kefauver by using Gore.

Earlier, Tennessee delegates had caucuses. John Heiskell of the old Crump machine, which Kefauver once licked, moved to support Gore to the bitter end. Former Lt. Gov. Pete Haynes argued that the delegation was instructed to support any Tennesseean who had a chance, therefore should switch to Kefauver if Gore's chances dwindled. His motion carried.

But as Kefauver managers pleaded with Gore, standing at the bar in the taproom, he refused to withdraw.

Clement Wavers

Martha Ragland, former committeewoman from Tennessee, came to urge his withdrawal. Gore declined. Senator Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, close friend of Sam Rayburn, came to urge Gore to stick. It was Monroney who helped persuade him into the race in the first place.

Heiskell and a group of Crump men came to demand that he stick to the bitter end; anything to stop Kefauver.

On the convention floor, Gore was rapidly losing votes. Lyndon Johnson phoned Governor Clement that Texas was switching from Gore to Kennedy. Kefauver's managers went to Clement, urged him to throw to Kefauver.

He was willing, he said, if Gore agreed. But he couldn't act without Gore's OK.

Over in the Oklahoma delegation, Senator Monroney urged Governor Gary to switch from Senator Humphrey to Kennedy. Gary refused. Other Oklahoma delegates recalled what the Bible belt had done to Al Smith in 1928. They recalled that Kennedy had voted with Benson on the farm bill.

Governor Clement sat under the Tennessee banner looking straight ahead. His jaws moved up and down. He was chewing gum, not tobacco.

In the private room where rivals Kefauver and Humphrey sat together, Kefauver pointed out that the switches were going to Kennedy not Humphrey, that his race was hopeless.

"I'll talk to Orville," Humphrey said, referring to Minnesota's Governor Orville Freeman. They whispered briefly, then Humphrey turned to two aides.

"Go out on the floor," he said, "and switch our delegates to Kefauver."

Stevenson Congratulates

Over in the Stock Yards Inn, Adlai Stevenson's son, John Fell, slipped into Kennedy's room to congratulate him. Kennedy had put on his pants, but not his shoes. He lay on the bed.

"Wait a bit. I'm not in yet, but thanks anyway," he told young Stevenson.

A phone call came from Stevenson's chief lieutenant, Bill Blair. "Just act naturally," he said, "we have no special instructions for you."

"I'm not in yet," Kennedy repeated.

As Kennedy's votes rolled up, a cordon of Chicago police arrived. They had come, they said, to escort him to the platform.

Over in the convention tap room, Silliman Evans Jr., publisher of the powerful Nashville Tennesseean, finally cornered young Senator Gore, told him the facts of loyalty and of life. If you don't support your fellow Tennesseean, he warned bluntly, you can never expect to be re-elected in 1958. Col. Roberts phoned that Oklahoma was switching to Kefauver.

This tipped the scales. Gore threw in the sponge. But, though he announced his withdrawal from the race, Tennessee could not get recognition.

Gov. Clement waved the Tennessee standard, but Sam Rayburn ignored it. He know Kentucky was against Kefauver and recognized it. Kentucky didn't disappoint him. It switched its 30 votes to Kennedy.

Finally, Gov. Clement got recognition. Rayburn didn't know he was going to switch. Tennessee's 32 votes, said Clement, went to Estes Kefauver. Then Oklahoma switched. Maybelle Kennedy of Pawhuska, Okla., almost kissed Gov. Gary. Sen. Tom Hennings of Missouri switched 37 votes to Kefauver. It was all over.

Kennedy's Wet Eyes

"You're in!" announced Jiggs Donohue to Kefauver, whose campaign he had piloted.

"Let's wait awhile. There may be some corrections," Kefauver cautioned. Then he thanked Humphrey for his help. The two had been sitting together all during the exciting second ballot.

"I have lost," said Jack Kennedy at the Stock Yards Inn. His police cordon faded away.

He made his way to the platform without the police.

"I hope you'll make it unanimous," he said, speaking into the microphone. Then he stepped away.

"Go back and make a motion," Sam Rayburn whispered. "Make a motion."

Kennedy returned and made the motion, unanimously nominating Kefauver. Pulling back out of the limelight, his emotions finally got the better of him. The young senator slipped away.

Sam Rayburn asked for a unanimous vote. Only Virginia voted "No."

Jack Kennedy, now only 39 years old, has many years ahead of him. He can afford to wait. The votes he got from the South served to break down the bugaboo of religious prejudice. Some Democrats felt that Catholic delegates bloc-voted for Kennedy.

But while Irish members of the California delegation did present a vigorous united front, another Catholic, Mike Di Salle, of Italian descent, nominated Kefauver and swung the entire Ohio delegation to him. Maybe he remembered that Kennedy knifed Italian-American Foster Furcolo for the Senate.

After it was all over that night, Stevenson threw a big party. All the Democratic bigwigs were there. Suddenly someone looked around and noticed that the new vice presidential nominee had not been invited. An emissary was sent to Kefauver's room in the Blackstone. Estes and Nancy were sitting with their shoes off. They were too tired to come.

Big Political Question Relates To AFL-CIO Action

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—The major development in national politics today is related to the meeting of the executive council of the AFL-CIO which has been struggling lately with the question of whether to "endorse" Adlai Stevenson or to remain "neutral" in the presidential contest. At no time has it been considered feasible to approve the record of the Republican administration as this would meet with opposition from various union leaders.

Businessmen generally who have looked askance at the gradual turn of the Eisenhower administration toward the labor side will heave a sigh of relief if the executive council of the AFL-CIO shows its preference for the Democratic ticket because it will be clear proof to them—and they hope proof to Ike—that it doesn't pay any dividends at all to try to play ball with union labor in the realm of politics.

Middle Course Unsatisfactory

There has been a genuine attempt on the part of the Eisenhower administration to take an objective view toward labor and management and to steer a course in the middle. This, however, hasn't satisfied the labor leaders who want the administration to come all the way and become a partisan of the unions just as FDR and Harry Truman did. There has been much nervousness among management men recently because of the fear that the present administration would, for political reasons, seek to play the same kind of game that the recent Democratic administrations did.

If, however, it becomes apparent that even the partiality shown on many issues toward the labor union side by the Eisenhower administration hasn't been appreciated and, in fact, that there is an open avowal of bias by the labor leaders in favor of the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket, the talk will be that the administration has wasted its time and energies and had better take the business side of the argument hereafter.

Labor leaders in the old days steered a neutral course. The late Samuel Gompers, head of the AFL, expressed his own preferences and leanings but was careful never to commit his big labor organization to any political party. In the congressional races, there often were as many Republicans as Democrats supported by the local labor organizations. Today the tendency of the national unions is to become a part of the national campaign and to collect money from union men for political organizations directly affiliated with the labor union movement.

Voluntary Contributions Okay

Although the Smith-Connally law passed during the last war, and, made it unlawful for labor unions to contribute money to political campaigns for federal offices—putting them on the same footing with corporations which for years had been prevented from financing political candidates—there have been ways developed to circumvent the purposes of the law. Thus, labor unions permit collectors to go through the factories to obtain supposedly voluntary contributions from workers. There have been charges, too, in Congress that money collected originally for dues or for union assessments has been used for political purposes.

There is no question about the active participation of what are called "political action committees" comprising officials or staff employes of the major labor organizations, and in recent years subsequently, the Taft-Hartley Act they have spent their time and money primarily to try to elect Democratic candidates for Congress and for the presidency. Official records have been published showing that many prominent members of the Senate and House had many thousands of dollars spent in their behalf by labor unions. If corporations or business organizations had contrived to spend equal sums there would have been quite a hue and cry about it.

There isn't any law to prevent the executive council of the AFL-CIO from endorsing any presidential or congressional candidates and making those facts known to its members. The only legal problem that arises is in connection with financial contributions.

Value Open To Question

While it is well known that an "endorsement" means a good deal politically to various candidates for Congress, it is open to question what value it has to a presidential candidate. Most labor union members vote as do other citizens—on the paramount issues—and divide as other folks do. But the promise of support or the threat of its withdrawal often influences legislative action and has affected executive action, too, in the past.

The Eisenhower administration has adopted the kind of course that ordinarily would mean an expression of neutrality by any labor council. But the ardent partisanship of so many labor leaders and their direct connection with the Democratic party makes it doubtful whether they now will refrain from active campaigning in behalf of the Democratic presidential ried thSETAOIN. . . . . AA ticket, no matter how vaguely worded the pronouncement this week from the executive council of the nation's biggest labor organization.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Remember a strange incident late in November 1952 when Mr. Truman invited Mr. Eisenhower to spend a night in the White House?

It was actually President Eisenhower and Harry had still two months to go. We always thought that Harry wanted to find if Ike would take in boarders.

We tried to break down the Truman capers at Chicago when Harry broke the rule of all good poker players. He knocked over his first stack of chips going after his second.

He played both ends against the middle like a fellow with a forkful of noodles. Was he trying again for a White House scholarship? Did he want to eat out and sleep in? If Harriman won would Harry get a latch key to the cookie jar?

Or did he use Harriman as a road block? I predicted Harry would accept the nomination if offered to him. I was a hundred per cent right. It wasn't offered to him.

So he wound up his ball of twine and did not notify the postmaster general of his change of address.

On The Line

By Bob Considine

SAN FRANCISCO — (INS) — Howard Street, the street that put the skid under Skid Row, has returned to normal. The bums are back. They had been rounded up and deposited in the city's jails while the Republicans were in town—to the mortification of the Republicans among them — but were released when the last GOP delegate departed.

They returned to their beloved West Coast Bowery to find favored doorways thoroughly renovated, busted settees repaired in the lobbies of their treasured old flea bags, and the jug wine tasting strangely aged. For most of them, the antiseptic jail life had been unnerving, perhaps even a bit degrading. This massive face lifting (something like it happened in Russia once, under a babe named Catherine) caused widespread inconvenience. The boys have to regrow whiskers and reacquire a taste for canned heat. In all probability, the whole move toward civic respectability has cost Ike the Howard Street votes.

Green To Blue

Harry Davidson, production manager of the S. F. Call-Bulletin, stared with interest but increasing alarm at the first few copies of an edition last week which carried a large color likeness of the President of the United States.

Eisenhower came out with green eyes.

Davidson called the St. Francis Hotel and got Jim Hagerty on the phone.

"What color eyes does the President have?" he asked.

There was a considerable pause before Jim answered, "Funny thing, I don't know. Wait a minute, I'll take a look."

He was gone for a minute or two. Then Davidson heard him pick up the phone again.

"Blue," Jim said.

The later editions of the Call-Bulletin show him with blue eyes.

Jim Kilgallen, the greatest, was assigned to cover Adlai Stevenson during the Democratic convention. In a memo he writes, "It's amazing what a presidential candidate must go through to win a nomination. Take Stevenson's day: up at 6:30 and hard at it until midnight or later. He held breakfast conferences with advisers, then dashed around Chicago's Loop from one hotel to another addressing caucuses of various state delegations. Back at his headquarters on the 23rd floor of the Conrad Hilton he'd grab a glass of milk and a sandwich and hold conferences with a never-ending flow of political bigwigs . . . In the cool of the evening he'd be rushed off to a reception or a cocktail party and—if he were lucky—he'd finally get a chance to have dinner. After dinner, more glad-handing and mixing with the politicos.

"The moment he stepped out of his car he was on his own, and what a buffeting about he took! He was catapulted into crowded elevators, plunged through corridor throngs that would stop a tank, and continually clawed at by well-wishers and autograph hunters. As soon as he got the nomination he was given adequate police protection. But not before. I think we should take better care of these candidates. Common sense dictates that we reduce as much as possible their chances of having every bone in their bodies broken as they go about the job of running for the nomination."

Democrat, Not Democratic

Earl E. T. Smith, prominent Florida Republican, has embarked on a one-man crusade to get people to stop calling the Democratic party the Democratic party. "It's the Democrat party," Smith said the other night. "It's time people stopped thinking of it as having a monopoly on Democracy. The Republican party is just as democratic as the so-called Democratic party. Let's start calling Democrats Democrats, not Democratic." See?

Family Love Pays Dividends In Children's Behavior

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Family love is our best defense against behavior problems in children. It is the foundation on which the emotional security of our progeny is built and is not emphasized enough in the prevention of delinquency. Yet it plays a more important role than many of the sociological factors usually blamed.

Tax Reduction When And If

Shortly before or soon after Labor Day the Budget Bureau is expected to announce new estimates of the Treasury surplus for the present year. President Eisenhower's estimate last January, in his budget message, was $435 million.

If the new estimate should be much higher, and one of the $2 billion or more is widely predicted, the 1956 Republican tax reduction plank will be especially pertinent. It pledges tax reduction, with especial consideration for low and middle income taxpayers and for "small independent businesses," provided the budget is balanced and the national debt has been "gradually" reduced.

Well, a surplus of almost $1.8 billion was achieved last fiscal year. If to that is to be added $2 billion or more this fiscal year, (1) the budget will be more than balanced, (2) the debt will be reduced, and (3) hip, hip!, taxes can be cut.

Recent administration estimates of the national finances have proved conservative. As late as last January the President figured in his budget message that last fiscal year would end with a surplus of only $230 million.

On June 30 the surplus proved to be much larger because the level of general economic activity was higher than almost anybody had dared hope. This meant in turn that federal tax receipts were well above the original estimates. The President said in January that a tax cut would be "justified" only when some reduction, "even though modest," was being made in the debt. His position then is substantially the position of the Republican platform now.

How To Save Money

I was reading a circular of an American-Canadian investment fund which are proliferating like rabbits, when I came across this paragraph relating to the primary objective for the fund:

"To operate in such a way that the shareholders will incur only minimum taxes and the fund will incur no United States tax liability and only relatively small tax liability to Canada and other countries."

It has been suggested to me that there is nothing wrong in thinking up a gimmick to save money on taxes. Of course, there is nothing morally or legally wrong with that, except that when the rest of us have to carry a heavy load because we earn wages, we are not excited about those who are able to shift the load from themselves to us. If a tax is to be socially right, it should be equally collected. If those who possess reservoirs of capital can shift their funds to Canada or Liberia or Panama or wherever and thus avoid paying an equal tax with other citizens, it can only mean that the others have to pay more.

I do not mention the name of this particular fund, first, because I am not advertising it for prospective investors and secondly because there are many such funds and they are all pretty much alike. I have its brochure before me and this paragraph is particularly interesting:

"The Fund intends so to conduct its affairs that it will incur no tax liability to the United States, since it does not intend (1) to engage in trade or business in the United States within the meaning of the United States Internal Revenue Code, (2) to have a permanent establishment in the United States within the meaning of the tax treaty between the United States and Canada or (3) to have any income arising from sources within the United States which would be subject to United States taxes."

The Government of the United States has very little information on the movement of money in and out of the country. A statement prepared by M. Joseph Meehan, director, Office of Business Economics of the U. S. Department of Commerce, read before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security, contained these paragraphs which are a realistic appraisal of the situation:

"Our present sources of information on the acquisition and sale by foreigners of controlling interests in United States companies are incomplete. Withholding-tax records apply only to enterprises paying dividends to foreign residents.

"When purchases or sales are deliberately concealed, we would have no means to discover them. Moreover, even when we know that an enterprise is wholly or partially controlled by foreign interests our questionnaires are not always answered."

Walter Lederer, chief of the Balance of Payments Division of the Department of Commerce, estimated that the minimum foreign investment in American industry is $11,000,000,000. Chairman Armstrong of the SEC had put the figure at $26,000,000,000. These figures are not divergent; they represent the inclusion of different entities, but no matter what data one studies, the fact emerges that Canada and Switzerland are excellent tax sanctuaries for American money which can then come back into this country in the form of Canadian, Swiss or other national investments and avoid the payment of taxes.

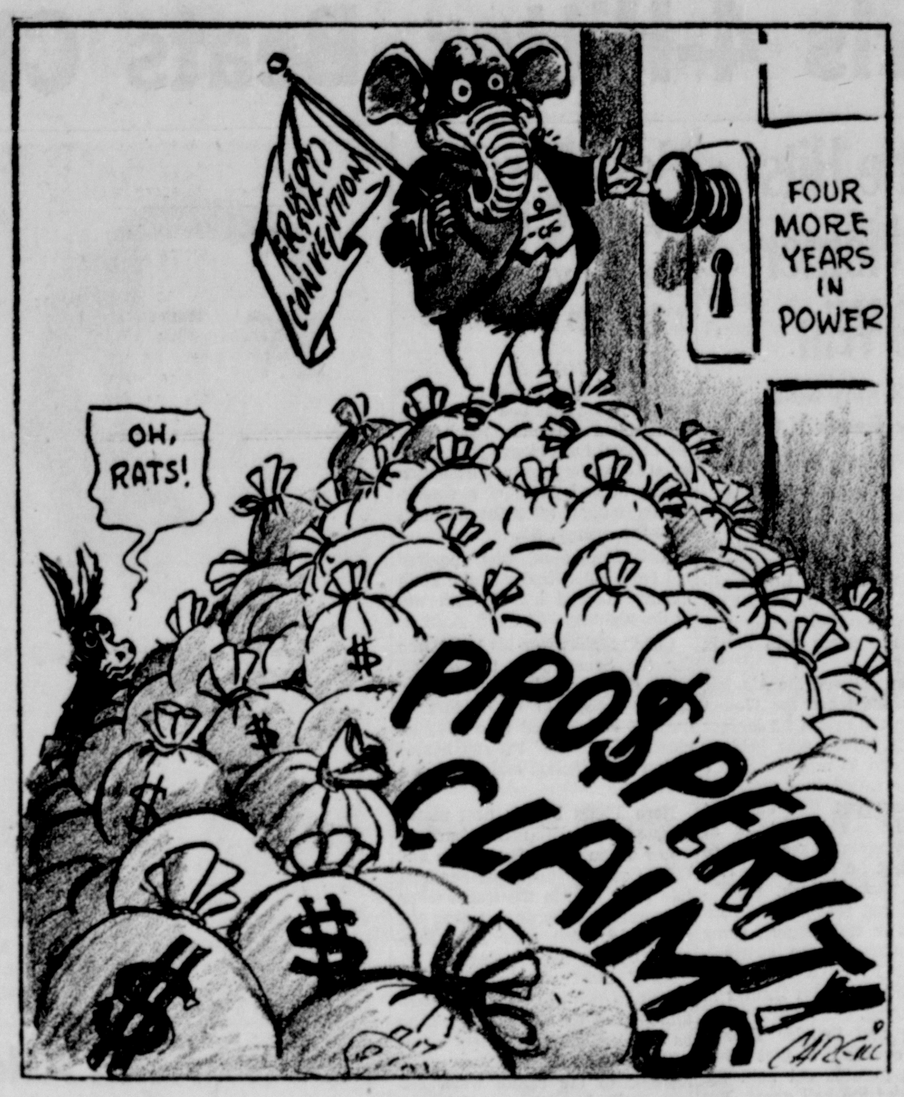

And, so far as anyone knows, it is done legitimately. In 1949, the value of Swiss-owned stock was $522,000,000; that is, American securities owned by Swiss nationals, usually Swiss banks representing anonymous accounts. By the end of 1954, this was increased to $1,353,000,000. It must be much greater now because the past year has witnessed enormous activities in this direction. As for Canada, the Canadian investment in American securities in 1949 amounted, according to Lederer, to $480,000,000; in 1954, to $910,000,000. These figures appear very low in 1956 but give the general trend sufficiently to indicate what it is.

Surely, there can be no objection to the investment of foreign funds in American industry if we know who owns the funds. The principal objection is to anonymous ownership, particularly of defense plants which could be a peril to the country. The Swiss investment is totally anonymous and could even represent foreign governments. The Canadian investment often represents American money operating through Canada to evade American taxes.

All this calls for getting at the facts, which are very difficult to obtain.

Big Political Question Relates To AFL-CIO Action

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—The major development in national politics today is related to the meeting of the executive council of the AFL-CIO which has been struggling lately with the question of whether to "endorse" Adlai Stevenson or to remain "neutral" in the presidential contest. At no time has it been considered feasible to approve the record of the Republican administration as this would meet with opposition from various union leaders.

Businessmen generally who have looked askance at the gradual turn of the Eisenhower administration toward the labor side will heave a sigh of relief if the executive council of the AFL-CIO shows its preference for the Democratic ticket because it will be clear proof to them—and they hope proof to Ike—that it doesn't pay any dividends at all to try to play ball with union labor in the realm of politics.

Middle Course Unsatisfactory

There has been a genuine attempt on the part of the Eisenhower administration to take an objective view toward labor and management and to steer a course in the middle. This, however, hasn't satisfied the labor leaders who want the administration to come all the way and become a partisan of the unions just as FDR and Harry Truman did. There has been much nervousness among management men recently because of the fear that the present administration would, for political reasons, seek to play the same kind of game that the recent Democratic administrations did.

If, however, it becomes apparent that even the partiality shown on many issues toward the labor union side by the Eisenhower administration hasn't been appreciated and, in fact, that there is an open avowal of bias by the labor leaders in favor of the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket, the talk will be that the administration has wasted its time and energies and had better take the business side of the argument hereafter.

Labor leaders in the old days steered a neutral course. The late Samuel Gompers, head of the AFL, expressed his own preferences and leanings but was careful never to commit his big labor organization to any political party. In the congressional races, there often were as many Republicans as Democrats supported by the local labor organizations. Today the tendency of the national unions is to become a part of the national campaign and to collect money from union men for political organizations directly affiliated with the labor union movement.

Voluntary Contributions Okay

Although the Smith-Connally law passed during the last war, and, subsequently, the Taft-Hartley Act made it unlawful for labor unions to contribute money to political campaigns for federal offices—putting them on the same footing with corporations which for years had been prevented from financing political candidates—there have been ways developed to circumvent the purposes of the law. Thus, labor unions permit collectors to go through the factories to obtain supposedly voluntary contributions from workers. There have been charges, too, in Congress that money collected originally for dues or for union assessments has been used for political purposes.

There is no question about the active participation of what are called "political action committees" comprising officials or staff employes of the major labor organizations, and in recent years they have spent their time and money primarily to try to elect Democratic candidates for Congress and for the presidency. Official records have been published showing that many prominent members of the Senate and House had many thousands of dollars spent in their behalf by labor unions. If corporations or business organizations had contrived to spend equal sums there would have been quite a hue and cry about it.

There isn't any law to prevent the executive council of the AFL-CIO from endorsing any presidential or congressional candidates and making those facts known to its members. The only legal problem that arises is in connection with financial contributions.

Value Open To Question

While it is well known that an "endorsement" means a good deal politically to various candidates for Congress, it is open to question what value it has to a presidential candidate. Most labor union members vote as do other citizens—on the paramount issues—and divide as other folks do. But the promise of support or the threat of its withdrawal often influences legislative action and has affected executive action, too, in the past.

The Eisenhower administration has adopted the kind of course that ordinarily would mean an expression of neutrality by any labor council. But the ardent partisanship of so many labor leaders and their direct connection with the Democratic party makes it doubtful whether they now will refrain from active campaigning in behalf of the Democratic presidential ried thSETAOIN . . . . . AA ticket, no matter how vaguely worded the pronouncement this week from the executive council of the nation's biggest labor organization.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Remember a strange incident late in November 1952 when Mr. Truman invited Mr. Eisenhower to spend a night in the White House?

It was actually President Eisenhower and Harry had still two months to go. We always thought that Harry wanted to find if Ike would take in boarders.

We tried to break down the Truman capers at Chicago when Harry broke the rule of all good poker players. He knocked over his first stack of chips going after his second.

He played both ends against the middle like a fellow with a forkful of noodles. Was he trying again for a White House scholarship? Did he want to eat out and sleep in? If Harriman won would Harry get a latch key to the cookie jar?

Or did he use Harriman as a road block? I predicted Harry would accept the nomination if offered to him. I was a hundred per cent right. It wasn't offered to him.

So he wound up his ball of twine and did not notify the postmaster general of his change of address.

Nashville Publisher Persuaded Gore To Give Up Race For Vice President

By Drew Pearson

(Ed. Note—Today Drew Pearson concludes the thrilling inside story of the last day of the Chicago convention.)

WASHINGTON — As the Democratic Convention reached the climax of its exciting vote for vice president, Albert Gore, junior senator from Tennessee, watched the proceedings from the taproom behind the speaker's platform. He had his elbow on the bar, but he was not drinking.

Kefauver has always supported Gore, but Southern leaders, masterminded by Texas' Lyndon Johnson and Sam Rayburn, were out to block Kefauver by using Gore.

Earlier, Tennessee delegates had caucuses. John Heiskell of the old Crump machine, which Kefauver once licked, moved to support Gore to the bitter end. Former Lt. Gov. Pete Haynes argued that the delegation was instructed to support any Tennesseean who had a chance, therefore should switch to Kefauver if Gore's chances dwindled. His motion carried.

But as Kefauver managers pleaded with Gore, standing at the bar in the taproom, he refused to withdraw.

Clement Wavers

Martha Ragland, former committeewoman from Tennessee, came to urge his withdrawal. Gore declined. Senator Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, close friend of Sam Rayburn, came to urge Gore to stick. It was Monroney who helped persuade him into the race in the first place.

Heiskell and a group of Crump men came to demand that he stick to the bitter end; anything to stop Kefauver.

On the convention floor, Gore was rapidly losing votes. Lyndon Johnson phoned Governor Clement that Texas was switching from Gore to Kennedy. Kefauver's managers went to Clement, urged him to throw to Kefauver.

He was willing, he said, if Gore agreed. But he couldn't act without Gore's OK.

Over in the Oklahoma delegation, Senator Monroney urged Governor Gary to switch from Senator Humphrey to Kennedy. Gary refused. Other Oklahoma delegates recalled what the Bible belt had done to Al Smith in 1928. They recalled that Kennedy had voted with Benson on the farm bill.

Governor Clement sat under the Tennessee banner looking straight ahead. His jaws moved up and down. He was chewing gum, not tobacco.

In the private room where rivals Kefauver and Humphrey sat together, Kefauver pointed out that the switches were going to Kennedy not Humphrey, that his race was hopeless.

"I'll talk to Orville," Humphrey said, referring to Minnesota's Governor Orville Freeman. They whispered briefly, then Humphrey turned to two aides.

"Go out on the floor," he said, "and switch our delegates to Kefauver."

Stevenson Congratulates

Over in the Stock Yards Inn, Adlai Stevenson's son, John Fell, slipped into Kennedy's room to congratulate him. Kennedy had put on his pants, but not his shoes. He lay on the bed.

"Wait a bit. I'm not in yet, but thanks anyway," he told young Stevenson.

A phone call came from Stevenson's chief lieutenant, Bill Blair. "Just act naturally," he said, "we have no special instructions for you."

"I'm not in yet," Kennedy repeated.

As Kennedy's votes rolled up, a cordon of Chicago police arrived. They had come, they said, to escort him to the platform.

Over in the convention tap room, Silliman Evans Jr., publisher of the powerful Nashville Tennesseean, finally cornered young Senator Gore, told him the facts of loyalty and of life. If you don't support your fellow Tennesseean, he warned bluntly, you can never expect to be re-elected in 1958. Col. Roberts phoned that Oklahoma was switching to Kefauver.

This tipped the scales. Gore threw in the sponge. But, though he announced his withdrawal from the race, Tennessee could not get recognition.

Gov. Clement waved the Tennessee standard, but Sam Rayburn ignored it. He know Kentucky was against Kefauver and recognized it. Kentucky didn't disappoint him. It switched its 30 votes to Kennedy.

Finally, Gov. Clement got recognition. Rayburn didn't know he was going to switch. Tennessee's 32 votes, said Clement, went to Estes Kefauver. Then Oklahoma switched. Maybelle Kennedy of Pawhuska, Okla., almost kissed Gov. Gary. Sen. Tom Hennings of Missouri switched 37 votes to Kefauver. It was all over.

Kennedy's Wet Eyes

"You're in!" announced Jiggs Donohue to Kefauver, whose campaign he had piloted.

"Let's wait awhile. There may be some corrections," Kefauver cautioned. Then he thanked Humphrey for his help. The two had been sitting together all during the exciting second ballot.

"I have lost," said Jack Kennedy at the Stock Yards Inn. His police cordon faded away.

He made his way to the platform without the police.

"I hope you'll make it unanimous," he said, speaking into the microphone. Then he stepped away.

"Go back and make a motion," Sam Rayburn whispered. "Make a motion."

Kennedy returned and made the motion, unanimously nominating Kefauver. Pulling back out of the limelight, his emotions finally got the better of him. The young senator slipped away.

Jack Kennedy, now only 39 years old, has many years ahead of him. He can afford to wait. The votes he got from the South served to break down the bugaboo of religious prejudice. Some Democrats felt that Catholic delegates bloc-voted for Kennedy.

But while Irish members of the California delegation did present a vigorous united front, another Catholic, Mike Di Salle, of Italian descent, nominated Kefauver and swung the entire Ohio delegation to him. Maybe he remembered that Kennedy knifed Italian-American Foster Furcolo for the Senate.

After it was all over that night, Stevenson threw a big party. All the Democratic bigwigs were there. Suddenly someone looked around and noticed that the new vice presidential nominee had not been invited. An emissary was sent to Kefauver's room in the Blackstone. Estes and Nancy were sitting with their shoes off. They were too tired to come.

On The Line

By Bob Considine

SAN FRANCISCO — (INS) — Howard Street, the street that put the skid under Skid Row, has returned to normal. The bums are back. They had been rounded up and deposited in the city's jails while the Republicans were in town—to the mortification of the Republicans among them — but were released when the last GOP delegate departed.

They returned to their beloved West Coast Bowery to find favored doorways thoroughly renovated, busted settees repaired in the lobbies of their treasured old flea bags, and the jug wine tasting strangely aged. For most of them, the antiseptic jail life had been unnerving, perhaps even a bit degrading. This massive face lifting (something like it happened in Russia once, under a babe named Catherine) caused widespread inconvenience. The boys have to regrow whiskers and reacquire a taste for canned heat. In all probability, the whole move toward civic respectability has cost Ike the Howard Street votes.

Green To Blue

Harry Davidson, production manager of the S. F. Call-Bulletin, stared with interest but increasing alarm at the first few copies of an edition last week which carried a large color likeness of the President of the United States.

Eisenhower came out with green eyes.

Davidson called the St. Francis Hotel and got Jim Hagerty on the phone.

"What color eyes does the President have?" he asked.

There was a considerable pause before Jim answered. "Funny thing, I don't know. Wait a minute, I'll take a look."

He was gone for a minute or two. Then Davidson heard him pick up the phone again.

"Blue," Jim said.

The later editions of the Call-Bulletin show him with blue eyes.

Jim Kilgallen, the greatest, was assigned to cover Adlai Stevenson during the Democratic convention. In a memo he writes, "It's amazing what a presidential candidate must go through to win a nomination. Take Stevenson's day: up at 6:30 and hard at it until midnight or later. He held breakfast conferences with advisers, then dashed around Chicago's Loop from one hotel to another addressing caucuses of various state delegations. Back at his headquarters on the 23rd floor of the Conrad Hilton he'd grab a glass of milk and a sandwich and hold conferences with a never-ending flow of political bigwigs . . . In the cool of the evening he'd be rushed off to a reception or a cocktail party and—if he were lucky—he'd finally get a chance to have dinner. After dinner, more glad-handing and mixing with the politicos.

"The moment he stepped out of his car he was on his own, and what a buffeting about he took! He was catapulted into crowded elevators, plunged through corridor throngs that would stop a tank, and continually clawed at by well-wishers and autograph hunters. As soon as he got the nomination he was given adequate police protection. But not before. I think we should take better care of these candidates. Common sense dictates that we reduce as much as possible their chances of having every bone in their bodies broken as they go about the job of running for the nomination."

Democrat, Not Democratic

Earl E. T. Smith, prominent Florida Republican, has embarked on a one-man crusade to get people to stop calling the Democratic party the Democratic party. "It's the Democrat party," Smith said the other night. "It's time people stopped thinking of it as having a monopoly on Democracy. The Republican party is just as democratic as the so-called Democratic party. Let's start calling Democrats Democrats, not Democratic." See?

Family Love Pays Dividends In Children's Behavior

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Family love is our best defense against behavior problems in children. It is the foundation on which the emotional security of our progeny is built and is not emphasized enough in the prevention of delinquency. Yet it plays a more important role than many of the sociological factors usually blamed.

Orioles' Ray Moore Hurls 4-Hitter, Beats Cleveland 1-0

Bob Nieman's Double Scores Run In First

Tribe Fails To Get Man Past First Base; Hank Aguirre Loser

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28 (AP) — Ray Moore shut out Cleveland on four singles tonight and didn't allow a man to get past first base as the Baltimore Orioles beat the Indians 1-0 on a first inning single by Bob Boyd and a double by Bob Nieman.

The ace righthander, winningest pitcher on the Orioles' mound staff, gained his 11th victory compared to six defeats while striking out six and walking only one.

Hank Aguirre was almost as effective for the Indians but the lefty helped bring about his own downfall by balking twice in the initial inning.

After Boyd had singled, Aguirre balked him to second. George Kell flied out, and Boyd raced home with the only run when Nieman bounced a double over the third base bag.

Aguirre allowed only four hits in seven innings. He gave way for a pinch hitter in the eighth, and Herb Score retired the Orioles without a hit in the eighth.

By C. V. BURNS

GREG JOHNSON, publicist and chartmaker at Fairgo in bygone days, referred to the Cumberland Fair Association's half mile track as a "horse player's paradise" because over the years the average of winning favorites has been high.

This should be of particular interest in view of the fact that Cumberland's first 12-day meeting opens just two weeks from today.

Last year, for instance, 47 per cent of the top choices came home first. Out of the 80 thoroughbreds that went postward as favorites 38 finished on top.

This year there will be a total of 96 races on tap at Fairgo because of the addition of two days.

The record high for winning favorites was in 1947 when the average hit 48 per cent for 10 days. John Turner Jr., now an official at Monmouth Park, N. J., was the racing secretary and handicapper that year. Four times the average has hit 47 per cent and twice in the last two years under Racing Secretary J. Fred Colwill. Racing experts will tell you that 33 per cent is a good average for any track.

Going back to the five-day meets at Fairgo when Edward J. Brennan, now an executive at Monmouth Park, was secretary Cumberland had a 60 per cent average in 1930. Twenty-four out of 40 top choices won that year and that's just about tops. In 1928 the average here for five days was 51 per cent and that's not bad either.

| | Pct. | | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1926 | 40 | 1931 | 34 |
| 1927 | 38 | 1932 | 40 |
| 1928 | 51 | 1933 | 40 |
| 1929 | 43 | 1934 | 40 |
| 1930 | 60 | | |

TEN-DAY MEETS

| | Pct. | | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1935 | 47 | 1946 | 31 |
| 1936 | 37 | 1947 | 48 |
| 1937 | 31 | 1948 | 43 |
| 1938 | 31 | 1949 | 40 |
| 1939 | 35 | 1950 | 37 |
| 1940 | 45 | 1951 | 29 |
| 1941 | 34 | 1952 | 47 |
| 1942 | 37 | 1953 | 36 |
| 1943 | 42 | 1954 | 31 |
| 1944 | 39 | 1955 | 47 |
| 1945 | 47 | | |

HAGERSTOWN'S mutuel handle for the first 10 days of the 12-day meet which ended yesterday was $3,422,021 and that was 12 per cent below the record year of 1953 when $3,899,779 was wagered in the Hub City. It also was 6 per cent off the 1954 total of $3,644,548, Hagerstown's second best 10-day session.

Cumberland's best 10-day mark is $3,078,127, established in 1946.

BELLE'S BABY is now somewhat of a champion on the minor racing circuit.

The 5-year-old mare, owned and trained by Edward L. Miller of Martinsburg, captured her 7th race in 10 starts the other day in Hagerstown. She ran the five furlongs in 1:05 4/5, fastest time of the meeting.

Belle's Baby, incidentally, is an offspring of Belle Moose, 9-year-old mare that dropped dead on the Fairgo track in front of the grandstand after winning a race in 1952.

Miller also owned Belle Moose whose final resting place is near the cow barns at the local track.

PAW PAW High School loses not only a good coach but one of the best publicity men in the school's history with the resignation of Bob Wolford who has accepted a position at Hancock High School in his home town.

Win or lose, Wolford never let us down in baseball and basketball during the time he coached at Paw Paw.

Wolford played and reported independent basketball and baseball and reported the results of these games in addition to "covering" the high school sports.

Here's wishing Bob success in his new job.

ATTENTION Fort Hill and Allegany:

"Dick Kelly, Hagerstown sports writer, says Mel Henry hasn't come up with an undefeated football team at Hagerstown since taking over the reins in 1949.

"But it could easily come about this fall if the Hubs can get by their September 14 opener in York against William Penn High School," Kelly adds.

How about that?

DISCUSSING radio broadcasting, Waite Hoyt, former major league pitching star who airs games out of Cincinnati, says:

"Keep it simple. Don't be extravagant with praise or phrase. There are too few broadcasters, not knowing baseball too well, who use slang expression to identify themselves with the game. The silly part of it is the higher you go in baseball echelon, the less slang is used."

FRED COLWILL, racing secretary for the Cumberland Fair Association, really gets around.

He also holds the same position at Pimlico, Bel Air and Marlboro, is placing judge in Hagerstown and steward at Bowie, Thistledown, Waterford and Wheeling.

Have we missed any?

DON RIZZO, heralded as one of the greatest athletes in the history of New Dorp High School, Staten Island, N. Y., and a triple threat single wing operative for Coach Sal Somma's grid teams, has been awarded a football scholarship at the University of Tennessee.

Calhoun, Webb Fight Tonight

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP) — Rory Calhoun of New York puts his unblemished middleweight record on the line tomorrow night against Spider Webb of Chicago in a 10-round bout.

Calhoun will be aiming for his 24th straight victory in the nationally televised (ABC, 9 p. m. EST) fight at Chicago Stadium.

Webb, 24, is a former national collegiate champion from Idaho State who is on the way up in the 160-pound ranks after serving an Army hitch.

Don Newcombe, the first 20-game winner of the season, is a better pitcher on the road than at home. This year he has won 11 and lost 2 away from home.

Mantle Hits 45th Homer In 4-0 Win

Gets 3-Run Blast, Turley Beats K.C. In 6-Inning Game

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Mickey Mantle walloped his 45th home run of the season tonight, a three-run blast that put him three-fourths of the way toward Babe Ruth's all-time record, as the New York Yankees defeated the Kansas City Athletics 4-0 in a game held to six innings by rain.

Bob Turley allowed the A's just two singles and faced the 17-man minimum in the first 5 2-3 innings of the game, which was held up for 1 hour and 55 minutes before the umpires called it a night.

The victory put the Yankees' American League lead back at eight games again as second-place Cleveland lost 1-0 at Baltimore.

Mantle's shot, a high, wind-blown sock that reached the Yankee bullpen in right-center, came on a 3-1 pitch as the switch-hitting Mick batted left-handed against righthander Art Ditmar in the third inning.

Lightning and thunder flashed and rolled overhead at that point, threatening to wipe out both the home run and the ball game. But after 44 minutes were consumed in completing the first three innings, the next 1½ frames, making it an official contest, were clocked off in 16 minutes.

The homer was Mantle's 11th in August, compared to the nine Ruth hit for the month while slugging his 60 in 1927, and put the young challenger five games ahead of the Babe's record pace. Ruth, however, hit both his 45th and 46th in the Yankees' 132nd game. The pair came in the midst of a six-homers-in-seven-games surge that triggered his 17-home run total for September.

Turley, winning his eighth in 11 decisions, gave up leadoff singles to Vic Power in the fourth and Hec Lopez in the sixth. Both were knocked off in follow-up double-plays.

Pepper Joins Stars

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28 (AP) — Pitcher Laurin Pepper, newly acquired by the Hollywood Stars from Pittsburgh, came up with an ulcerated eye today and will be out of action for a week or more.

Pepper, with a 2-1 record here, may miss one of the four double headers Hollywood has coming up within the next week. The club said he was the 27th major casualty this season.

Nats Divide With Chisox

Stobbs Victor, 6-2, Sox Bag Second, 5-3

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP) — Dave Philley and Minnie Minoso clouted home runs and Ron Northey supplied a two-run pinch double to lead the Chicago White Sox to a 5-3 victory over Washington in the second game of a doubleheader tonight after the Senators took the opener, 6-2.

Jack Harshman, who required aid from Ellis Kinder in the ninth inning, notched his eleventh win in the nightcap.

Chuck Stobbs won his 13th game for the Senators in the opener, more than he had won previously in any season in the minors or majors. He allowed nine hits, including Les Moss' two-run homer in the sixth inning, and struck out seven.

Herb Plews hit his first major league homer with none aboard off Bob Keegan in the first game and Clint Courtney lifted the Senators into a 4-0 lead in the fourth when he rammed a home run over the right-field fence after Pete Runnels and Roy Sievers singled.

Moss' blast whittled Chicago's deficit to two runs, but the Senators picked up a run in the sixth on Joe Valdivielso's infield single with the bases loaded. They added another in the eighth when Sievers walked and Plews tripled.

Gov. Marland Asks Opinion On Race Probe

Charles Town Urged To Increase Purses

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 28 (AP)—The Racing Commission has asked for an attorney general's opinion on its powers to probe into the internal affairs of race tracks, Gov. William C. Marland said today.

Marland told his weekly news conference that earlier in the day he conferred with representatives of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Assn..

The association asked the governor to see what he could do to increase the size of purses at the Charles Town Race Track. They complained, Marland said, that Charles Town purses averaged only 3.01 per cent of the track's pari-mutuel "take," in contrast to the legal requirement of 4 per cent.

They also told the governor that, in comparison, the national average for purses is 4.47 per cent of the pari-mutuel intake.

"Apparently, they had a misunderstanding," Marland said of the association's visit. "They need an attorney general's opinion on the section of the racing law dealing with a track's internal affairs."

Orioles' Ray Moore Hurls 4-Hitter, Beats Cleveland 1-0

Tribe Fails To Get Man Past First Base; Hank Aguirre Loser

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28 (AP) — Ray Moore shut out Cleveland on four singles tonight and didn't allow a man to get past first base as the Baltimore Orioles beat the Indians 1-0 on a first inning single by Bob Boyd and a double by Bob Nieman.

The ace righthander, winningest pitcher on the Orioles' mound staff, gained his 11th victory compared to six defeats while striking out six and walking only one.

Hank Aguirre was almost as effective for the Indians but the lefty helped bring about his own downfall by balking twice in the initial inning.

After Boyd had singled, Aguirre balked him to second. George Kell flied out, and Boyd raced home with the only run when Nieman bounced a double over the third base bag.

Aguirre allowed only four hits in seven innings. He gave way for a pinch hitter in the eighth, and Herb Score retired the Orioles without a hit in the eighth.

GREG JOHNSON, publicist and chartmaker at Fairgo in bygone days, referred to the Cumberland Fair Association's half mile track as a "horse player's paradise" because over the years the average of winning favorites has been high.

This should be of particular interest in view of the fact that Cumberland's first 12-day meeting opens just two weeks from today.

Last year, for instance, 47 per cent of the top choices came home first. Out of the 80 thoroughbreds that went postward as favorites 38 finished on top.

This year there will be a total of 96 races on tap at Fairgo because of the addition of two days.

The record high for winning favorites was in 1947 when the average hit 48 per cent for 10 days. John Turner Jr., now an official at Monmouth Park, N. J., was the racing secretary and handicapper that year. Four times the average has hit 47 per cent and twice in the last two years under Racing Secretary J. Fred Colwill. Racing experts will tell you that 33 per cent is a good average for any track.

Going back to the five-day meets at Fairgo when Edward J. Brennan, now an executive at Monmouth Park, was secretary Cumberland had a 60 per cent average in 1930. Twenty-four out of 40 top choices won that year and that's just about tops. In 1928 the average here for five days was 51 per cent and that's not bad either.

| FIVE-DAY MEETS | Pct. | | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1926 | 40 | 1931 | 34 |
| 1927 | 38 | 1932 | 40 |
| 1928 | 51 | 1933 | 40 |
| 1929 | 43 | 1934 | 40 |
| 1930 | 60 | | |

| TEN-DAY MEETS | Pct. | | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1935 | 47 | 1946 | 31 |
| 1936 | 37 | 1947 | 48 |
| 1937 | 31 | 1948 | 43 |
| 1938 | 31 | 1949 | 40 |
| 1939 | 35 | 1950 | 37 |
| 1940 | 45 | 1951 | 29 |
| 1941 | 34 | 1952 | 47 |
| 1942 | 37 | 1953 | 36 |
| 1943 | 42 | 1954 | 31 |
| 1944 | 39 | 1955 | 47 |
| 1945 | 47 | | |

HAGERSTOWN'S mutuel handle for the first 10 days of the 12-day meet which ended yesterday was $3,422,021 and that was 12 per cent below the record year of 1953 when $3,899,779 was wagered in the Hub City. It also was 6 per cent off the 1954 total of $3,644,548, Hagerstown's second best 10-day session.

Cumberland's best 10-day mark is $3,078,127, established in 1946.

BELLE'S BABY is now somewhat of a champion on the minor racing circuit.

The 5-year-old mare, owned and trained by Edward L. Miller of Martinsburg, captured her 7th race in 10 starts the other day in Hagerstown. She ran the five furlongs in 1:05 4/5, fastest time of the meeting.

Belle's Baby, incidentally, is an offspring of Belle Moose, 9-year-old mare that dropped dead on the Fairgo track in front of the grandstand after winning a race in 1952.

Miller also owned Belle Moose whose final resting place is near the cow barns at the local track.

PAW PAW High School loses not only a good coach but one of the best publicity men in the school's history with the resignation of Bob Wolford who has accepted a position at Hancock High School in his home town.

Win or lose, Wolford never let us down in baseball and basketball during the time he coached at Paw Paw.

Wolford played and reported independent basketball and baseball and reported the results of these games in addition to "covering" the high school sports.

Here's wishing Bob success in his new job.

ATTENTION Fort Hill and Allegany:

"Dick Kelly, Hagerstown sports writer, says Mel Henry hasn't come up with an undefeated football team at Hagerstown since taking over the reins in 1949.

"But it could easily come about this fall if the Hubs can get by their September 14 opener in York against William Penn High School," Kelly adds.

How about that?

DISCUSSING radio broadcasting. Waite Hoyt, former major league pitching star who airs games out of Cincinnati, says:

"Keep it simple. Don't be extravagant with praise or phrase. There are too few broadcasters, not knowing baseball too well, who use slang expression to identify themselves with the game. The silly part of it is the higher you go in baseball echelon, the less slang is used."

FRED COLWILL, racing secretary for the Cumberland Fair Association, really gets around.

He also holds the same position at Pimlico, Bel Air and Marlboro, is placing judge in Hagerstown and steward at Bowie, Thistledown, Waterford and Wheeling.

Have we missed any?

DON RIZZO, heralded as one of the greatest athletes in the history of New Dorp High School, Staten Island, N. Y., and a triple threat single wing operative for Coach Sal Somma's grid teams, has been awarded a football scholarship at the University of Tennessee.

Coach Somma is a native of Ridgeley, W. Va., and has turned out many outstanding gridders at the Staten Island school.

Calhoun, Webb Fight Tonight

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP) — Rory Calhoun of New York puts his unblemished middleweight record on the line tomorrow night against Spider Webb of Chicago in a 10-round bout.

Calhoun will be aiming for his 24th straight victory in the nationally televised (ABC, 9 p. m. EST) fight at Chicago Stadium.

Webb, 24, is a former national collegiate champion from Idaho State who is on the way up in the 160-pound ranks after serving an Army hitch.

Don Newcombe, the first 20-game winner of the season, is a better pitcher on the road than at home. This year he has won 11 and lost 2 away from home.

Mantle Hits 45th Homer In 4-0 Win

Gets 3-Run Blast, Turley Beats K.C. In 6-Inning Game

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Mickey Mantle walloped his 45th home run of the season tonight, a three-run blast that put him three-fourths of the way toward Babe Ruth's all-time record, as the New York Yankees defeated the Kansas City Athletics 4-0 in a game held to six innings by rain.

Bob Turley allowed the A's just two singles and faced the 17-man minimum in the first 5 2-3 innings of the game, which was held up for 1 hour and 55 minutes before the umpires called it a night.

The victory put the Yankees' American League lead back at eight games again as second-place Cleveland lost 1-0 at Baltimore.

Mantle's shot, a high, wind-blown sock that reached the Yankee bullpen in right-center, came on a 3-1 pitch as the switch-hitting Mick batted left-handed against righthander Art Ditmar in the third inning.

Lightning and thunder flashed and rolled overhead at that point, threatening to wipe out both the home run and the ball game. But after 44 minutes were consumed in completing the first three innings, the next 1½ frames, making it an official contest, were clocked off in 16 minutes.

The homer was Mantle's 11th in August, compared to the nine Ruth hit for the month while slugging his 60 in 1927, and put the young challenger five games ahead of the Babe's record pace. Ruth, however, hit both his 45th and 46th in the Yankees' 132nd game. The pair came in the midst of a six-homers-in-seven-games surge that triggered his 17-home run total for September.

Turley, winning his eighth in 11 decisions, gave up leadoff singles to Vic Power in the fourth and Hec Lopez in the sixth. Both were knocked off in follow-up double-plays.

Pepper Joins Stars

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28 (AP) — Pitcher Laurin Pepper, newly acquired by the Hollywood Stars from Pittsburgh, came up with an ulcerated eye today and will be out of action for a week or more.

Pepper, with a 2-1 record here, may miss one of the four double headers Hollywood has coming up within the next week. The club said he was the 27th major casualty this season.

Nats Divide With Chisox

Stobbs Victor, 6-2, Sox Bag Second, 5-3

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP) — Dave Philley and Minnie Minoso clouted home runs and Ron Northey supplied a two-run pinch double to lead the Chicago White Sox to a 5-3 victory over Washington in the second game of a doubleheader tonight after the Senators took the opener, 6-2.

Jack Harshman, who required aid from Ellis Kinder in the ninth inning, notched his eleventh win in the nightcap.

Chuck Stobbs won his 13th game for the Senators in the opener, more than he had won previously in any season in the minors or majors. He allowed nine hits, including Les Moss' two-run homer in the sixth inning, and struck out seven.

Herb Plews hit his first major league homer with none aboard off Bob Keegan in the first game and Clint Courtney lifted the Senators into a 4-0 lead in the fourth when he rammed a home run over the right-field fence after Pete Runnels and Roy Sievers singled.

Moss' blast whittled Chicago's deficit to two runs, but the Senators picked up a run in the sixth on Joe Valdivielso's infield single with the bases loaded. They added another in the eighth when Sievers walked and Plews tripled.

Gov. Marland Asks Opinion On Race Probe

Charles Town Urged To Increase Purses

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 28 (AP)—The Racing Commission has asked for an attorney general's opinion on its powers to probe into the internal affairs of race tracks, Gov. William C. Marland said today.

Marland told his weekly news conference that earlier in the day he conferred with representatives of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Assn.

The association asked the governor to see what he could do to increase the size of purses at the Charles Town Race Track. They complained, Marland said, that Charles Town purses averaged only 3.01 per cent of the track's pari-mutuel "take," in contrast to the legal requirement of 4 per cent.

They also told the governor that, in comparison, the national average for purses is 4.47 per cent of the pari-mutuel intake.

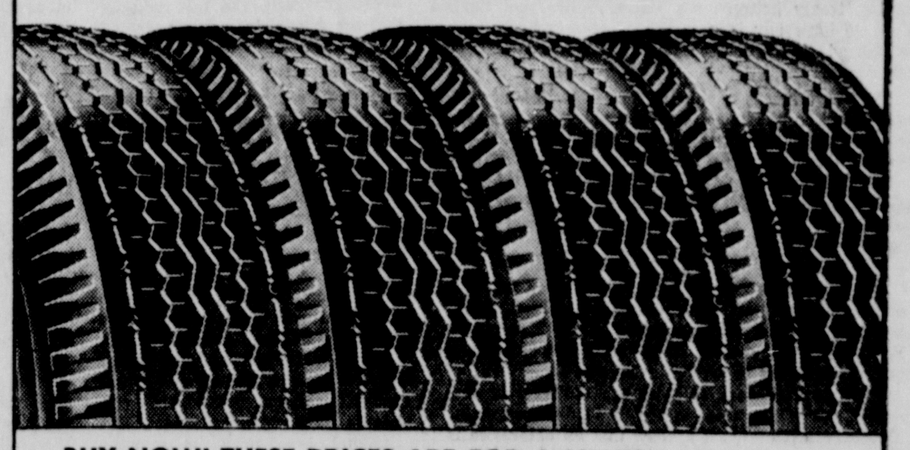

"Apparently, they had a misunderstanding," Marland said of the association's visit. "They need an attorney general's opinion on the section of the racing law dealing with a track's internal affairs."

Giants Pay $50,000 Bonus To 18-Year-Old Southpaw

Mike McCormick Is Signed By Scout "Dutch" Ruether

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28 (AP)—The New York Giants today announced the signing of an 18-year-old southpaw pitching plum, Mike Francis McCormick, as a bonus player for a figure reputed to be $50,000 or more.

Possessor of a remarkable record in high school and American Legion junior baseball, including five no-hit performances, the youngster, a good looking 195-pounder, was signed by the Giants' veteran scout, Walter (Dutch) Ruether. Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, personally backed the deal.

Giants Outbid Others

No one, including young Mike, would pinpoint the bonus money, but the Giants outbid every other major league club with the exception of Cincinnati, which did not get into the bidding.

McCormick, oddly enough, said he has no particular big league favorite. But he said he got the best offer from the Giants and he added he was pleased because he feels the club "is building" and he will get more of a chance to play than with one of the current pennant contenders. As a bonus player, he can't be farmed out for two years.

Signed by Ruether

McCormick, the son of Kenneth McCormick, refrigeration firm executive and onetime semipro player, was formally signed by Ruether in Bakersfield, Calif., where the elder McCormick recently moved from Alhambra, Calif.

But he made his fame at Mark Keppel High School in suburban Alhambra, and in Legion ball in southern California.

"He made quite an impression in New York and Mr. Stoneham told me to get the boy," Ruether confided.

In New York, in the Hearst newspapers sandlot tournament last week, McCormick pitched two innings and struck out all six batters.

His dad said Mike has good control, a fast ball, a knuckler and a fast breaking curve and he added he has been pointing his son to a baseball career most of his life.

Mike had a 20-0 record this spring in high school and an overall record of 34-4 as a prep pitcher. In Legion ball, over a 5-year span, his mark is 49-4.

Fanned 26 In Game

He registered three no-hit games in Legion play and two in high school. In one game he struck out 26 of 27 batters.

McCormick was a .378 batter and starred also in basketball.

Orioles Host Family Of 16

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28 (AP) — A Baltimore County family with 16 children will be guests of the Baltimore Orioles at tomorrow's family night baseball game.

The club's front-office spent a month trying to find the largest family in the Baltimore area, and finally came up with Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. McCarthy and family.

Mr. McCarthy and his wife live with nine of their children in Pikesville, northwest of Baltimore. They have been married 39 years. Mr. McCarthy has been a plumber for 40 years.

The children range in age from John Timothy, 38, to William, 13. Albert Lee, 36, is on active duty with the Air Force in Greenland and will not be able to make the ball game and family reunion.

James McLaughlin, head of the Oriole family organization, presented game tickets to the McCarthy family. With six children of his own, he has the largest family on the club's staff.

Colts Place Two On Waiver List

WESTMINSTER, Md., Aug. 28 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts today placed halfback Gene Hendrix and center Jack Taylor on waivers, reducing the roster to 49 players.

Coach Weeb Ewbank said Hendrix, from Drake University, and Taylor, from Austin College, Texas., both had the same failing—lack of speed for the pro game.

Ewbank still has a lot of cutting to do before the National Football League season opens Sept. 30. The Colts will be able to carry 34 players for the first two weeks of the season, then must drop down to the regular 33-player limit.

Dodgers Win Opening Tilt By Score 6-4

Don Newcombe Bags 21st; Second Game Stopped In Eighth

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—The last-place Chicago Cubs today scored twice in the seventh inning on Gene Baker's homer and a bases-loaded walk served by Ed Roebuck to defeat Brooklyn 4-3 in the second game of a doubleheader called after the top of the eighth because of darkness. The pennant-minded Dodgers took the opener 6-4.

Duke Snider, sidelined for the day with leg trouble, smashed a pinch-homer in the eighth inning of the second game, his 36th of the season, but reliefer Vito Valentinetti then got out Junior Gilliam and Pee Wee Reese in order to end the game.

Snap Losing Streak

The victory, snapping a Cub seven-game losing streak, was Valentinetti's sixth against three losses. Don Drysdale absorbed his fourth defeat against three triumphs.

The Dodgers went ahead on Randy Jackson's two-run homer in the second inning. The former Cub's blast was his seventh of the campaign and scored Charlie Neal, who had singled, ahead of him.

The Cubs cinched it in the seventh as dusk began to settle at Wrigley Field to thrill a crowd of 19,277. Baker's No. 11 homer with one out off of Drysdale touched if off.

Newcombe Wins 21st

In the first game, Don Newcombe, hurling the last 1 2-3 innings in relief, was credited with his 21st victory against 6 losses and boosted his season mark over the tailend Cubs to 5-1.

The Dodgers came from behind with a pair of unearned runs in the seventh to go ahead 3-2. Then they broke a 3-3 stalemate with three runs in the ninth, two of them on Carl Furillo's single.

Turk Lown, charged with his sixth loss after replacing bonus baby Moe Drabowsky in the eighth, was the victim of Brooklyn's three-run ninth. Lown has won seven.

Hagerstown Bets $4,087,891; Russo Rides 11 Winners

Hagerstown concluded its 12-day race meeting yesterday and a crowd of 6,141 wagered $333,476 to send the mutuel handle for the session over the four million dollar mark.

Betting for the first 12-day meeting at a minor oval in Maryland totaled $4,087,891. Attendance was 82,322.

Anthony "Tony" Russo, of Baltimore, was the leading rider with 11 winning mounts to his credit. Willie Clark and Freddie Green were tied for runner-up honors with 10 winners each. C. McKee had nine, T. McGovern eight and Joe Snyder seven.

Willie Clark, top rider on Maryland's minor tracks last season, was aboard the longest shot of the day, Forays Boy, which paid $41.40 in the first race. Clark also booted home Scepter, a $16 for $2 winner in the seventh.

Tenpin Loop Will Meet Here Tonight

Representatives of the twelve teams in the Allegany County Tenpin League will post their forfeit fees for the 1956-57 season at a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Cumberland Outdoor Club, 125 Frederick street.

Cagers in the Olympic Games will use an American basketball this year.

Shanty I Takes Speedboat Race

Wins Harmsworth Trophy At Detroit

DETROIT, Aug. 28 — (INS) — Shanty I, the U. S. speedboat entry, won the Harmsworth trophy race tonight on the Detroit river defeating Canadian challenger, Miss Supertest.

Owned by W. T. Waggoner of Phoenix, Ariz., and representing the Seattle Yacht Club, Shanty zipped across the finish line a full two minutes ahead of Miss Supertest.

The powerful west coast speedboat, piloted by 37-year-old Lt. Col. Russell Schlee, was a top-heavy favorite throughout the three heats.

However, last night Miss Supertest, manned by Bill Braden, 41, of Hamilton, Ont., won the second heat to tie the race when the U. S. entry stalled on a turn.

Previously the American craft averaged 94.772 miles per hour and the Canadian boat averaged 89.313 for the 35 nautical miles. The record for the seven-lap, five-mile course is 100.81 mph.

Judges said they expect the official time tonight will be much slower because of rough waters and high winds.

Frostburg Loop Meets

Officers, managers and parents of the Frostburg Little League will meet today at 8 p. m., at the Frostburg City Hall.

Five Leagues Set Playoff Games Today

Rain Halted Six Contests Tuesday

Rain yesterday stopped playoff contests in six baseball and softball leagues and plans were made last night to stage five of the contests today.

At Penn Avenue Field, the Athletics and Red Sox will clash in the opening game of their best-of-three Dapper Dan Little League final series at 6 p. m. In the second game at 8 p. m. the Times-News and B'nai B'rith will collide in the first game of their Hot Stove League series. The games will be played in the same order Thursday and also Friday, if necessary.

The third and deciding game of the Rocking Chair Softball League semi-final series between the Loyal Order of Moose and Fraternal Order of Eagles is rescheduled for today at 6 p. m. at Stitcher Field. The winner will play the Outdoor Club in the final series. Rain halted yesterday's game in the 4th inning with the score knotted at 2-2.

Potomac Valley's Old Germans and Melody Manor will tangle today at 6 p. m., at Barrelville in the second game of the County Softball League's final series. If rain washes out today's game the teams will clash Friday. The third and deciding game will be staged Friday if Melody Manor evens the series today. Melody Manor was leading 2-1 in the fifth inning yesterday when Jupiter Pluvius put in his appearance.

Tri-State Cleaners were leading Lytle's Sign Shop, 8-3, in the second inning when rain knocked out their Men's Rec Softball League playoff series opener yesterday at East Side. The teams will try again today at 6 p. m.

Cresaptown's Eagles jumped off to a 4-1 lead over the LaVale Orioles when rain stopped the opening game of the final playoff series yesterday in the Pen-Mar Little League. The teams will resume action Thursday at 6 p. m. at LaVale. The second game is billed for Tuesday at Cresaptown and if a third game is necessary the site will be determined by the flip of a coin.

Boggs Trophy Won By Mrs. Trevaskis

Mrs. Richard W. Trevaskis won the Carroll Boggs Trophy yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club by turning in a net score of 39-7—32 against the CCC professional's best nine of 34.

Thirty-two members of the Women's Golf Association participated in the tourney.

Win Via Forfeit

Ridgeley American Legion won via the forfeit route from the McCoole Vets when the latter failed to put in their appeaarnce for a Mineral County Softball League game yesterday at Ridgeley.

Patterson Creek will host Ridgeley on Thursday.

Mike McCormick Is Signed By Scout "Dutch" Ruether

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28 (AP)—The New York Giants today announced the signing of an 18-year-old southpaw pitching plum, Mike Francis McCormick, as a bonus player for a figure reputed to be $50,000 or more.

Possessor of a remarkable record in high school and American Legion junior baseball, including five no-hit performances, the youngster, a good looking 195-pounder, was signed by the Giants' veteran scout, Walter (Dutch) Ruether. Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, personally backed the deal.

Giants Outbid Others

No one, including young Mike, would pinpoint the bonus money, but the Giants outbid every other major league club with the exception of Cincinnati, which did not get into the bidding.

McCormick, oddly enough, said he has no particular big league favorite. But he said he got the best offer from the Giants and he added he was pleased because he feels the club "is building" and he will get more of a chance to play than with one of the current pennant contenders. As a bonus player, he can't be farmed out for two years.

Signed by Ruether

McCormick, the son of Kenneth McCormick, refrigeration firm executive and onetime semipro player, was formally signed by Ruether in Bakersfield, Calif., where the elder McCormick recently moved from Alhambra, Calif.

But he made his fame at Mark Keppel High School in suburban Alhambra, and in Legion ball in southern California.

"He made quite an impression in New York and Mr. Stoneham told me to get the boy," Ruether confided.

In New York, in the Hearst newspapers sandlot tournament last week, McCormick pitched two innings and struck out all six batters.

His dad said Mike has good control, a fast ball, a knuckler and a fast breaking curve and he added he has been pointing his son to a baseball career most of his life.

Mike had a 20-0 record this spring in high school and an overall record of 34-4 as a prep pitcher. In Legion ball, over a 5-year span, his mark is 49-4.

Fanned 26 In Game

He registered three no-hit games in Legion play and two in high school. In one game he struck out 26 of 27 batters.

McCormick was a .378 batter and starred also in basketball.

Orioles Host Family Of 16

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28 (AP) — A Baltimore County family with 16 children will be guests of the Baltimore Orioles at tomorrow's family night baseball game.

The club's front-office spent a month trying to find the largest family in the Baltimore area, and finally came up with Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. McCarthy and family.

Mr. McCarthy and his wife live with nine of their children in Pikesville, northwest of Baltimore. They have been married 39 years. Mr. McCarthy has been a plumber for 40 years.

The children range in age from John Timothy, 38, to William, 13. Albert Lee, 36, is on active duty with the Air Force in Greenland and will not be able to make the ball game and family reunion.

James McLaughlin, head of the Oriole family organization, presented game tickets to the McCarthy family. With six children of his own, he has the largest family on the club's staff.

Colts Place Two On Waiver List

WESTMINSTER, Md., Aug. 28 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts today placed halfback Gene Hendrix and center Jack Taylor on waivers, reducing the roster to 49 players.

Coach Weeb Ewbank said Hendrix, from Drake University, and Taylor, from Austin College, Texas., both had the same failing—lack of speed for the pro game.

Ewbank still has a lot of cutting to do before the National Football League season opens Sept. 30. The Colts will be able to carry 34 players for the first two weeks of the season, then must drop down to the regular 33-player limit.

Dodgers Win Opening Tilt By Score 6-4

Don Newcombe Bags 21st; Second Game Stopped In Eighth

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—The last-place Chicago Cubs today scored twice in the seventh inning on Gene Baker's homer and a bases-loaded walk served by Ed Roebuck to defeat Brooklyn 4-3 in the second game of a doubleheader called after the top of the eighth because of darkness. The pennant-minded Dodgers took the opener 6-4.

Duke Snider, sidelined for the day with leg trouble, smashed a pinch-homer in the eighth inning of the second game, his 36th of the season, but reliefer Vito Valentinetti then got out Junior Gilliam and Pee Wee Reese in order to end the game.

Snap Losing Streak

The victory, snapping a Cub seven-game losing streak, was Valentinetti's sixth against three losses. Don Drysdale absorbed his fourth defeat against three triumphs.

The Dodgers went ahead on Randy Jackson's two-run homer in the second inning. The former Cub's blast was his seventh of the campaign and scored Charlie Neal, who had singled, ahead of him.

The Cubs cinched it in the seventh as dusk began to settle at Wrigley Field to thrill a crowd of 19,277. Baker's No. 11 homer with one out off of Drysdale touched if off.

Newcombe Wins 21st

In the first game, Don Newcombe, hurling the last 1 2-3 innings in relief, was credited with his 21st victory against 6 losses and boosted his season mark over the tailend Cubs to 5-1.

The Dodgers came from behind with a pair of unearned runs in the seventh to go ahead 3-2. Then they broke a 3-3 stalemate with three runs in the ninth, two of them on Carl Furillo's single.

Turk Lown, charged with his sixth loss after replacing bonus baby Moe Drabowsky in the eighth, was the victim of Brooklyn's three-run ninth. Lown has won seven.

Umpires To Meet

The Tri-State Baseball Umpires Association will hold a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Loyal Order of Moose Home.

In 1916 Georgia Tech's football team beat Cumberland by the score of 222 to 0. It's still a record.

Hagerstown Bets $4,087,891; Russo Rides 11 Winners

Hagerstown concluded its 12-day race meeting yesterday and a crowd of 6,141 wagered $333,476 to send the mutuel handle for the session over the four million dollar mark.

Betting for the first 12-day meeting at a minor oval in Maryland totaled $4,087,891. Attendance was 82,322.

Anthony "Tony" Russo, of Baltimore, was the leading rider with 11 winning mounts to his credit. Willie Clark and Freddie Green were tied for runner-up honors with 10 winners each. C. McKee had nine, T. McGovern eight and Joe Snyder seven.

Willie Clark, top rider on Maryland's minor tracks last season, was aboard the longest shot of the day, Forays Boy, which paid $41.40 in the first race. Clark also booted home Scepter, a $16 for $2 winner in the seventh.

Tenpin Loop Will Meet Here Tonight

Representatives of the twelve teams in the Allegany County Tenpin League will post their forfeit fees for the 1956-57 season at a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Cumberland Outdoor Club, 125 Frederick street.

Cagers in the Olympic Games will use an American basketball this year.

Shanty I Takes Speedboat Race

Wins Harmsworth Trophy At Detroit

DETROIT, Aug. 28 — (INS) — Shanty I, the U. S. speedboat entry, won the Harmsworth trophy race tonight on the Detroit river defeating Canadian challenger, Miss Supertest.

Owned by W. T. Waggoner of Phoenix, Ariz., and representing the Seattle Yacht Club, Shanty zipped across the finish line a full two minutes ahead of Miss Supertest.

The powerful west coast speedboat, piloted by 37-year-old Lt. Col. Russell Schlee, was a top-heavy favorite throughout the three heats.

However, last night Miss Supertest, manned by Bill Braden, 41, of Hamilton, Ont., won the second heat to tie the race when the U. S. entry stalled on a turn.

Previously the American craft averaged 94.772 miles per hour and the Canadian boat averaged 89.313 for the 35 nautical miles. The record for the seven-lap, five-mile course is 100.81 mph.

Judges said they expect the official time tonight will be much slower because of rough waters and high winds.

Frostburg Loop Meets

Officers, managers and parents of the Frostburg Little League will meet today at 8 p. m., at the Frostburg City Hall.

Five Leagues Set Playoff Games Today

Rain Halted Six Contests Tuesday

Rain yesterday stopped playoff contests in six baseball and softball leagues and plans were made last night to stage five of the contests today.

At Penn Avenue Field, the Athletics and Red Sox will clash in the opening game of their best-of-three Dapper Dan Little League final series at 6 p. m. In the second game at 8 p. m. the Times-News and B'nai B'rith will collide in the first game of their Hot Stove League series. The games will be played in the same order Thursday and also Friday, if necessary.

The third and deciding game of the Rocking Chair Softball League semi-final series between the Loyal Order of Moose and Fraternal Order of Eagles is rescheduled for today at 6 p. m. at Stitcher Field. The winner will play the Outdoor Club in the final series. Rain halted yesterday's game in the 4th inning with the score knotted at 2-2.

Potomac Valley's Old Germans and Melody Manor will tangle today at 6 p. m., at Barrelville in the second game of the County Softball League's final series. If rain washes out today's game the teams will clash Friday. The third and deciding game will be staged Friday if Melody Manor evens the series today. Melody Manor was leading 2-1 in the fifth inning yesterday when Jupiter Pluvius put in his appearance.

Tri-State Cleaners were leading Lytle's Sign Shop, 8-3, in the second inning when rain knocked out their Men's Rec Softball League playoff series opener yesterday at East Side. The teams will try again today at 6 p. m.

Cresaptown's Eagles jumped off to a 4-1 lead over the LaVale Orioles when rain stopped the opening game of the final playoff series yesterday in the Pen-Mar Little League. The teams will resume action Thursday at 6 p. m. at LaVale. The second game is billed for Tuesday at Cresaptown and if a third game is necessary the site will be determined by the flip of a coin.

Boggs Trophy Won By Mrs. Trevaskis

Mrs. Richard W. Trevaskis won the Carroll Boggs Trophy yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club by turning in a net score of 39-7—32 against the CCC professional's best nine of 34.

Thirty-two members of the Women's Golf Association participated in the tourney.

Win Via Forfeit

Ridgeley American Legion won via the forfeit route from the McCoole Vets when the latter failed to put in their appeaarnce for a Mineral County Softball League game yesterday at Ridgeley.

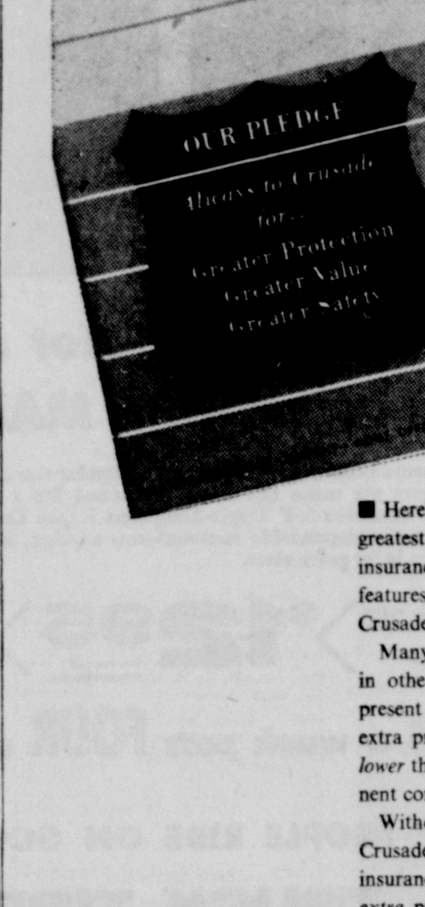

Patterson Creek will host Ridgeley on Thursday.

Kaline And Lary Spark Tigers To 6-3 Triumph

Pacific Coast Grid Players Are Penalized

Limited To Five Successive Games

BERKELEY, Calif., Aug. 28 (AP)—Fullback Jerry Drew and guard Joe Olivia have been penalized for accepting financial aid beyond PCC regulations, the University of California announced today.

The players, both seniors, will be limited to five successive games during the 1956 season.

"The penalties came as a result of the school's own self investigation which was requested by the Pacific Coast Conference President's Council and reported to the conference," the announcement said.

Both Drew, 21, and Oliva, 22 received about $300 in aid beyond PCC regulations, the announcement said. University officials said the money was not in regular monthly payments, but the players received the aid on three separate occasions.

Sammy White Blows Up, Throws Ball To Outfield In Disgust

BOSTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Al Kaline homered and tripled for three runs, Frank Lary notched a five-hitter and Red Wilson tip-toed home from first during a heated argument today as chief contributors to Detroit's 6-3 victory over Boston.

Red Sox Manager Mike Higgins announced he was playing the game under protest after the sixth inning explosion topped by Wilson's "forgotten man" safari.

Kaline had opened the inning with his 24th home run to hike the Tigers' lead to 3-0 and Bill Tuttle doubled. Wilson hit a high hopper deflected by Ted Lepcio behind second for a single.

Milt Bolling retrieved the ball and threw to Sammy White at the plate but Sam's diving tag on Tuttle was ruled too late by Umpire Frank Umont.

White, infuriated, stormed the arbiter and let fly a high, long throw to center field in disgust. The Red Sox stopped to watch the battle of words except for Ted Williams who threw the ball back to the infield. No one paid any attention to the ball.

No one—including Umont — noticed Wilson, either. Red, scarcely an inconspicous figure as the one-time star football center for the University of Wisconsin, set sail in the confusion.

Wilson appeared to be running softly but not fast and just kept coming — crossing the plate as Umont had his back to the infield dusting off the dish.

Gene Stephens slammed one of Lary's fastballs for an inside-the-park homer in the eighth—a rarity in Fenway Park. It was Stephens' first of the year.

Maureen Miller Wins Dingle Net Tourney Title

Maureen Miller won the City Recreation Dingle 16, 17, 18 year old girls tennis championship yesterday by defeating Helen Wanless, last year's girl's city champion, in a strenuous match of long hard-hitting points. Miss Miller won the first set at 8-6, and the second though many games went to deuce at 6-1. Yast year Miss Miller was runner-up in the City junior tournament.

All the City Recreation sectional winners, in three age groups, from the North End courts, Fort Hill, Dingle and the Gephart playground will meet this morning at 10 o'clock, on the five courts at the Fort Hill school, in an elimination tournament to secure the best boy and girl in the three divisions.

Boys: "Bill" Sitter, North End, plays Glen Bastian of the Dingle. "Bill" Brown of Fort Hill meets Doug. Sullivan, Gephart.

Girls: Maureen Miller, Dingle, plays Susan Wilson of Gephart. Carol Ranson, North End, meets Linda Proudfoot, Ft. Hill.

Boys: Jas. Twigg, Ft. Hill plays Pat McGreevy, Gephart, Leland Ranson, North End meets Drake Gibbs, Dingle.

Girls: Beverly Bowie, Dingle plays Carol Dunlap, Ft. Hill. Sally Runion, North End mets Linda Cooper, Gephart.

Boys: Allan Kaplon, North End plays Peter Thomas, Dingle. Jimmy Bell, Gephart meets Ronnie Evans, Ft. Hill.

Girls: Nancy Thomas, Dingle plays Sandy Smith, Ft. Hill. Sharon Kasecamp, North End meets Janie Farrell, Gephart.

The three boys and three girls winning the championship in each age group will receive City Recreation tennis trophies.

Bruder, Chicken Pox Couldn't Be Caught

Back in 1930 the Northwestern Wildcats, led by Capt. Hank Bruder, knocked off Tulane in Dyche stadium, Evanston, by a score of 14 to 0.

The day after the game Bruder came down with chicken pox and the entire Wildcat team was vaccinated.

The Green Wave head replied in words to this effect:

Kaline And Lary Spark Tigers To 6-3 Triumph

Pacific Coast Grid Players Are Penalized

Limited To Five Successive Games

BERKELEY, Calif., Aug. 28 (AP)—Fullback Jerry Drew and guard Joe Olivia have been penalized for accepting financial aid beyond PCC regulations, the University of California announced today.

The players, both seniors, will be limited to five successive games during the 1956 season.

"The penalties came as a result of the school's own self investigation which was requested by the Pacific Coast Conference President's Council and reported to the conference," the announcement said.

Both Drew, 21, and Oliva, 22 received about $300 in aid beyond PCC regulations, the announcement said. University officials said the money was not in regular monthly payments, but the players received the aid on three separate occasions.

Sammy White Blows Up, Throws Ball To Outfield In Disgust

BOSTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Al Kaline homered and tripled for three runs, Frank Lary notched a five-hitter and Red Wilson tip-toed home from first during a heated argument today as chief contributors to Detroit's 6-3 victory over Boston.

Red Sox Manager Mike Higgins announced he was playing the game under protest after the sixth inning explosion topped by Wilson's "forgotten man" safari.

Kaline had opened the inning with his 24th home run to hike the Tigers' lead to 3-0 and Bill Tuttle doubled. Wilson hit a high hopper deflected by Ted Lepcio behind second for a single.

Milt Bolling retrieved the ball and threw to Sammy White at the plate but Sam's diving tag on Tuttle was ruled too late by Umpire Frank Umont.

White, infuriated, stormed the arbiter and let fly a high, long throw to center field in disgust. The Red Sox stopped to watch the battle of words except for Ted Williams who threw the ball back to the infield. No one paid any attention to the ball.

No one—including Umont — noticed Wilson, either. Red, scarcely an inconspicous figure as the one-time star football center for the University of Wisconsin, set sail in the confusion.

Wilson appeared to be running softly but not fast and just kept coming — crossing the plate as Umont had his back to the infield dusting off the dish.

Hoad, Rosewall Are Top Seeded In U.S. Singles

Forest Hills Event Will Open Friday

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP) — Australia's Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall, favored to produce the first all-foreign final in 23 years, drew easy first round assignments in the National Tennis Championships, opening Friday.

The top-seeded Hoad, seeking to add the U. S. crown to his Australian, French and Wimbledon titles, plays Gary Walraven of Oklahoma City, Rosewall, seeded second, meets Jeffry Robinson a member of the visiting Cambridge-Oxford contingent from England.

Seeded behind the two Aussie Davis Cup stars in the draw today were Ham Richardson of Westfield, N. J., No. 3; Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, No. 4; Neale Fraser of Australia, No. 5; Ashley Cooper of Australia, No. 6; Ulf Schmidt of Sweden, No. 7, and Dick Savitt of New York, No. 8.

The women's division is headed by Shirley Fry of St. Petersburg, Fla., the Wimbledon champion, with Althea Gibson of New York, seeded No. 2.

Midland Legion To See Pirates And Phils Play

A meeting of the Midland Post American Legion junior baseball team will be held today at 6:30 o'clock in the new Legion home at Midland for the purpose of making arrangements for the trip Saturday to Pittsburgh where the Mountain District League team players will be guests of the Pittsburgh management at the Pirates-Phillies game.

Vincent Martin Is Caddy Champ

Vincent Martin is the 1956 champion of the golf caddies at the Cumberland Country Club.

Berkeley High Will Play Ten Grid Contests

Meets Circleville In Opener Sept. 7

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va., Aug. 28—Berkeley Springs High School will launch its 1956 ten-game football schedule on Friday, September 7, meeting Circleville High School here in the first of four games the Indians will play in the Potomac Valley Conference.

The other P.V.C. games are with Ridgeley, Moorefield and Romney.

Twenty-six candidates reported for the early drills and more are expected to join the squad when school opens.

"Butch" Burkhart, speedy halfback or end, will captain the Indians. Other holdovers on hand are Gale Smith, quarterback for three seasons and an adept passer; Les Potter, aggressive tackle; Herb Rankin, dependable center, and Gary Butts, powerful guard.

Coach Gerard P. "Jerry" Calhoun and his assistant, Allan Goldstrom, have a rebuilding job of mammoth proportion due to the loss of 14 players from last year's squad, ten by graduation and four moved away or were ineligible due to the age limit.

The Alumni contest on November 10 will be the homecoming game. The schedule:

Sept. 7—Circleville, home. Sept. 14—Hedgesville, home. Sept. 21—Ridgeley, away. Sept. 28—Open. Oct. 5—Harpers Ferry, away. Oct. 12—Hedgesville, away. Oct. 19—Shepherdstown, home. Oct. 26—Moorefield, away. Nov. 2—Mussel man, away. Nov. 10—Alumni, home. Nov. 16—Romney, away.

Atlantic City Double $1,053

Sammy Boulmetis Set Down 10 Days

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 28 (AP)—A payoff and a layoff took the spotlight this afternoon with a shirt-sleeved throng of 18,694 in attendance. The payoff was a whopper and came as a dividend for the daily double fanatics. The return was $1,053.80 for each $2 invested on the "12-3" combination. Rejected Bound was the big end of the giant jackpot winning the first race easily, giving joy and $84.40 to his backers. Apprentice rider Joe Cuffari turned the trick. Grianair, under Nick Shuk, copped the second at an even $10 to complete the double, largest of the meeting.

The layoff was the ten days given Jockey Sam Boulmetis, leading rider of the session. The stewards ruling had Boulmetis under suspension from August 29 through September 7 "for careless riding, 7th race, August 27." The ruling further stated that Boulmetis had been "previously warned at this meeting." Boulmetis rode R. C. Hanna's Candlewood in the race in question, finished fourth and was disqualified.

Boulmetis had his moment in today's featured St. Charles purse when he drove Walter J. Appel's Cool Stream to a length victory at a mile over the turf. Boulmetis pressed the pace of Happy Princess most of the way, then gained the necessary advantage late in the final yards. Happy Princess, Ovie Scurlock booting, held on to be second, with the fast closing Delightful, 2nd, third.

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—(INS)—Is the standardbred — trotter or pacer—good for anything but a betting medium?

Maybe opinions have changed, but an article on "The Horse in America" by John Gilmer Speed in the Century Magazine of September, 1903, gave an emphatic "no" answer to the question.

Speed insisted the trotter was a type incapable of reproducing himself and added that famed Hambletonian, at whose shrine all standardbred lovers worship, was an ugly misshapen plug whose best time for a mile is 3:18 (not 2:18) and that the nag even had a faked pedigree on his dam's side.

And we invite the attention of all trotting track press agents to this crack by Brother Speed:

"The trotters have not the substance for carriage horses, they are coupled too long to carry weight, they are not heavy enough for draft animals, and they are too high-strung for the plow. They are costly failures . . ."

We wonder if he would have written those lines today, when trotters are winning huge purses and harness tracks are drawing millions at the gate? Costly failures? Please, Mr. Speed.

Speed quoted a letter from General Benjamin F. Tracy in which the distinguished military leader wrote:

"Pacing is a gait which no gentleman (sic) could care for. It suits barkeepers, butchers and other flash and vulgar persons."

Do you suppose the good general could have been a snob? Perhaps the bartenders of half a century ago might have left something to be desired socially, but why the rap on butchers?

Come to think of it, two famous plungers and horse owners, Bill and Mike Dwyer, were butchers before they became pillars of the turf.

We doubt that either of the Dwyers ever led a cotillion of the 400 in those days or cared to do so, but their dough was gladly accepted by the social elite.

The general also had a few pungent words for Hambletonian:

"Hambletonian could not trot fast; his sire, Abdullah, could not trot at all, and his grandsire, Mambrino, could not trot and would not run.

"The Hambletonians which have been fast trotters have had their speed not on account of Hambletonian blood but in spite of it."

Speed and Gen. Tracy were rough on trotters and pacers, but they had nothing on the late Harry (The Owl) Mann, venerable clocker for the Jockey Club.

One day when asked his opinion of a cheap thoroughbred, Harry answered, his voice dripping with scorn and contempt:

'He's just a blankety-blank trotter."

More and more college grid teams are starting first of two-a-day practices at 6 a.m.

Berkeley High Will Play Ten Grid Contests

Meets Circleville In Opener Sept. 7

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va., Aug. 28—Berkeley Springs High School will launch its 1956 ten-game football schedule on Friday, September 7, meeting Circleville High School here in the first of four games the Indians will play in the Potomac Valley Conference.

The other P.V.C. games are with Ridgeley, Moorefield and Romney.

Twenty-six candidates reported for the early drills and more are expected to join the squad when school opens.

"Butch" Burkhart, speedy halfback or end, will captain the Indians. Other holdovers on hand are Gale Smith, quarterback for three seasons and an adept passer; Les Potter, aggressive tackle; Herb Rankin, dependable center, and Gary Butts, powerful guard.

Coach Gerard P. "Jerry" Calhoun and his assistant, Allan Goldstrom, have a rebuilding job of mammoth proportion due to the loss of 14 players from last year's squad, ten by graduation and four moved away or were ineligible due to the age limit.

The Alumni contest on November 10 will be the homecoming game. The schedule:

Sept. 7—Circleville, home. Sept. 14—Hedgesville, home. Sept. 21—Ridgeley, away. Sept. 28—Open. Oct. 5—Harpers Ferry, away. Oct. 12—Hedgesville, away. Oct. 19—Shepherdstown, home. Oct. 26—Moorefield, away. Nov. 2—Musselman, away. Nov. 10 — Alumni, home. Nov. 16—Romney, away.

Syndicate Pays Over Million For Sunshine Park

OLDSMAR, Fla., Aug. 28—(INS)—The purchase for more than a million dollars of controlling interest in Sunshine Park thoroughbred race course was announced today by a syndicate headed by Frederick E. M. Ballon of New York and Richard E. West of Warwick, R. I.

The new group negotiated the purchase of the track on Florida's west coast from Samuel C. Lombardo and John C. Masoni of Cleveland. W. Frank Hobbs will continue as general manager of the track and also will serve as president. Ballon was named chairman of the board of directors.

Sammy Boulmetis Set Down 10 Days

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 28 (AP)—A payoff and a layoff took the spotlight this afternoon with a shirt-sleeved throng of 18,694 in attendance. The payoff was a whopper and came as a dividend for the daily double fanatics. The return was $1,053.80 for each $2 invested on the "12-3" combination. Rejected Bound was the big end of the giant jackpot winning the first race easily, giving joy and $84.40 to his backers. Apprentice rider Joe Cuffari turned the trick. Grianair, under Nick Shuk, copped the second at an even $10 to complete the double, largest of the meeting.

The layoff was the ten days given Jockey Sam Boulmetis, leading rider of the session. The stewards ruling had Boulmetis under suspension from August 29 through September 7 "for careless riding, 7th race, August 27." The ruling further stated that Boulmetis had been "previously warned at this meeting." Boulmetis rode R. C. Hanna's Candlewood in the race in question, finished fourth and was disqualified.

Boulmetis had his moment in today's featured St. Charles purse when he drove Walter J. Appel's Cool Stream to a length victory at a mile over the turf. Boulmetis pressed the pace of Happy Princess most of the way, then gained the necessary advantage late in the stretch and pulled away in the final yards. Happy Princess, Ovie Scurlock booting, held on to be second, with the fast closing Delightful, 2nd, third.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—(INS)—Is the standardbred — trotter or pacer—good for anything but a betting medium?

Maybe opinions have changed, but an article on "The Horse in America" by John Gilmer Speed in the Century Magazine of September, 1903, gave an emphatic "no" answer to the question.

Speed insisted the trotter was a type incapable of reproducing himself and added that famed Hambletonian, at whose shrine all standardbred lovers worship, was an ugly misshapen plug whose best time for a mile is 3:18 (not 2:18) and that the nag even had a faked pedigree on his dam's side.

And we invite the attention of all trotting track press agents to this crack by Brother Speed:

"The trotters have not the substance for carriage horses, they are coupled too long to carry weight, they are not heavy enough for draft animals, and they are too high-strung for the plow. They are costly failures . . . "

We wonder if he would have written those lines today, when trotters are winning huge purses and harness tracks are drawing millions at the gate? Costly failures? Please, Mr. Speed.

Speed quoted a letter from General Benjamin F. Tracy in which the distinguished military leader wrote:

"Pacing is a gait which no gentleman (sic) could care for. It suits barkeepers, butchers and other flash and vulgar persons."

Do you suppose the good general could have been a snob? Perhaps the bartenders of half a century ago might have left something to be desired socially, but why the rap on butchers?

Come to think of it, two famous plungers and horse owners, Bill and Mike Dwyer, were butchers before they became pillars of the turf.

We doubt that either of the Dwyers ever led a cotillion of the 400 in those days or cared to do so, but their dough was gladly accepted by the social elite.

The general also had a few pungent words for Hambletonian:

"Hambletonian could not trot fast; his sire, Abdullah, could not trot at all, and his grandsire, Mambrino, could not trot and would not run.

"The Hambletonians which have been fast trotters have had their speed not on account of Hambletonian blood but in spite of it."

Speed and Gen. Tracy were rough on trotters and pacers, but they had nothing on the late Harry (The Owl) Mann, venerable clocker for the Jockey Club.

One day when asked his opinion of a cheap thoroughbred, Harry answered, his voice dripping with scorn and contempt:

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28 (INS) — Karl Malden may not be a glamor boy, but he's such a good actor he can call his shots, and he's having plenty to call. Jack Warner has signed him to star in "Bombers B-52," a spectacle glorifying the air corps new giant jets, the world's biggest. The picture will have the personal attention of General Curtis E. Lemay, of the Strategic Air Command. Richard Whorf produces with Gordon Douglas directing.

There's a little problem on starting dates here as Malden is also set for his debut as a director on Richard Widmark's picture "Time Limit," about the same time. But these things can be juggled, particularly where Malden is involved.

If Judy Holliday's show, "The Bells Are Ringing" is the hit it's expected to be, watch for Columbia to buy it for her. I hear negotiations are already under way with the Theatre Guild.

Judy's really sold on the show, a very cute story about answering service telephone operator who becomes hopelessly involved in the private lives of several clients. With "Solid Gold Cadillac" traveling at the speed it is, Miss Holliday can just about have what she wants these days.

Just as I tipped you, it's set for Anthony Perkins to do "Desire Under The Elms" with luscious Italian charmer, Sophia Loren. Don Hartman had his heart set on this combination from the time he purchased the rights to the Eugene O'Neill classic. It's to be the first of the three independents Hartman will deliver to his old alma mater, Paramount.

While he was in Europe Don conferred with Irwin Shaw who is completing the script in the south of France. The picture starts in March which gives young Perkins plenty of time to make "Tim Star" with Henry Fonda for Perlberg-Seaton.

Remember Tim Holt who was going great guns in westerns before he gave up movies three years ago to live on his ranch in Harrah, Oklahoma, and star in his own rodeo show? Well, Tim's due back in Hollywood next week to star in the first picture he's made since "Her Kind Of Man."—a thriller for United Artists called "The Jagged Edge."

Jules Levey and Art Gardner are the producers of Tim's comeback film. They tell me (surprisingly) that it won't be a western. It's about a naval officer sent to the Salton Sea to run down reports of the natives about a sea monster risen in the waters.

Jane Wyman says she's discovered a hidden talent in her secretary Stephanie Nordli who whipped up a TV story "A Pound Of Law" and sold it to her boss. "I used to do a bit of writing," Stephanie admits, "until I found I preferred a regular salary check as a secretary."

Measurement Of River Is Automatic

Automation has taken over measuring of the depth of the Potomac River at Wiley Ford.

Robert R. Golden, official observer here for the U. S. Weather Bureau, said today a remote indicating device known as a "telemark" has been installed at the Geological Survey river gauge house on the river.

River depth readings can be obtained merely by dialing a telephone number. Buzzes emitted by the telemark — so many buzzes for so many feet and fractions of feet — give the exact reading.

The river gauging station already had a device for continuously recording the river stage on a chart. In addition, Golden visited the gauge every morning and when the river was rising, several times a day. He would then transmit information to Washington.

As a result of the installation of the telemark, river forecasts can be formulated earlier and disseminated sooner, giving people of Cumberland and at places down river more time to prepare for a flood if one is believed near.

Golden said he will continue his checks at the river float gauge on a once-a-week basis except in times of high water when he will check more often.

He said the telemark is not new but has been in operation at Luke and Kitzmiller several years.

The telemark is maintained by the U. S. Geological Survey in cooperation with the Corps of Army Engineers and the Maryland Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources, according to Ewell Mohler, engineer in charge of the local Geological Survey suboffice of the College Park District.

Vandegrift Gets Guard Award

Approximately 100 persons attended the awards ceremony Monday at the Loyal Order of Moose Home, sponsored by the non-commissioned officers of Headquarters Company, First Battalion, 115th Infantry, Maryland National Guard.

Captain John D. Hensell, company commander, extended the welcome and thanked local merchants who cooperated with the Guard by allowing their employes to attend summer camp earlier this month.

Specialist Joseph C. Vandegrift was presented the annual award for being the outstanding soldier in the company.

Sgt. First Class John J. Divico was presented the company's M1 Rifle award, and Master Sgt. Walter W. Hartman Jr. was awarded the unit's Carbine high score prize.

Major Michael J. McGowan, assistant division chaplain, 29th Infantry Division Headquarters, offered the invocation, and Lt. Thomas F. Conlon Jr. served as toastmaster.

Guests included Col. Randolph Millholland, Major Joseph M. Parvis, assistant chief of staff, 29th Division; Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert C. Matlick, and First Lt. and Mrs. Lear T. Powell.

The preferred opening would have been one no trump. The second departure from normal was North's rebid of two no trump, but in the circumstances we cannot charge him too heavily, because no completely satisfactory rebid is available. South's rebid of three spades stands out in bold relief as the outstanding impropriety of the deal. Here is a suit which a generation ago was scarcely regarded as biddable, and South is trying to impose it upon a partner who may find it necessary to raise with only two trumps.

West's choice of the two of hearts as an opening lead is not included in the list of offenses. While the opening underlead of an ace at a suit contract is irregular, North's jump bid in no trump has almost to a certainty marked him with the king of hearts. If declarer is lacking the queen he will almost surely misguess the holding. Declarer played low from the dummy, and East played the nine. Technically, this is the sound play but practically, East should realize that unless West has chosen this moment to underlead the ace there is no heart trick for the defense, since the diamond suit will provide discard. South won with the jack and returned a diamond. West lost no time in winning the trick and again underled the ace of hearts. The ten was played from dummy, lost to the queen, and a heart came back to the ace. With book in, West then led a club and East's jack forced the ace.

Declarer led the deuce of spades to dummy, a choice which in a moment he was to regret. On the second lead the queen fell, and dummy proceeded to lead diamonds, discarding two clubs. On the next diamond East ruffed in with the ten of spades, and South overruffed. Now had declarer access to dummy he could discard the remaining club on dummy's good diamond. Retention of the deuce of spades would have permitted him to enter dummy at this time by means of the trey.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28 (INS) — Karl Malden may not be a glamor boy, but he's such a good actor he can call his shots, and he's having plenty to call. Jack Warner has signed him to star in "Bombers B-52," a spectacle glorifying the air corps new giant jets, the world's biggest. The picture will have the personal attention of General Curtis E. Lemay, of the Strategic Air Command. Richard Whorf produces with Gordon Douglas directing.

There's a little problem on starting dates here as Malden is also set for his debut as a director on Richard Widmark's picture "Time Limit," about the same time. But these things can be juggled, particularly where Malden is involved.

If Judy Holliday's show, "The Bells Are Ringing" is the hit it's expected to be, watch for Columbia to buy it for her. I hear negotiations are already under way with the Theatre Guild.

Judy's really sold on the show, a very cute story about answering service telephone operator who becomes hopelessly involved in the private lives of several clients. With "Solid Gold Cadillac" traveling at the speed it is, Miss Holliday can just about have what she wants these days.

Just as I tipped you, it's set for Anthony Perkins to do "Desire Under The Elms" with luscious Italian charmer, Sophia Loren. Don Hartman had his heart set on this combination from the time he purchased the rights to the Eugene O'Neill classic. It's to be the first of the three independents Hartman will deliver to his old alma mater, Paramount.

While he was in Europe Don conferred with Irwin Shaw who is completing the script in the south of France. The picture starts in March which gives young Perkins plenty of time to make "Tim Star" with Henry Fonda for Perlberg-Seaton.

Remember Tim Holt who was going great guns in westerns before he gave up movies three years ago to live on his ranch in Harrah, Oklahoma, and star in his own rodeo show? Well, Tim's due back in Hollywood next week to star in the first picture he's made since "Her Kind Of Man,"—a thriller for United Artists called "The Jagged Edge."

Jules Levey and Art Gardner are the producers of Tim's comeback film. They tell me (surprisingly) that it won't be a western. It's about a naval officer sent to the Salton Sea to run down reports of the natives about a sea monster risen in the waters.

Hollywood in shorts: Charles Chaplin Jr., and Elaine Modell, a model, also a doll, were a round-up at Rand's Roundup.

Gene Kelly celebrated his birthday in New York over the weekend and should be here today about the future of "Les Girls," scheduled as his next before casting trouble developed.

Jeff Richards tells me that he and his estranged wife, Vicki, aren't so estranged these summer evenings and there's a good chance they may decide their separation was too hasty.

Keith Andes, back from making "Interlude" with June Allyson in Munich, reports at RKO today for Jane Powell's "The Girl Most Likely."

Jane Wyman says she's discovered a hidden talent in her secretary Stephanie Nordli who whipped up a TV story "A Pound Of Law" and sold it to her boss. "I used to do a bit of writing," Stephanie admits, "until I found I preferred a regular salary check as a secretary."

Search For The Truth

Truth is not always stranger than fiction; sometimes, it's a good deal more hackneyed, Bog Costello, producer of Armstrong Theater, has discovered. Armstrong had been on the air for five years with a rather run-of-the-mill drama show when they decided to deal exclusively in documentary-type dramas. This approach, which has been conspicuously successful, is now getting close to its first anniversary, which makes Armstrong's problem no easier.

The idea is to find stories that are not too strange to be plausible or, on the other hand, stories that don't sound like they come straight out of soap opera—you'd be surprised how many do. For instance, Armstrong was once working on an Army vs. Civilian story. Soldiers from a new air base had moved in on a town; soldiers and civilians hating each other until one of the soldiers married the mayor's daughter, then everyone got along fine. Well, that's what actually happened, but it sounded like pure B-picture, and had to be abandoned.

Another story, which was not not abandoned, was about a war orphan, seemingly reunited with his family in this country. The kid turned out to be the wrong war orphan and the lad faced deportation to Yugoslavia until a special act of Congress (which the Armstrong drama helped pass) made him a citizen of this country. Well, the right war orphan and the wrong one had different color eyes and how did all those agencies which check up on such things manage to miss something so obvious? But they did. The authors got around that by just not mentioning it.

Just because the story is a good one doesn't mean it will fit the requirements of TV drama. Costello and his associate producer and editor, Jacqueline Babbin, like their stories to be fairly contemporary. The Korean War, for instance, they consider too old now. Some good true stories have villains—and that means the villains have to consent to be cast in that role, and most of them won't. The story has to fit in an hour with time for commercials. All things considered, it isn't easy.

But occasionally, a story comes along that's just too good to be true. The Armstrong crowd ran across a picture story in Life like that. A Life photographer on the East-West border of Berlin saw a little boy picked up by East German police for just putting his foot across the line. The sight haunted the photographer and soon he was on a search for the family, which ended with the reuniting of boy and family in West Berlin.

However, stories like that don't fall into their laps. Armstrong now uses quite a few of what they call "composites." These are several separate stories pieced into one. For instance, a story of a couple adopting a child contained the experiences of two or three couples, in order to make it more representative of the adoption problem.

Another problem is point of view. When you are dealing in a true story, no two people see it quite the same way and the problem is whose point of view to accept. Armstrong tries to avoid advocating anyone's point of view, and also doesn't like to preach.

For a long time, Armstrong searched for a good prison story. No individual prison story seemed quite right and a general story on prisons was much too large and unwieldly. Finally, they stumbled on a story about a work detail of convicts who had grown accustomed to seeing a very pregnant woman near the site of their work day after day. One day, after a heavy snowfall, they noticed she wasn't there. Alarmed, they decided that something was wrong. And something was. In fact, the prisoners saved her life.

When they started lining up stories for their second year, Mr. Costello and Miss Babbin had occasional tremors of fear that they had already done all the "actuals" that were of interest. Then along came the Andrea Doria story and the Chicago polio epidemic, both of them excellent grist for the mill. News never stops happening.

You might say there's a small trend in the direction of the documentary drama. The Robert Montgomery show will do more and more true stories next year. The truth not only has more impact, but frequently more originality and flavor than fiction. One of television's greatest successes last season was "A Night To Remember," the story of the sinking of the Titanic, and I doubt that it would have packed half the wallop if it hadn't been true.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

Search For The Truth

Truth is not always stranger than fiction; sometimes, it's a good deal more hackneyed. Bog Costello, producer of Armstrong Theater, has discovered. Armstrong had been on the air for five years with a rather run-of-the-mill drama show when they decided to deal exclusively in documentary-type dramas. This approach, which has been conspicuously successful, is now getting close to its first anniversary, which makes Armstrong's problem no easier.

The idea is to find stories that are not too strange to be plausible or, on the other hand, stories that don't sound like they come straight out of soap opera—you'd be surprised how many do. For instance, Armstrong was once working on an Army vs. Civilian story. Soldiers from a new air base had moved in on a town; soldiers and civilians hating each other until one of the soldiers married the mayor's daughter, then everyone got along fine. Well, that's what actually happened, but it sounded like pure B-picture, and had to be abandoned.

Another story, which was not not abandoned, was about a war orphan, seemingly reunited with his family in this country. The kid turned out to be the wrong war orphan and the lad faced deportation to Yugoslavia until a special act of Congress (which the Armstrong drama helped pass) made him a citizen of this country. Well, the right war orphan and the wrong one had different color eyes and how did all those agencies which check up on such things manage to miss something so obvious? But they did. The authors got around that by just not mentioning it.

Just because the story is a good one doesn't mean it will fit the requirements of TV drama. Costello and his associate producer and editor, Jacqueline Babbin, like their stories to be fairly contemporary. The Korean War, for instance, they consider too old now. Some good true stories have villains—and that means the villains have to consent to be cast in that role, and most of them won't. The story has to fit in an hour with time for commercials. All things considered, it isn't easy.

But occasionally, a story comes along that's just too good to be true. The Armstrong crowd ran across a picture story in Life like that. A Life photographer on the East-West border of Berlin saw a little boy picked up by East German police for just putting his foot across the line. The sight haunted the photographer and soon he was on a search for the family, which ended with the reuniting of boy and family in West Berlin.

However, stories like that don't fall into their laps. Armstrong now uses quite a few of what they call "composites." These are several separate stories pieced into one. For instance, a story of a couple adopting a child contained the experiences of two or three couples, in order to make it more representative of the adoption problem.

Another problem is point of view. When you are dealing in a true story, no two people see it quite the same way and the problem is whose point of view to accept. Armstrong tries to avoid advocating anyone's point of view, and also doesn't like to preach.

For a long time, Armstrong searched for a good prison story. No individual prison story seemed quite right and a general story on prisons was much too large and unwieldly. Finally, they stumbled on a story about a work detail of convicts who had grown accustomed to seeing a very pregnant woman near the site of their work day after day. One day, after a heavy snowfall, they noticed she wasn't there. Alarmed, they decided that something was wrong. And something was. In fact, the prisoners saved her life.

When they started lining up stories for their second year, Mr. Costello and Miss Babbin had occasional tremors of fear that they had already done all the "actuals" that were of interest. Then along came the Andrea Doria story and the Chicago polio epidemic, both of them excellent grist for the mill. News never stops happening.

You might say there's a small trend in the direction of the documentary drama. The Robert Montgomery show will do more and more true stories next year. The truth not only has more impact, but frequently more originality and flavor than fiction. One of television's greatest successes last season was "A Night To Remember," the story of the sinking of the Titanic, and I doubt that it would have packed half the wallop if it hadn't been true.

Market Continues Decline; Trading Slowest In Year

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP) — The stock market posted a second straight decline today in the slowest trading session in 12 months.

Volume amounted to a record low for the year of 1,400,000 shares, smallest turnover since Aug. 19, 1955, when trading came to the same total. The total of 1,420,000 shares yesterday had matched the previous 1956 low set on Feb. 13.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost $1.20 at $183.20. Each of the three components was lower, industrials by $1.80, rails by $1.60, and utilities by 10 cents. The average had dropped $1.10 yesterday after two straight advances.

Out of 1,108 issues traded, 295 advanced, 537 declined and 277 remained unchanged. Ten stocks reached new 1956 highs and 40 made new lows.

Vertientes-Camaguey Sugar was a feature of the morning, as it traded on successive blocks of 6,400 and 6,500 shares and moved ahead more than a point for a time. The sugar issue became the day's most active stock, closing at 9¼, up ⅝, on colume of 25,200 shares.

Market Continues Decline; Trading Slowest In Year

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP) — The stock market posted a second straight decline today in the slowest trading session in 12 months.

Losses among pivotal issues generally ranged from fractions to a point, although a few high-priced stocks dropped between 2 and 4.

The market held about steady during the first half of the session, and then gradually drifted downward in the afternoon.

Volume amounted to a record low for the year of 1,400,000 shares, smallest turnover since Aug. 19, 1955, when trading came to the same total. The total of 1,420,000 shares yesterday had matched the previous 1956 low set on Feb. 13.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost $1.20 at $183.20. Each of the three components was lower, industrials by $1.80, rails by $1.60, and utilities by 10 cents. The average had dropped $1.10 yesterday after two straight advances.

Out of 1,108 issues traded, 295 advanced, 537 declined and 277 remained unchanged. Ten stocks reached new 1956 highs and 40 made new lows.

Vertientes-Camaguey Sugar was a feature of the morning, as it traded on successive blocks of 6,400 and 6,500 shares and moved ahead more than a point for a time. The sugar issue became the day's most active stock, closing at 9¼, up ⅝, on colume of 25,200 shares.

Storm Damages Property, Jams City Traffic

Winds And Lightning Accompany Rain

A severe electrical storm, with high winds, hail and lightning, struck the tri-state area about 7 o'clock last night, causing considerable damage to trees and foliage, flooding streets and knocking out power lines.

The storm, reported all along the Pennsylvania state line, hit Frostburg, the Georges Creek communities, Cumberland and Romney, W. Va. Oakland, in Garrett County, reported fringes of the storm striking in that area.

Phones, TV Knocked Out

Approximately 350 cable lines and 1,000 telephones were knocked out of service completely, and the severe electrical storm caused nearly 90 per cent of the dial equipment in the Cumberland telephone office to operate faultily.

Many subscribers who had properly working telephones were unable to receive dial tones because the main office equipment was shorted.

In Frostburg 15 lines and 64 phones were kayoed by the storm while Lonaconing had 52 lines and 163 stations out of order.

Repair crews started work on damaged cable immediately, and hope to restore service as soon as possible, Garner said.

Firemen Called

West Side and South End fire companies were called out when lightning caused shorts in electrical wiring and TV sets during the height of the storm.

The wind was clocked at 48 miles per hour for a considerable time during the storm, blowing limbs of trees down, shaking signboards and causing the sheet-like rain to slow traffic to a standstill in the city.

The temperature dropped from 84 degrees at 6 p. m. to 65 degrees shortly after 7 o'clock. The Potomac River rose about half a foot to the four-foot stage. Robert R. Golden, weather observer at Constitution Park, reported 0.70 inches of rainfall in about 45 minutes.

Limbs Blown Down

City police were kept busy checking complaints of fallen tree limbs blocking alleys and streets. A tree was blown over Braddock Road within the city limits and the Street Department was called into action to clear debris in several parts of the city. Several manhole covers were blown loose and had to be replaced by street workmen.

The heavy storm roared up the Georges Creek Valley and hit Frostburg about 7 p. m.

Business Area Blacked Out

About three blocks of the business section of Frostburg were also plunged into darkness as the transformer went out.

Power trouble was also reported in several Georges Creek communities.

'Drive-In' Dining Room

Butler Declares Mahoney Ruins Md. Demo Party

Charges 'Steamroller' At State Meeting

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Sen. Butler (R-Md) said tonight George P. Mahoney "steamrollered" his way into the Democratic nomination to run for Butler's seat and had played the part of a "wrecker" in Maryland Democratic affairs.

The Maryland Democratic State Central Committee last night chose Mahoney as the nominee to replace former Sen. Millard Tydings, who has relinquished the nomination because of illness. The committee rejected a move to give the nomination to Mrs. Tydings.

"It was a steamroller nomination and Mrs. Tydings was steamrollered right out of the picture."

Deplores Tactics

"The tactics used at the committee meeting completely justify remarks made by some of the Tydings supporters that Mahoney has been a millstone around the neck of Maryland's Democratic party since the day he entered politics."

In Baltimore, Mahoney replied:

"Senator Butler should be busy enough defending the disgraceful tactics he employed in 1950 and his subsequent conduct in office without taking time out to shed crocodile tears over the condition of the Democratic Party.

"The 'sympathy' he offers Mrs. Tydings is particularly phoney since it comes from a man who defeated her husband in a campaign so full of fraud and trickery that it gave Maryland a black eye throughout the nation.

Mrs. Tydings has sincerely offered her wholehearted support . . . Her friends and mine are united, the Maryland Democratic party is united in a common purpose—to beat Butler."

Says GOP Will Help

Mahoney said there were "thousands of Republicans" who will also help.

Butler described Mahoney as "the one-man wrecker of the Maryland Democratic party" and added:

"It would appear that if Democratic unity is to be restored, right thinking Democrats must defeat Mahoney for the fifth time. Maybe then he will finally recognize what most Maryland Democrats have known for years—the people of Maryland don't want Mahoney."

Butler said Mahoney had "seized control of the State Central Committee after the primary victory of ex-Senator Tydings." (Tydings beat out Mahoney in a close race for the nomination.)

"His tactics since that primary have been so distasteful that even his own campaign manager turned against him," Butler said of Mahoney.

Ali Ghan Units Will March In Shrine Parade

Band Plans Greeting For Akron Delegation

Ali Ghan Temple will have 125 men in the line of march of the parade planned September 8 in Baltimore as a feature of the Mid-Atlantic Shrine meeting.

Taking part in the parade will be the Divan, headed by John Brenneman, potentate, and the Ali Ghan patrol, band, drum and bugle corps and flag unit.

The uniformed units will go to Baltimore September 7 by bus, leaving from the Shrine City Club at 9 a.m. They and other members of Ali Ghan Temple will have their headquarters in the Lord Baltimore Hotel, official headquarters for the meeting.

To Greet Shriners

At least as many members and their wives are expected to attend all or part of the meeting planned September 6 through 9.

Before leaving for the Shriners conclave, Ali Ghan Temple Band, headed by Carl G. Storm, will give a sendoff to some 400 members of Tadmor Temple, Akron, who will stop at the Queen City Station here September 6 at noon on their way to the Baltimore meeting.

Presiding at the Mid-Atlantic Shrine meeting will be A. Wayne Reed, Frostburg, president of the Mid-Atlantic Shrine Association.

Program Outlined

Friday's activities include competitive drill by Legions of Honor, a Jester's party and a mass chanters concert.

Saturday's schedule includes a business meeting, competitive drill by Arab patrols, a parade Saturday at 2 p.m., the President's dinner and a Nobility dance.

The meeting closes September 9 at 11 a.m. with services at Westminster Presbyterian Church. The sermon will be preached by Imperial Chief Rabban George E. Stringfellow.

U.S. 40 Status Causes Wrangle Between States

Md. Wants Highway In Federal System

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28 (AP)—Pennsylvania and Maryland highway officials are wrangling over whether U. S. 40 from Hancock, Md., to Washington, Pa., should be included in the interstate system, the State Roads Commission chairman said today.

Robert O. Bonnell said the Pennsylvania officials are opposed to including the mountainous section of highway in the system, which would make it eligible for reconstruction under the liberal Federal-aid-to-roads program.

Under the program, the Federal government pays 90 per cent of any improvement work on an interstate road while the State pays 10 per cent.

Would Cut Funds

Bonnell said that designating the Hancock-Washington section of U. S. 40 as primary instead of interstate, as Pennsylvania favors, would reduce the Federal contribution to a "comparative infinitesimal amount."

The SRC chairman said "it makes no sense to exclude the 70 miles of Route 40 from Hancock to the Pennsylvania border and the 80 miles from the border to Washington, Pa., from the interstate system."

All of U. S. 40 east of Hancock and all of it west of Washington to Denver, Col., is included in the interstate system, he said.

Turnpike Included

From Hancock, U. S. 522 north to the Pennsylvania Turnpike and the turnpike west to Washington are on the interstate system.

Bonnell said apparently Pennsylvania officials fear that inclusion of U. S. 40 from Hancock to Washington in the interstate system would result in its improvement to a point where it would seriously compete for traffic with the turnpike, a toll road.

However, there is a large volume of traffic from the District of Columbia and the Eastern Shore of Maryland which would not want to turn off U.S. 40 and go north to the turnpike to reach such western points as Cincinnati, he said.

Agreement Needed

The Federal government's policy where a road runs through neighboring states, Bonnell said, generally requires agreement of both states for its inclusion in the interstate system.

Final arbitration in disputes rests with the Federal government.

Bonnell said he and Sen. Beall (R-Md) have been meeting with Pennsylvania officials in an effort to change their minds. More meetings will be scheduled, he said.

First Graders Entering School Register Friday

Friday will be a red letter day in the lives of approximately 1,357 youngsters of Allegany County who will embark on their school careers with registration at the various public schools throughout the county.

Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in county public schools, announced yesterday that he has been compiling anticipated enrollment figures for the county schools.

Last year about 10 days after the opening of the fall term of school, there were a total of 15,856 students enrolled, including 8,546 in elementary grades.

Higgins pointed out that at least 200 more first grade pupils are expected to register on Friday in addition to some 1,157 youngsters who were signed up last March 22 and 23.

A breakdown of registration figures on those dates shows that there are a total of 596 boys and 561 girls. In the spring of last year 1,336 boys and girls registered, Higgins said, and 1,483 showed up in September.

The hours of registration on Friday will be from 9 a. m. until noon.

Registration Set Tomorrow At St. Mary's

The registration of students at St. Mary's Catholic School will be held tomorrow from 9 a. m. until 11:30 a. m., according to Sister Xavier, principal of the high school, who also announced various changes in the teaching faculty.

Measurements for uniforms worn by the students will also be taken during the same hours tomorrow at the school. Some 80 first grade pupils are expected to register for the coming year.

Sister Paschal has been named superior and principal of the elementary grades, and will replace Sister Ursula who has been appointed superior at Sacred Heart Academy in Louisville.

The new superior and principal held a similar position at Sacred Heart Elementary School in Conemaugh, Pa. Sister Emily, who last year taught the sixth grade at SS. Peter and Paul School here, will teach at St. Mary's this year and will replace Sister Bibiana who is going to Ursuline Academy in Louisville.

Sister Michelle, who has been teaching at the Sacred Heart Model School in Louisville, will teach the second grade pupils at the local school replacing Sister Walburga, who is being transferred to St. Mary's School in Jackson, Miss.

In the high school here, Sister Eunice, who taught at Ursuline Academy, Louisville, will be commercial teacher, replacing Sister Eugenius, who has been transferred to Sacred Heart School in Camden, Miss.

The opening day of school at St. Mary's will be September 4, next Tuesday.

Runaway Panel Truck Crashes Into House

The truck, owned by the Tri-State Cleaners, was parked on Memorial Avenue near the intersection of Cecil Avenue at the top of the Memorial Hospital Hill.

Wade E. Sheetz, Louisiana Avenue, operator of the truck, said he saw the vehicle begin to roll downhill as he was coming out of the hospital. He raced toward the truck in an effort to catch and stop it, but was unable to do so.

Sgt. C. C. Roby and Officer Warren Brehm of the City Police Department said the truck's brakes apparently had let loose.

The policemen said the vehicle hopped the curb on Memorial Avenue, ran through a vacant lot onto Cecil Street, which is a sharp downgrade to Louisiana Avenue, crossed Cecil, again rolled over the curb and sidewalk, went through another lot and smashed into the side of the Tracey home.

The brick wall was pushed in when the truck hit just below the dining room window. Bricks and debris were scattered through the room and a gaping hole was punched in the wall. Several thousand dollars worth of damage to the house was estimated, although Sheetz was able to drive the truck away from the scene.

Truck Driver Injured When Brakes Fail

Charles Gorney, 52, of Munhall, Pa., is in "fair" condition in Memorial Hospital here after he was admitted yeseterday morning when his truck overturned on Maryland Route 219 north of Accident. The truck driver narrowly escaped death in a flood of steaming hot asphalt tar he was hauling in a tank trailer. The mishap occurred about 5 a. m. Gorney was driving the tractor-trailer, loaded with the asphalt mixture heated to 350 degrees, from Floresse, Pa., to Davis, W. Va.

State Trooper Glen D. Folk said Gorney failed to make a curve three miles north of the Garrett County community and the rig rolled down a 60-foot embankment into a creek.

Rig Uncouples

Fortunately for Gorney, Folk said, the tractor and trailer rig uncoupled and separated as they rolled down the bank. Some distance away from the trailer the driver was pinned under the cab of the tractor. He lay there trapped for more than two hours before being rescued.

If the two units had not separated, Folk said, Gorney would have been covered by the tar mixture that rolled out of the upset trailer and emptied into the small stream.

Members of the Accident Volunteer Fire Company, aided by an Accident garage, used hydraulic jacks to lift the heavy cab off Gorney's right leg, which was badly fractured.

Doctor Arrives at Scene

A Silver Spring physician, Dr. J. Thomas Schnebley, happened along shortly after the accident and remained with Gorney until he was removed to Memorial Hospital here in a Friendsville Fire Company ambulance.

Gorney was smeared with the tar, and suffered minor burns and possible internal injuries in addition to his broken leg.

Trooper First Class Folk said the driver, who is familiar with the highway, told him yesterday afternoon that brake failure caused the rig to enter the curve too fast.

Takes Food Bids

Auto Trailer Piles Up On Route 50

A house trailer was badly damaged in an accident yesterday afternoon on Cooper Mountain east of Romney, W. Va. About $2,500 worth of damage was estimated by the owner, Charles W. Walpert, of Kissimmee, Osceola County, Fla.

Sgt. R. E. Schnell of the West Virginia State Police, who investigated, said Welpert told him the air brakes on the trailer failed as he was towing the vehicle east on Route 50. Unable to check the trailer's speed with his car brakes as he descended the mountain, Walpert was forced to ditch it at a curve.

The accident occurred about 1 a. m. Admitted to Memorial Hospital here were Garry Hoops, 18, and Michael E. Bray, 17, both of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Hoops suffered lacerations of the face and Bray complained of chest pains.

Trooper First Class Joseph B. Stakem of the Maryland State Police said the car skidded on a turn and ran over a bank about nine miles east of Cumberland.

Bowlers To Meet

The Legion Bowling League will meet at the home of Fort Cumberland Post 13, Harrison Street, Thursday at 8 p. m. All bowlers who participated last year are invited to attend.

Central Answers Alarm

Central firemen answered an alarm at 212 North Centre Street yesterday at 1:49 p.m. Gasoline spilling from an automobile tank had covered the street and firemen washed it down to prevent possible fire or explosion.

City Rec Board Gets Bids For Director Post

The Cumberland Recreation Board has received a number of applications for the post of city recreation director, according to James Weber, chairman.

The applications already number about a dozen and it is understood that more are expected.

The post will become officially vacant September 11, when the resignation of Robert E. Pence becomes effective.

Pence resigned from the $6,060 city position on August 6 to become coordinator of physical education, recreation and health for Allegany County schools.

The Recreation Board is planning to meet early next month, and will probably begin screening applicants at that time.

When a decision is made, the board will submit its recommendation to the Mayor and Council, which will make the appointment.

Baltimore Pike Firemen Launch Fund Campaign

Baltimore Pike Volunteer Fire Company will launch its annual fund drive September 10, officers of the company announced yesterday.

The unit, which serves a large area east of Cumberland, is seeking money to finance its operations for the next year, and to help modernize some of its equipment.

Members of the company will visit all homes in the area served by the company during the week of September 10. Harold Valentine, president of the company, will head the drive.

Although no specific goal has been set, the company said it will appreciate any help it can get from people of the area.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Browning, Silver Spring, former residents, announce the birth of a daughter at a hospital there on Monday.

Memorial Hospital

'Bridge Standers' Not All Flood Control Watchers

Not all the people of Cumberland who stop on the Baltimore Street bridge which spans Wills Creek are sidewalk superintendents watching the progress of the flood control work.

Yesterday a group of boys were participating in what seems to be a new sport of marksmanship. While standing on the bridge they blew up a number of balloons and dropped them into the creek.

A slight wind carried the balloons a little way upstream and as they settled on the water, the boy with the best aim burst the balloon with a rock. The marksmen were kept occupied as long as the balloons and rocks held out.

Two Men Appeal Six-Month Terms

Two men who were sentenced to six months in the Maryland House of Correction on a charge of being habitual drunkards have filed criminal appeals in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Both of the men, Harry Reger, city, and William H. McLeod, Duluth, Minn., were given hearings on Friday before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

Reger also was charged with violation of a parole imposed in Trial Magistrate's Court on August 21.

Winner In Contest

Anthony J. Cioni, 703 Bedford Street, has been named a winner in the national "How's Your Housepower?" contest being sponsored locally by the Potomac Edison Company with the participation of electrical contractors, appliance dealers, manufacturers and suppliers. His prize was an electric blanket.

No Gushers Here

The fancy drilling apparatus being used by engineers is not for an oil well, but for checking the composition of the bottom of Wills Creek at the Western Maryland Railway bridge to Ridgeley. The core-sampling rig will help the engineers determine whether the bases of the piers are solid concrete, and whether they rest on solid rock. This will tell whether or not protection will be needed for the piers when Section 4 of the flood control program gets under way soon. In photo are (left to right) John Deatherage and Jack Ayers, both of the Froehling and Robertson engineering firm of Richmond, Va., and W. E. Strohm, Washington, of the Corps of Engineers.

State Expedites Bid For Polio Vaccine Supply

The State Health Department moved fast this week to provide supplies of Salk polio vaccine needed by the Allegany County Health Department for today's clinic.

Mrs. Jennie Grahame, assistant to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, called the State Health Department Monday at 4 p.m., requesting supplies of vaccine needed to keep the polio protection program progressing here.

She requested that the shipment be expedited so it would be here in time for the clinic.

The shipment of 100 vials, sufficient for 900 shots, was delivered to the Health Department yesterday at 9 a.m.

Last month, the department supplied 1,173 shots in an accelerated program to protect as many as possible of the county's children before the polio season, which usually arrives in this area from September to November.

Phone Project Set Near Westernport

Funds to improve telephone service in the Westernport area were included in expenditures totaling $3,900,000 which have been approved by the directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland.

Included was aproval for spending $17,000 for wires and poles to care for growth in service along Aaron Run Road, near Westernport.

Foley Plans Visit Here On Sunday

John R. Foley, Democratic candidate from the Sixth District who is seeking election to Congress, will be in Cumberland on Sunday.

He plans to attend the corn and wiener roast which will be sponsored by Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus at the Mt. Calvary picnic area along Mason Road.

Firms May Secure Data On Bidding

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce has received a supply of bidders mailing list applications from the Decatur Signal Depot, Decatur, Ill.

Any firm in the Tri-State area interested in being placed on the depot's bidders mailing list may secure a copy of the application from the Chamber of Commerce.

Winds And Lightning Accompany Rain

A severe electrical storm, with high winds, hail and lightning, struck the tri-state area about 7 o'clock last night, causing considerable damage to trees and foliage, flooding streets and knocking out power lines.

The storm, reported all along the Pennsylvania state line, hit Frostburg, the Georges Creek communities, Cumberland and Romney, W. Va. Oakland, in Garrett County, reported fringes of the storm striking in that area.

Cumberland and Frostburg apparently bore the brunt of the hour-long session of rain and lightning.

Phones, TV Knocked Out

Robert Garner, manager of the local C&P Telephone Company office, said lightning played havoc with the dial phone system in Cumberland and surrounding areas.

Approximately 350 cable lines and 1,000 telephones were knocked out of service completely, and the severe electrical storm caused nearly 90 per cent of the dial equipment in the Cumberland telephone office to operate faultily.

Many subscribers who had properly working telephones were unable to receive dial tones because the main office equipment was shorted.

In Frostburg 15 lines and 64 phones were kayoed by the storm while Lonaconing had 52 lines and 163 stations out of order.

Repair crews started work on damaged cable immediately, and hope to restore service as soon as possible, Garner said.

Firemen Called

West Side and South End fire companies were called out when lightning caused shorts in electrical wiring and TV sets during the height of the storm.

The wind was clocked at 48 miles per hour for a considerable time during the storm, blowing limbs of trees down, shaking signboards and causing the sheet-like rain to slow traffic to a standstill in the city.

The temperature dropped from 84 degrees at 6 p. m. to 65 degrees shortly after 7 o'clock. The Potomac River rose about half a foot to the four-foot stage. Robert R. Golden, weather observer at Constitution Park, reported 0.70 inches of rainfall in about 45 minutes.

Limbs Blown Down

City police were kept busy checking complaints of fallen tree limbs blocking alleys and streets. A tree was blown over Braddock Road within the city limits and the Street Department was called into action to clear debris in several parts of the city. Several manhole covers were blown loose and had to be replaced by street workmen.

The heavy storm roared up the Georges Creek Valley and hit Frostburg about 7 p. m.

Business Area Blacked Out

About three blocks of the business section of Frostburg were also plunged into darkness as the transformer went out.

In Frostburg, the storm was marked by driving rain which lasted about half an hour.

A Potomac Edison Company crew was busy restoring service in Frostburg and another crew was checking trouble on one of the phases of the lines serving the Hyndman area.

Power trouble was also reported in several Georges Creek communities.

'Drive-In' Dining Room

First Graders Entering School Register Friday

Friday will be a red letter day in the lives of approximately 1,357 youngsters of Allegany County who will embark on their school careers with registration at the various public schools throughout the county.

Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in county public schools, announced yesterday that he has been compiling anticipated enrollment figures for the county schools.

Last year about 10 days after the opening of the fall term of school, there were a total of 15,856 students enrolled, including 8,546 in elementary grades.

Higgins pointed out that at least 200 more first grade pupils are expected to register on Friday in addition to some 1,157 youngsters who were signed up last March 22 and 23.

A breakdown of registration figures on those dates shows that there are a total of 596 boys and 561 girls. In the spring of last year 1,336 boys and girls registered, Higgins said, and 1,483 showed up in September.

The hours of registration on Friday will be from 9 a. m. until noon.

Registration Set Tomorrow At St. Mary's

The registration of students at St. Mary's Catholic School will be held tomorrow from 9 a. m. until 11:30 a. m., according to Sister Xavier, principal of the high school, who also announced various changes in the teaching faculty.

Measurements for uniforms worn by the students will also be taken during the same hours tomorrow at the school. Some 80 first grade pupils are expected to register for the coming year.

Sister Paschal has been named superior and principal of the elementary grades, and will replace Sister Ursula who has been appointed superior at Sacred Heart Academy in Louisville.

The new superior and principal held a similar position at Sacred Heart Elementary School in Conemaugh, Pa. Sister Emily, who last year taught the sixth grade at SS. Peter and Paul School here, will teach at St. Mary's this year and will replace Sister Bibiana who is going to Ursuline Academy in Louisville.

Sister Michelle, who has been teaching at the Sacred Heart Model School in Louisville, will teach the second grade pupils at the local school replacing Sister Walburga, who is being transferred to St. Mary's School in Jackson, Miss.

In the high school here, Sister Eunice, who taught at Ursuline Academy, Louisville, will be commercial teacher, replacing Sister Eugenius, who has been transferred to Sacred Heart School in Camden, Miss.

The opening day of school at St. Mary's will be September 4, next Tuesday.

Reger also was charged with violation of a parole imposed in Trial Magistrate's Court on August 21.

Truck Driver Injured When Brakes Fail

Charles Gorney, 52, of Munhall, Pa., is in "fair" condition in Memorial Hospital here after he was admitted yeseterday morning when his truck overturned on Maryland Route 219 north of Accident. The truck driver narrowly escaped death in a flood of steaming hot asphalt tar he was hauling in a tank trailer. The mishap occurred about 5 a. m. Gorney was driving the tractor-trailer, loaded with the asphalt mixture heated to 350 degrees, from Floresse, Pa., to Davis, W. Va.

State Trooper Glen D. Folk said Gorney failed to make a curve three miles north of the Garrett County community and the rig rolled down a 60-foot embankment into a creek.

Rig Uncouples

Fortunately for Gorney, Folk said, the tractor and trailer rig uncoupled and separated as they rolled down the bank. Some distance away from the trailer the driver was pinned under the cab of the tractor. He lay there trapped for more than two hours before being rescued.

If the two units had not separated, Folk said, Gorney would have been covered by the tar mixture that rolled out of the upset trailer and emptied into the small stream.

Members of the Accident Volunteer Fire Company, aided by an Accident garage, used hydraulic jacks to lift the heavy cab off Gorney's right leg, which was badly fractured.

Doctor Arrives at Scene

A Silver Spring physician, Dr. J. Thomas Schnebley, happened along shortly after the accident and remained with Gorney until he was removed to Memorial Hospital here in a Friendsville Fire Company ambulance.

Gorney was smeared with the tar, and suffered minor burns and possible internal injuries in addition to his broken leg.

Trooper First Class Folk said the driver, who is familiar with the highway, told him yesterday afternoon that brake failure caused the rig to enter the curve too fast.

Runaway Panel Truck Crashes Into House

A panel truck parked on Memorial Avenue near Memorial Hospital broke loose early last night, raced downhill and smashed into the side of the Harry Tracey home at 603 Cecil Street.

The truck, owned by the Tri-State Cleaners, was parked on Memorial Avenue near the intersection of Cecil Avenue at the top of the Memorial Hospital Hill.

Wade E. Sheetz, Louisiana Avenue, operator of the truck, said he saw the vehicle begin to roll downhill as he was coming out of the hospital. He raced toward the truck in an effort to catch and stop it, but was unable to do so.

Sgt. C. C. Roby and Officer Warren Brehm of the City Police Department said the truck's brakes apparently had let loose.

The policemen said the vehicle hopped the curb on Memorial Avenue, ran through a vacant lot onto Cecil Street, which is a sharp downgrade to Louisiana Avenue, crossed Cecil, again rolled over the curb and sidewalk, went through another lot and smashed into the side of the Tracey home.

The brick wall was pushed in when the truck hit just below the dining room window. Bricks and debris were scattered through the room and a gaping hole was punched in the wall. Several thousand dollars worth of damage to the house was estimated, although Sheetz was able to drive the truck away from the scene.

Butler Declares Mahoney Ruins Md. Demo Party

Charges 'Steamroller' At State Meeting

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Sen. Butler (R-Md) said tonight George P. Mahoney "steamrollered" his way into the Democratic nomination to run for Butler's seat and had played the part of a "wrecker" in Maryland Democratic affairs.

The Maryland Democratic State Central Committee last night chose Mahoney as the nominee to replace former Sen. Millard Tydings, who has relinquished the nomination because of illness. The committee rejected a move to give the nomination to Mrs. Tydings.

Butler said in a statement released through his Washington office:

Deplores Tactics

"The tactics used at the committee meeting completely justify remarks made by some of the Tydings supporters that Mahoney has been a millstone around the neck of Maryland's Democratic party since the day he entered politics."

In Baltimore, Mahoney replied:

"Senator Butler should be busy enough defending the disgraceful tactics he employed in 1950 and his subsequent conduct in office without taking time out to shed crocodile tears over the condition of the Democratic Party.

"The 'sympathy' he offers Mrs. Tydings is particularly phoney since it comes from a man who defeated her husband in a campaign so full of fraud and trickery that it gave Maryland a black eye throughout the nation.

Mrs. Tydings has sincerely offered her wholehearted support . . . Her friends and mine are united, the Maryland Democratic party is united in a common purpose—to beat Butler."

Says GOP Will Help

Mahoney said there were "thousands of Republicans" who will also help.

Butler described Mahoney as "the one-man wrecker of the Maryland Democratic party" and added:

"It would appear that if Democratic unity is to be restored, right thinking Democrats must defeat Mahoney for the fifth time. Maybe then he will finally recognize what most Maryland Democrats have known for years—the people of Maryland don't want Mahoney."

Butler said Mahoney had "seized control of the State Central Committee after the primary victory of ex-Senator Tydings." (Tydings beat out Mahoney in a close race for the nomination.)

"His tactics since that primary have been so distasteful that even his own campaign manager turned against him," Butler said of Mahoney.

Ali Ghan Units Will March In Shrine Parade

Band Plans Greeting For Akron Delegation

Ali Ghan Temple will have 125 men in the line of march of the parade planned September 8 in Baltimore as a feature of the Mid-Atlantic Shrine meeting.

Taking part in the parade will be the Divan, headed by John Brenneman, potentate, and the Ali Ghan patrol, band, drum and bugle corps and flag unit.

The uniformed units will go to Baltimore September 7 by bus, leaving from the Shrine City Club at 9 a.m. They and other members of Ali Ghan Temple will have their headquarters in the Lord Baltimore Hotel, official headquarters for the meeting.

To Greet Shriners

At least as many members and their wives are expected to attend all or part of the meeting planned September 6 through 9.

Before leaving for the Shriners conclave, Ali Ghan Temple Band, headed by Carl G. Storm, will give a sendoff to some 400 members of Tadmor Temple, Akron, who will stop at the Queen City Station here September 6 at noon on their way to the Baltimore meeting.

Presiding at the Mid-Atlantic Shrine meeting will be A. Wayne Reed, Frostburg, president of the Mid-Atlantic Shrine Association.

Program Outlined

The program includes registration and group meetings next Thursday.

Friday's activities include competitive drill by Legions of Honor, a Jester's party and a mass chanters concert.

Saturday's schedule includes a business meeting, competitive drill by Arab patrols, a parade Saturday at 2 p.m., the President's dinner and a Nobility dance.

The meeting closes September 9 at 11 a.m. with services at Westminster Presbyterian Church. The sermon will be preached by Imperial Chief Rabban George E. Stringfellow.

State Expedites Bid For Polio Vaccine Supply

The State Health Department moved fast this week to provide supplies of Salk polio vaccine needed by the Allegany County Health Department for today's clinic.

Mrs. Jennie Grahame, assistant to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, called the State Health Department Monday at 4 p.m., requesting supplies of vaccine needed to keep the polio protection program progressing here.

She requested that the shipment be expedited so it would be here in time for the clinic.

The shipment of 100 vials, sufficient for 900 shots, was delivered to the Health Department yesterday at 9 a.m.

U.S. 40 Status Causes Wrangle Between States

Md. Wants Highway In Federal System

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28 (AP)—Pennsylvania and Maryland highway officials are wrangling over whether U. S. 40 from Hancock, Md., to Washington, Pa., should be included in the interstate system, the State Roads Commission chairman said today.

Robert O. Bonnell said the Pennsylvania officials are opposed to including the mountainous section of highway in the system, which would make it eligible for reconstruction under the liberal Federal-aid-to-roads program.

Under the program, the Federal government pays 90 per cent of any improvement work on an interstate road while the State pays 10 per cent.

Would Cut Funds

Bonnell said that designating the Hancock-Washington section of U. S. 40 as primary instead of interstate, as Pennsylvania favors, would reduce the Federal contribution to a "comparative infinitesimal amount."

The SRC chairman said "it makes no sense to exclude the 70 miles of Route 40 from Hancock to the Pennsylvania border and the 80 miles from the border to Washington, Pa., from the interstate system."

All of U. S. 40 east of Hancock and all of it west of Washington to Denver, Col., is included in the interstate system, he said.

Turnpike Included

From Hancock, U. S. 522 north to the Pennsylvania Turnpike and the turnpike west to Washington are on the interstate system.

Bonnell said apparently Pennsylvania officials fear that inclusion of U. S. 40 from Hancock to Washington in the interstate system would result in its improvement to a point where it would seriously compete for traffic with the turnpike, a toll road.

However, there is a large volume of traffic from the District of Columbia and the Eastern Shore of Maryland which would not want to turn off U.S. 40 and go north to the turnpike to reach such western points as Cincinnati, he said.

Agreement Needed

The Federal government's policy where a road runs through neighboring states, Bonnell said, generally requires agreement of both states for its inclusion in the interstate system.

Final arbitration in disputes rests with the Federal government.

Bonnell said he and Sen. Beall (R-Md) have been meeting with Pennsylvania officials in an effort to change their minds. More meetings will be scheduled, he said.

City Rec Board Gets Bids For Director Post

The Cumberland Recreation Board has received a number of applications for the post of city recreation director, according to James Weber, chairman.

The applications already number about a dozen and it is understood that more are expected.

Pence resigned from the $6,060 city position on August 6 to become coordinator of physical education, recreation and health for Allegany County schools.

The Recreation Board is planning to meet early next month, and will probably begin screening applicants at that time.

When a decision is made, the board will submit its recommendation to the Mayor and Council, which will make the appointment.
